Epworth College

An entertainment that was different, unique, interesting and instructive was the "Epworth College," held under the auspices of the Epworth League branches of the Methodist church last Tuesday evening.

The affair was carried on as a college, with class rooms and instructors. There were four courses of instruction—The Century of Progress by Supt. Gates Pope, domestic science by Mrs. Aichard Harder, "Balancing Science With God," C. Huber Watson and Early History of Andover by J. Harvey Backus.

At the close of the recitation periods, school assembly was held, at which time various entertaining features, including a "Kitchen Band" songs and features were broadcast by Wisner Cook.

About 60 people expressed themselves as highly pleased with the entertainment.

Refreshments were served at the close of the college.

Instead of old birds teaching the young ones the route of long migrations, the youngsters frequently lead the way over the paths their parents took before them.

One Great Woman

Commends Another

Marie Dressler, the best beloved screen character in the world, said in an address Sunday evening over a national radio hook-up that Eleanor Roosevelt is an object lesson to every living woman. "While her husband looks after the affairs of state, she devotes her time and energies to the affairs of humanity," Mrs. Roosevelt, citizen of Dutchess county, has become a citizen of the world, and the best beloved woman on earth. Her recent appeal to the well-to-do to unite in relieving the distress of the depression before they were deprived of that wealth entirely was a remarkably brave statement, coming from the wife of the nation's President. As the First Lady of the Land Mrs. Roosevelt adds luster to the nation and is beloved almost universally. Verily she fills her exalted niche as no other woman has in the history of the U. S. A.

Dried fruits such as prunes or apricots are wholesome sweets for children, but even these should not often be eaten between meals.

BAKERS' STORE NEWS

Published by Baker Bros. Hardware, Andover, N. Y.

Mark Twain condemned polygamy on the ground that "no man can have two masters."

Candy for Thanksgiving

Big boxes of Mixed Chocolates, flavors to suit every taste; soft and hard pieces; fruit and nut centers, enough in each package to sweeten up the party for this holiday with a liberal amount left over to supply the family well on to Christmas.

Full five pounds, 75c and up. It's quality that counts and this offer will prove that it does not require a fancy price to supply yourself with sweets that satisfy.

For Rent

Two apartments with all conveniences. Special low rental during Winter.

For Sale

Used closet combination with white porcelain tank and mahogany finished seat—$9.75.

Step Up

When you want something just out of reach, you look around for some way to hoist yourself, grab a chair or a box either of which are cumbersome and little suited to your purpose.

Let us suggest a Step Stool which is safe, easy to mount, will raise you a foot or a yard and give you a sense of security anywhere within the limit of its height. Made of all metal, will last thru several generations, being enameled; is good looking. The top is just high enough to sit on comfortably, while employed at the kitchen sink or work table, in fact, an almost indispensable item of household equipment.

Priced at $1.98, is splendid value. If used for a month would not be dispensed with for twice its cost.

A One Cent Mender

So Lo, a self hardening rubbery substance that will mend cloth, rubber, leather and many wood and metal articles.

Particularly good for auto tires, tubes, and footwear, comes in a tube like shaving cream, squeeze out what your job requires and the rest is ready for future use.

Sells for 25 cents a big tube and a liberal tube of rubber cement free with each package.
