County Sealer Makes Report

He gives the number of tests made as 7,797. In order to reach the various places and make these tests, he traveled 5,791 miles.

Corwin is not one who seeks to hide his activities, but on the contrary prints an account of them so that all who will may read. In the bound mimeographed copy of his report, one of which came to our office, he also gives much very useful information to the public which all users of weights and measures might do well to peruse. Corwin is a most thorough and painstaking official.

Local Man Sued for Breach of Promise

It has recently been rumored that a well known Andover man has become entangled with a woman. A scandalous situation is the result. He is being sued for breach of promise.

The situation is being clothed in secrecy to date and little can be learned concerning the facts of the case except that the plaintiff's name is Nellie Bly. The defendant in the case who is the victim of Nellie's claim is Charles McGinnis.

Most of the leading citizens of Andover will be involved in the case in one way or another. Dates for the notorious trial are Friday and Saturday, December 1-2. This is the time when Charles McGinnis will know his fate.

In addition, it is said that the Boy Scouts have important information concerning the trial, which they are withholding for the present. Important announcements will be made in these columns at a later date. The question is—"Who is Nellie Bly?"

BAKERS' STORE NEWS

Wiseracking Customer: "I want what the Germans tried to do in the late war."

Hardware Man: "What's that?"

Customer: "Plaster Paris."

Speckled

Somewhere we have read a story about a young fellow who worked for his father-in-law and according to his agreement received for his wages all the spotted and speckled animals of the flocks he attended.

According to this story the young man, by superstition suggestion and selection was able to produce an unusually large proportion with these unusual markings among the increase—so much so in fact that finally the old man arose in his wrath and drove his son-in-law with his family and all his speckled stock out of the country.

Maybe some of you people who read this have a book that tells the story, if so why not look it up and read of the entire occurrence; it is very interesting.

But speckled animals are not what we had in mind when we began writing this item, but speckled Enamelled Cooking, Roasting and Baking utensils—for those coated with this grayish brown color and flecked with tiny white spots will give more service, retain their hard glassy surface longer, clean more easily and stand up under blows and bangs with less chipping than is likely with any other color.

We are showing Roasters, Combination Cookers, Double Boilers, Steamers, Kettles and Pudding Pans in this durable color, made by Lisk, who have attained unusual perfection in manufacture while at the same time, on account of quantity production have reduced prices to a point which would have seemed impossible a few years ago.

We want you to see the line. You surely will find several items that will lift the burdens and add to the pleasures of food preparation.

Burned

How often we see this word headlined in the newspapers. Children, youth, middle age, old people slip or fall into an open fire with sorry consequences.

Easy to avoid if you will set a Wire Fire Guard; they not only are a measure for safety but good to look at. Priced from $1.25.

Twenty Cents

Will now buy genuine G.E. Mazda Lamps up to 75 watt, and you have the real article.

Mazda don't mean a thing in an Electric Lamp unless G.E. in circle is part of the same picture. All others are just imitations that pay tribute to the General Electric for the privilege of marketing their product.

Buy genuine G.E. Lamps; they use current economically, they burn a long time, but not too long, and at 20 cents each are your best buy, no matter how little others may cost.

Many of these imitation lamps are made in Japan by labor that receives less than two cents per hour in terms of our money. Do you wish to support that sort of ruinous competition? If not, buy G. E. made in U. S. A., under N. R. A.

Security-Serenity

When all is protected against petty or grand larceny with Yale Locks. The sneak thief or the professional hesitates before they attempt to break thru Yale Lock protection.

When Linus Yale perfected the pin tumbler lock in about the year 1850 he laid the foundation of a great and dignified industry, in those days Yale Locks were very expensive, but by mechanical genius and improved factory methods the cost of production has been reduced until their possession is available to everybody.

There is a Yale Lock for every purpose. Don't invite pilfering by leaving your property unprotected. The price of one hen or a bushel of grain will purchase Yale security, a Padlock for out buildings, a Night Latch for your home; look over our offerings and select for your particular needs.

Peace of Mind

When your car is protected against frost with Methinol you know you are safe against the ravages of any change in temperature.

It is safe, economical and takes the guesswork out of winter driving.

"Where does she get her good looks?"

"From her dad."

"Handsome man, eh?"

"No—chemist!"
