Something Different in a Class

We had a most interesting time in one of our classes, watching a tiny chipmunk in a tree.

We were in the depths of study, trying to find if, when and why a sales letter is a sales letter, when one member of the class cried, "Oh, look-it the chipmunk!" That startled everything. If that particular boy hadn't said that particular thing this article wouldn't be here.

While we watched the little brown animal scamper, jump and swing from limb to limb, and twig to twig eating maple seeds, I closed my eyes and pictured the large maple tree as an Automat Restaurant. Each little twig had a compartment and I could see the chipmunk, so small and spry, jumping from the coffee to the sandwich compartment, putting a nickel in the slot and "nibbling away."

Then my mind wandered back, back, back over the years (All this time I am watching our chipmunk. We've named him Gustave.) I recalled a trapeze performance that I had seen at a theatre quite some time ago. There was no doubt about the woman being a marvel. She was. She flew thru the air and grasping a thin rope twirled about, while the audience looked on at the breath-taking performance, awed.

In a sense, the little brown chipmunk was doing the same thing. There was no rope, but there was an audience, and the distance from limb to limb held that same risk. But no one ever thinks of a chipmunk doing wonderful things. It was an ordinary thing for him to do and no one thought much about it. Gustave is a dear little fellow, tho, and we hope he'll return.

THANKSGIVING VACATION

In accordance with custom, the students of Andover High School will be given a short Thanksgiving vacation. School will close Wednesday, Nov. 29th at noon and will not re-open until Monday, Dec. 4th. This vacation will likewise give the teachers a chance to go home for a few days.

CHARLES K. DYER

TO BE ASSEMBLY GUEST

On Friday afternoon at 1 p. m., special assembly will be presented at the auditorium of Andover High School.

At this time Charles K. Dyer, B.A., M.D., and his brother will be presented in a program based on life in Armenia, their native country. Mr. Dyer holds a doctor's degree from Western Reserve University at Cleveland and is a noted lecturer. Mr. Dyer's brother has only been in this country three years and is studying at college now. Mr. Dyer himself was brought from Armenia by the Near East Relief Fund. This program will include native songs, will feature native costumes and weddings and will present the Mohammedan Salam.

The public is invited to attend and the admission is only ten cents a person.

THE YELLOW SHADOW STRIKES AGAIN

Five shots were heard in the vicinity of the Viewcrest Lodge, the Puget Sound home of Miss Mildred Marvin. Upon thero investigation the body of an unidentified man was found in the sitting room of the lodge.

Miss Marvin, it will be remembered disappeared from her home over a week ago. Sheriff Macklin is planning to deputize the remaining members of the party in a determined effort to capture the killer, the Yellow Shadow.

TO HAVE NEW BASKETBALL SUITS

This year new basketball suits and sweat suits will be purchased for both the boys' and girls' teams. There will be complete boys' suits purchased, and these will be used by the first squad. The suits will be of purple with white letters, numbers and trimmings. The sweat suits will follow the same design. At first it was thought that the school colors would be changed but it was decided to keep the reliable old purple and white.

It is doubtful whether the suits will arrive in time for the Alfred game or not.

THE SPY ???

Howdy, folks, this is your friend the old Spying snapper, so get ready for a few shocks if you intend to read any further.

Well, boys, this seems to be another case of good old brotherly love—did you hear of a younger brother beating his older brother's time with a girl? That is just what has happened. Ray B. has stolen "Tiny" completely away from "Milt." Gosh, Milton you have my sympathy, but I have never had much experience with a younger brother, so I am afraid it will be of little help to you.

I wonder if the sled riding in Wellsville is any better than in Andover? Some of our girls seem to think so at least. Or maybe it's the boys down there that attract them. Ask "Dot" N.

I hear that there is going to be a new book published within the next few weeks that will interest all of us students. It's title is "Parking by Parker," and the author is none other than "Don" Lynch. I hope you will all have an opportunity to read this alluring book, as it will probably be very educational.

I see that "Killer" Cable (he's the brother of that big heman Francis Cable) is starting a love affair all of his own. He seems to have been making frequent visits over on Dyke street. When asked about it, he says, "Oh, I was just peddling my papers." But we aren't quite that narrow-minded, Cable.

"Joe" M. seems to like to bother V. S. quite a lot in the study hall, so that she can't get her lessons. Come out of the fog, Joe, you are teaching the freshmen bad habits.

I wonder why "Eddie" A. has been hanging around Miss Russ's desk in the study hall so much lately. Watch your step, "Ed" do you remember the fate of the four famous "Rusmen" of last year?

Well, I guess it is time for me to be "Headin'" for the Last Round Up, so I will be on my way and will return next week at this same time, place, and manner.

THE SPY

BOOK WEEK PROGRAM

Last Friday morning three short plays were presented by the Seventh Grade English Class under the direction of Miss Kelley as follows:

His Horse, Leo Nobles, Lewis Dodge

Announcer — Dorothy Sweet

MUSIC DEPARTMENT

Music Notes

The orchestra has made a change in several officers. They are as follows:

President—Wisner Cook.

Vice President—Helen Vickers.

Librarian—Francis Vickers.

Secretary—Leah Oakes.

Keep watch—everyone—again this year the Music Department is going to sing Christmas carols to carry out the old Yuletide.

FOOTBALL BANQUET

Plans are now being completed for a football banquet, to be held on either Dec. 4th or 5th, in the Masonic Temple. Tickets for the banquet will soon be on sale by the squad.

Plans for the evening include the banquet with short talks by members of the teams, coaches and Principal Hardy. The banquet will be followed by cards and dancing for those attending.

Watch next week's paper for the menu and completed program.

GRADE HONOR AND CREDIT LISTS

The scholarship lists for the Grades for the first quarter do not have as many names on them as for the corresponding period last year. This does not mean that the scholarship is lower but simply that the requirements for the lists are higher. This year no one will be placed on the Honor Roll unless he has an average of 90%, and in addition is passing every subject, nor on the Credit List unless the average is 80% and passing in every subject. This means that it is more of an honor to be on the Honor Roll or Credit List and also if one is not on the list their work needs improvement in one or more subjects. The other lists will appear at five week intervals, the same as last year. This list was held up so as to be released the same time as the report cards.

First Grade

Honor Roll—Eugene Brown, Florence Dodge, Clara Hann, Marilyn Mulholland, Aletha Perry, Margetta Perry, Craig Snyder, Ralph Strivings, Joseph Yannie, Barbara Childs, Wilma Goodridge.

Eighth Grade

EAST MEETS THE WEST

Friday afternoon, Nov. 24th, the East side of town in the final football game of the season will meet the West side. All of this year's high school squad and many former players of Andover High School will be in action. Among the famous stars to play will be F. Cable, John Croyle, W. Gee, Tuttle, Lever, R. Williams and J. Mulholland.

Also an added feature of the game will be Coach Wally Clarke's appearance at full back for the West Side and Coach Huffcut's appearance for the East Side.

The game will be played for the benefit of Andover High School Athletic Association on the new athletic field. A small admission charge will be made. Last year the East won both games in close contests.

Probable line-ups:

West Side
Padden, re
Edwards, rt
R. Briggs, rg
Mulholland, c
M. Sweet, lg
M. Briggs, lt
J. McAndrew, le

CANDY SALE A SUCCESS

The Senior candy sale under the supervision of Bernice Williams, Elizabeth Snyder and Ruth Walton was a success.

A large variety of candy was on hand at the opening of the sale and it was all sold. The Seniors plan other candy sales in the future.

PRACTICE GAME SCHEDULED

Wednesday, after school, a practice game with the New York State Agricultural School of Alfred was played on the local court, in an effort to round the team into condition for the first game net Tuesday night. The game was too late for a score to be put in this week's paper, but it will appear next week.

CAN YOU GUESS

She is rather tall and slender, has blue eyes and brown hair, and is pretty.

She likes to hurry when she finds it necessary to hurry. But don't try to rush her when she thinks it's best to go slowly. She won't like it.

Life's too short to take too seriously, according to — You'll most always find her smiling or giggling—and someone laughing with her.

— means what she says when she does get serious. She won't talk about anyone unless they are there to hear it. That's what we like about her.

She says she "hates men," but men, evidently don't hate her unless cars in front of her door lie. (She don't consider this a compliment.)

Well, wipe the dust and rub the rust from your thinking cap and guess this one.

Answer to last week's "Can You Guess?"—James Cannon.

Editor's note: There seems to be a misunderstanding about the "cutie" on his string. To quiet difficulties that have already arisen and to prevent further ones, we are forced to print her initials—M.

BOE BECKLEY'S CORNER

Dear Boe:

I am a football star, play full-back and not way back on the gridiron. My gray Chevie takes me to school every day. I am popular with both boys and girls (also the teachers) in my school—perhaps because of my car. My English teacher thinks I'm too gabby, while others say I'm just naturally witty.

I have several girl friends on the string, one in Wellsville and two in Andover. One is taller than I, while the other is shorter. Really, I prefer the latter with whom I have gone with for a long time. She is a brunette, a Senior, and has black wavy hair, blue eyes and what not. I am nice to her always, altho lately I think she has a new flame with "salt and pepper" hair. Do you think she's letting me down? What shall I do? I need your advice.

"Troubled" Deke.

Dear "Troubled" Deke:

You think I don't know who you are. I don't, but I've heard lots about you. I'll admit you are very, very, popular, and that the Chevie and you are always in demand by the high school students. As far as the Senior brunette is concerned, I think you need not feel "troubled" over her new "salt and pepper" flame. (I'm not sure but I heard he was just a cousin). Continue to be nice to her, and I think you'll have no trouble in keeping her. Let me know how you come out.

—Boe Beckley.

HUMOR

Eddie A. (trying to lecture): "Money isn't everything in this world, you know."

Dec. Clark: "No, but it happens to be the thing that I mainly need right now."

Small Sister: "Mr. Cook, are you a baseball player?"

Wizzle: "No, Carolyn, I'm not, I know very little about the game."

Carolyn: "Then why did Norma tell Ma that you were such a good catch?"

Connie: "I love you more than I can tell you, Dorothy."

Dorothy: "How about letting a large diamond solitaire do the talking?"

Fortune Teller (soulfully): "Our spirits are in harmony. I can sense an aura about you."

Padden: "That ain't any aura, lady; that's hair tonic."

Stranger: "When does the fifteen leave?"

Paul A.: "At quarter past five."

Stranger: "Thanks; I get all mixed up over this changing of time."

Father: "No, Johnny, I don't know the Latin word for 'people'."

Johnny: "Populi."

Father: "How dare you accuse your father of lying."

ELEANOR D-REMER PRACTICE TEACHER

Miss Eleanor DeRemer, a member of the Class of 1929, and a Senior at Keuka College, is practicing teaching in this high school this week. She is teaching mathematics, history A, and English II and IV.

BOYS AND GIRLS

OPEN AGAINST ALFRED

On next Tuesday evening, Nov. 28th, Alfred High School will invade Andover for two basketball games. These will be the first regular games of the season and both boys' and girls' teams will play. As usual the girls' game will be the preliminary, starting at about 7:30. The admission will be very low, being 25 cents for adults, 15 cents for high school students and ten cents for grade children.

Some Communication

We have heard of long sermons, lengthy epistles and voluminous news stories, but the Potter Enterprise of Coudersport takes the cake in publishing an "Eleven Mile Communication."

Forty-nine of Kansas' 105 counties are named for men who saw service in United States military forces.

Food Market Advice

By ANN PAGE

It is time to begin to think about foods which are associated with Thanksgiving and to be sure that they will be included on your marketing list. Among these are yellow turnips, white boiling onions, cranberries for cocktail, jelly or sauce, sweet potatoes, Emperor grapes, Florida oranges, red apples and mixed nuts including new crop pecans, walnuts, almonds, and peanuts. Persimmons, pomegranates, tangerines, Bosc pears and bananas also help to make a fruit and nut centerpiece attractive.

Celery, olives and shelled or salted nuts are favorite relishes for the feast. If the traditional onions or turnips are not wanted as the vegetable, the more modern Brussels sprouts, broccoli, cauliflower or green beans may be served as they are plentiful and inexpensive.

Since turkey stuffings are frequently a subject of dispute, some people liking their bread stuffing dry, others moist, some people insisting on chestnut, mushroom, oyster, celery or sweet potato stuffing, it is fortunate that all these ingredients are in market at moderate prices.

On your list, therefore, should be poultry seasoning, sage or thyme for seasoning your stuffings.

The addition of an appetizer course to the standard Thanksgiving dinner grows more common each year. The Quaker Maid suggests several possibilities including tomato juice cocktail, cranberry juice cocktail, pineapple and grapefruit juice, halved grapefruit and oyster, clam or sea food cocktail.

Although both fresh squash and pumpkin are in market and are excellent for pies, canned pumpkin will be found to be satisfactory and a great time saver. Undiluted evaporated milk helps to make this old time favorite thick and creamy in texture.

Many people prefer to buy mincemeat for pies, and there are several excellent brands available.

For the current week, there are many inexpensive meats available, making it possible for the housewife to save towards next week's heavier expense. Bulk pork sausage seems more suitable at a dinner dish than link sausage but both are good at any meal in the day. Chopped beef is always good and may be served in numerous ways. Plate and navel beef may be purchased either fresh or corned for that boiled dinner which all of us enjoy now and then. Chuck steak has an excellent flavor and if cut rather thin it is also tender enough to be enjoyed. The more expensive steak cuts are also usually low priced this week. For the preholiday week-end these are also economical choices including top or bottom round pot roasts, fresh hams and legs of lamb. Turkeys will be surprising low for Thanksgiving. It's a good idea to get your order in early. Giving a holiday turkey to a less fortunate neighbor is a thoughtful custom.

It is suggested that two pounds per person be allowed for when ordering a turkey. The larger birds have more meat in proportion and we all enjoy turkey left-overs.

That almost meat-like fish, steak halibut, is attractively priced for those who like to vary their menus with sea food. Although cold weather is curtailing the herring run they are still available. Perch and pike are somewhat more plentiful. To serve with fish there is a good choice of vegetables, cabbage and carrots to be eaten or salad or cooked spinach and the special salad vegetables, lettuce and tomatoes. The latter are now coming from California. There are good fresh peas in market but the price is high.

With the thought of red apples for eating and table decoration in mind we also want to remember the cooking varieties for sauce, for baking, for ties and for desserts.
