

A Brighter Christmas

The Saving-Club Way!

In many Andover homes there will be a happier and a merrier Christmas this year. They are the members of the Christmas Saving Club who made sure thru the year that they would have money with which to do their Christmas shopping this season . . . by joining our Christmas Saving Club last year.

The Membership Books of our Christmas Saving Club for 1934 are now open . . . If you have never enjoyed the pleasure of having money to spend at Christmas, then join our Club this year.

Firemen Called to Two Homes

The firemen responded to two alarms Monday. The first at the home of Mrs. Rose Mattison where a chimney fire was soon subdued and the second call of the siren took them to the home of Ralph Kemp on Greenwood street where an overheated stovepipe had set fire to the ceiling, causing little damage.

Christmas Shopping

So many shopping days until Christmas. What of it? Most of us can buy all we have the money to pay for in a couple of hours, and have half of that time left to bump elbows with the crowd and absorb Holiday Spirit.

Why not try something different this year? To test your faith, set up your Christmas Tree and then put it squarely up to Santa Claus to carry out the program. That method would save a lot of money by not buying; the very thing most people don't want and for which they have no earthly use.

Habits are very tenacious. It is hard to get away from the pack—it just isn't done, so we will all perform about as usual: eat too much, drink too much, and expend enough energy to pull the whole world out of the depression if it was practical and co-operatively applied.

We are showing the usual articles people expect to find in a well appointed Hardware Store and have considerably sweetened up the stock by introducing many new items that it seems to us might be possessed with pleasure and profit by every member of the family.

Won't you come around and pass on our efforts. The goods are reliable, the prices are right. If you can OK our effort we shall be pleased; if you don't find what you want we take the full blame. We, not you, have made the mistake and we have always maintained that those responsible for errors must pay the expense thereof; on that basis we place ourselves at the bar of your judgment and will take our sentence heads up and smiling. What say you?

Wax Rite

Winter is a hard season on finished floors. Only continual care can keep them from looking shabby. Wax Rite is the answer to a home keeper's prayer. Use it on all types of hardwood floors, linoleum, tile or rubber, also painted or varnished surfaces.

Apply with a thoroughly saturated cloth or cotton mop. No rubbing in or polishing—dries in 15 minutes. Sixteen-ounce can—45 cents.

Frozen

That is the condition in which many people found their radiators during some of the zero mornings that are being served to us in these early winter days.

It is quite expensive to repair a radiator burst by frozen contents. It costs very little to protect that same radiator with Methanol, so that no matter how low your thermometer may register, you will find no icicles showing on the front elevation of your car, nor any smoke from the radiator cap when you start.

Methanol stays put; does not cause leakage to hose connections; does not clog or gum the cooling system, is full Government proof, not let down by less expensive preparations to reduce the price and a half-and-half mixture with clean water will protect against any low temperature likely in this climate.

Twenty cents by the quart—75c per gallon. If saved and filtered at the end of the season may be used another year.

Medicine Cabinets

First aid items, shaving outfits, and toilet accessories are quite apt to be cluttered in out of the way corners and hard to locate when needed quickly unless you have a particular container for them.

Calling these snug little cabinets medicine holders does not half suggest their usefulness. Take little wall space, have a fine engraved plate mirror front and priced as low as $2.29. The mirror alone is worth the money.

Keep Posted

The man who can't tell what his thermometer said these cold mornings is just out of the conversation; he don't fit.

Buy a thermometer, it is your credential for entering the only society that means anything these days. Correct readings, 50c and up.

Heat Pads

There is no other electric appliance that will add so much to personal comfort—sick, convalescing or in health, as an electrically operated Heat Pad with three-point switch for high, medium or low heat.

We are showing very good ones as low as $1.48.

Rural mail route No. 1, out of Rexville will be abolished and two routes from Greenwood lengthened to cover the territory, is a recent ruling from the department. It is claimed that the change will result in a saving of $1,174.

The Subordinate Grange put on their play "Waitin' For Sun-Up," at Batavia, at 8 o'clock Saturday night at the high school auditorium. This is a tryout for the championship in Western New York. The winner goes to Ithaca in February for the state tryout at the farmers' meeting at Syracuse.

The Young Women's Friendly Class of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Harold Emery, the president, Tuesday evening for their regular meeting. There were 25 present, each bringing a gift for the Christmas tree. A fine lunch was served by the hostess and her assistants, Mrs. John Nobles and Mrs. Reta Myers.

The Missionary Society of the M. E. church were pleasantly entertained at the home of Mrs. Dewey Northrup Tuesday afternoon, and the lesson given by Mrs. H. W. Coryell from the study book, Eastern Women Today and Tomorrow, proves that even a missionary topic may become very interesting when so well planned and given.
