Wide were the shallow waters that overflowed the land most of the year and many were the black alders that lifted their heads above the level of the swamp. Beyond, farmers continually bathed in water, rose the tall black ash trees. The red men called of the New the valley Con-hoc-ton, or "trees agriculture is a power the waters."

PRICES FOLLOW GOLD PREMIUM

Index of New York State Farm Products Gains from 56 in February to 93 in July, Compared to 100 as Pre-War Average.

The general level of commodity prices continues to be the most important single factor affecting farming. It is therefore important that farmers continue to consider the gold premium before deciding any business step, advises F. A. Pearson of the New York State college of agriculture in a recent editon of Farm Economics.

agriculture in a recent editon of Farm Economics.

Prices of 17 basic commodities moved in the same direction as did the gold premium on 54 of the 86 days from April 18 to August 5. The trend in wheat prices was the same as for gold. Whenever wheat prices departed from this relationship, a violent reaction occurred. The trend of corn prices has also followed the price of gold, but the fluctuations have been extremely violent. Cotton prices, he says, can be expected to rise more than the price of gold because clothing is the first saving in times of unemployment and among the first purchases when money is available.

Prices paid to New York State farmers for all products rose from 186 in February to 93 in July, figuring the 1910 to 1914 average as 100. At the same time prices paid to farmers in the United States for sall products rose from 49 to 81. Hrices paid to farmers for one of rose from 49 to 81. Hrices paid to farmers for food rose Salts to try and get rid of Neuritis from which I had suffered for one year in my left shoulder and arm.

I took a little of the salts in the morning, sometimes in my coffee, other times in water. I would also occasionally take a dose in water at night before retiring. For three months I used the salts and while liest ten pounds in weight, the pain in my shoulder HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED. Dising the time I was taking the salts I received nother medical treatment so I am fally convinced the Kruschen Salts and fally convinced the Kruschen Salts and Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning—s jar lasts 4 weeks—get it at any drugstore in the world—costs but a trifle.
