Reading Fun in Store for Boys

World adventure thrills are in store for readers of THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, according to word just received from the editor of youth's favorite magazine. From the Arctic to the jungles of Haiti, and from the plateau of Asia to the lion country of Africa, the editors have charted a course of excitement and fun in the 12 issues of 1934.
Several years ago, THE AMERICAN BOY introduced to its readers the popular, black-haired Jimmie Rhodes, Army aviator. Those who followed his adventures thru Brooks and Keely Field, and with the 94th Pursuit on cross-country hops, target practice, and formation flying, will be delighted to learn that Jimmie Rhodes has returned to the magazine. The new series takes him to Haiti where a revolution is impending.
THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, filled with the adventure every boy craves, with the information he needs, and the advice on hobbies and sports he is always seeking, is the ideal present for that son, cousin, nephew, and chum. It's the kind of present that renews itself every month when the mailman lays a copy on the doorstep. Approved by teachers and educators, and endorsed by high school America, the magazine can solve your Christmas shopping difficulties.
The subscription price is $2.00 for one year. Until January 1, you may take out a three-year subscription for $3.00, a saving of $3.00 over the one-year rate for three years. After January 1, this three-year rate will be withdrawn. Mail your order direct to THE AMERICAN BOY—YOUTH'S COMPANION, 7430 Second Blvd., Detroit, Mich. Service on your subscription will start with the issue you specify.

Old Allegany Heart Throbs

By R. A. PECK

Transit Bridge iron work on the new structure to span the Genesee river there on the Belvidere-Angelica state highway is progressing rapidly. The bridge is being built with Federal aid.
Fillmore, without blaming local workers, complains that it takes two days for mail to go from that post-office to Short Tract, six miles away. It goes to Cuba or Olean, thence to Hornell and to Hunt for rural delivery. The Observer calls delivery now slower than in pony express days.
Hume went "dry" 20 years ago, voting against hotel license by 74. Clarksville has a woman nimrod who shot two pheasants in one day. She adds partridges, squirrel and rabbit to the family larder with her gun.

Alfred's University Campus is being beautified with shrubbery set by a Rochester expert just now engaged in placing trees and plants about the president's residence.
Wiseco Creek residents saw the ashes of Mark Steele of Buffalo scattered over its waters in accordance with his request. The creek was Mr. Steele's favorite fishing haunt.

Marshall reports the finding of a bee tree on the Glenn Gleason farm yielding 100 pounds of nice honey. Five Points and Crawford Creek cheese factories, as well as some others, have closed for the winter season.

Andover has lost its Larkin store, one of 15 to be closed during the past month.

Hallsport still recalls a terrible accident after 30 years. Clinton Dexter slipped and fell into a threshing machine and one leg was crushed to a pulp.

Independence town is anticipating having to care for a family of 12 at a cost of $100 per month or more, since the change to the town system of home relief. The father was confined in Auburn prison for three years for stealing cattle while the family lived in the town of Independence and was cared for. On the ending of his term they moved to near Syracuse but have not acquired a legal residence there and are about to be returned to Allegany county. Town officials as yet see no other way of caring for the children and mother of the family. The Allegany county officials having erred in disposition of the case originally the county has had to aid the family while residents near Syracuse, says the Whitesville News.

Bolivar has one hunter, Urgus Wood, who shot two pheasants from his back porch on the seasons opening day. Both birds went into the family dinner pot together.

Little Genesee is proud of one of its native sons, Raymond C. Burdick, recently elected a trustee of Alfred University from which he graduated in 1914. He also took work at Columbia University and is now superintendent of the Huntington, L. I. schools at a splendid salary.
Canaseraga Woman's Club has erected neat black and yellow street signs, a might good bit of community betterment.

Andover lost its tannery in 1894 thru inability of its owners to make the venture a financial success.

Bolivar's Central High School was pictured and written about in the last issue of "The New York State Education," an educational journal having nearly 60,000 circulation in the state.

Bolivar estimates that 125 ring-neck pheasants were killed in that town during the recent open season.

Friendship's local silk hosiery mill has 22 persons at work with the prospect of adding others when new equipment and demand justifies increased production.

Friendship, 40 years ago, reported the thermometer at 19 on October 31st, and a total snowfall that month of 2.40 inches; rainfall 30.07 inches.

A prize for the most efficient detector of mustard gas has been offered by the International Red Cross.

A new moving picture camera takes two pictures from different angles, and when the pictures are merged on the silver screen an effect of depth is produced.

Island Prison For Uncle Sam's Gangsters

Alcatraz Island, located in San Francisco Bay, is the spot where Uncle Sam proposes to house desperate gangsters, kidnapers and racketeers, thus eliminating outside aid in prison breaks and riots. The prison now located there, (above), is being taken over from the War Department—and foremost among the first 400 to 600 "bad men" to be confined there are "Machine-gun" George Kelly, left—Albert Bates and Harvey Bailey, right, leaders in the Ursell kidnapping, for which all got life sentences.
