LUCK AND THE NEW SEMESTER

The first half of the school year is history. For those who have successfully passed their exams—congratulations. To those students who did not quite measure up, better luck next time.

That word "luck" to some, may seem frightfully out of place. "Luck," they will say, "did not get me my marks. I worked for them, using every opportunity which was open to me."

"Luck," the other fellow will say, "that was it. I knew my subjects pretty well, but luck wasn't with me. They asked the very questions I was not prepared to answer."

Webster defines luck as "fortune, either good or bad." But Webster does not, or could not tell us that we, to a great extent, make our fortune, either good or bad.

In one sense, it was "luck" that gave the high marks. Lucky is he who has the courage and ability to work hard. That's good fortune or good luck.

On the other hand, it was luck of sorts that lost the exams to some. Not sufficient work—or work along the wrong line. Poor luck surely attends the scholar who thinks it not necessary to "plug" good and hard, or who tries to figure out the questions on the exam papers only upon receiving the examination paper, to discover that he was the student—and not the examiner. That is poor fortune or bad luck.

Now, at the beginning of this new semester, let us remember that that elusive thing called "luck" has two sides to its being, and that it depends on ourselves, which of these sides will be with us next June.

Well, anyway, here's "luck"—make of it what you will.

HI HERALD MEETING FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 2nd

A staff meeting of all those interested in the re-organization of the Hi Herald will be held this Friday morning, Feb. 2nd, at 8:30 in the library.

Let's have a large turn-out at this meeting and bring along some new ideas for our school paper.

Remember, this Friday morning at 8:30.

FROM PROMOTIONS DUE TO MID-YEAR EXAMS

The following pupils, as a result of their passing either exams or Regents, have been promoted:

From Eighth grade to Freshman Class—Leo Baker and Edward Mullen.

From Freshman to Sophomore Class—Mona Northrup, Leo Fulkerson and Frank Weinbauer.

ANDOVER LOSES TO CANISTEO

Andover taking the tip off, started a very fast game. The ball was in their territory the first half of the period, but Canistee's scoring machinery finally got under way running up a score of 10 to Andover's 2 for the first period.

The second period was hard fought with Canistee still sinking baskets. In the last 10 seconds of play, Wickham sank a basket making the score of 18 for Canistee and 5 for Andover, at the half.

Andover came out in the third period with what looked to be a fighting mood, but Canistee evidently had also had a pep talk, and with the lead they already had, began their slaughter again, sinking 6 baskets, making at total of 30 points to Andover's 9 at the close of the third quarter.

Canistee substituted their entire second team in the last quarter. Andover tried to rally, but it was too late and the game ended with a final score of 41 to 13 in Canistee's favor.

Buskley was the outstanding player of the game, making 13 of Canistee's points. "White" and "Cotton" starred for Andover making 10 of Andover's 13 points.

THE BONE YARD

"Now, boys," said the Scotch professor, "if you'll just put a few crazy answers in your examination papers, I can sell them to a magazine for $200 each."

These may have been some of the papers:

"A blizzard is the inside of a fowl."

"Shakespeare lived at Windsor with his merry wives."

"An interval in music is the distance from one piano to the next."

"A cat is a quadruped, the legs, as usual, being at the four corners."

"Cereals are films shown in the pictures."

"Queen Elizabeth was called the Virgin Queen because she knew Latin."

"John Bunyon was an eminent specialist on foot troubles."

"Lord Macaulay suffered from gout and wrote all his poems in Cambie feet."

"School boards were not introduced until 1870. Previous to this small slates had to be used."

"Magna Charta was good and kind and everybody liked her. She was strong."

"The opposite of evergreen is nevergreen."

"A skeleton is a man with his inside out and his outside off."

"Quinine is the bark of a tree—canine is the bark of a dog."

"Parallel lines never meet unless you bend one or both of them."

"A poetic license is a license you get from the post office to keep poets. You get one also if you want to keep a dog."

Question: Write a sentence containing the expression "cool and collected."—Answer: "The man was cool before the explosion but unfortunately he was collected afterwards."

Question: What do you know of the Bill of Pains and Penalties?—Answer: "It was passed to punish people who broke windows."

Question: Explain "sarcasm."—Answer: "When I say 'God bless teacher.'"

WHO SAID—

"The evil that men do lives after them, the good therein is interred with their bones."—When was it said and under what circumstances?—Answer: next week.

?? THE SPY ??

Well, look who has come back to life. If it isn't your old friend, "The Spy," after my long vacation and much needed rest. I think I will be able to carry on my old column in the Hi-Herald right where I left off.

But before we start, I want to remind all of you students that the things which I put in "The Spy" about you are not put in to hurt your feelings, but merely to let the rest of the students know what you are doing behind their backs. So I think it would be advisable for some of you people to watch your step unless you want your action to be known to the Hi-Herald public.

Now that I have gotten that off my chest, I can set to work with a clear conscience, so here goes . . .

First of all, I would like to know what the big attraction is over to Alfred that keep calling all our young men over there? It was even reported that "Power House Regan" and "Man Mountain Brewster" have been making frequent visits over to that town. By the way, if any of you guys haven't had any luck over there yet, why don't you see the Brundage & Brundage Co., Inc.? They might be able to lend you some of their numerous "cast-offs" that live there. It would be worth trying, anyway.

Well, what's this? Dot Nobles seems to be carrying around quite a bright "Shine" lately. By the way, they call him "Walt" for short. At last the blow has come. "Milt" Briggs has lost out with Norma entirely. Milt has finally found out that you've got to be more than a basketball hero to keep a girl like Norma. Nice going, "Geet!"

Another romance is budding in Hollywood. Clark Gable (Lawrence Padden) has been seen in various night clubs with none other than Mae West, alias Dot Cronk. Let us know after the wedding, and we might "cum up and see ya sumtin'." Eh, what?

Ed. Alderson seems to be spending most of his time before and after school in the S. H. (study hall) lately. I wonder whether it's the teacher or whether "Eddie" feels so young that he has to associate with the "Freshies."

After such a strenuous week of study, I'm sure you can't take any more of this time.

A-H-S— DID YOU KNOW?

Featured by Winner H. Cook

The Olympics are recorded as having been started in the year 706 B. C., but traces of them have been found as far back as in the days of Hercules. The first contest was a foot race and the audience consisted of men, no women being allowed, watched the contestants race in the nude. It was necessary for the men to spend several hours each day for training, and during the last 30 days they had to stay with their director all the time.

The word "cop" is not really a word at all. It was formed by taking the first letters from the words "Constable of Police." People seldom speak of a policeman by any other name.

The moon has only two motions. They are its own course in space and its course around the earth.

Roller skates were first invented and used in London in 1923.

The state of Nevada received its name from the Spanish word "nevada," which means snow clad and was taken from the snow clad peaks in the same state.

Around Our House

What Kind of a Home?

Some homes are always in order. Here no tell-tale dust ever rides in corners and crevices, meals are served on time, and everything proceeds in a strictly efficient manner. Many look with envy at housewives who manage such homes, but is this feeling always justified? asks the New York state college of home economics.

Homes are for people, not things. A house which sacrifices neatness for children's play or which makes guests feel they have to put down newspapers to walk comfortably, is not a real home but a mere house. Children who are glad to come home, who bring in their playmates and know they will be welcomed, live in a true home even though dinners may be late occasionally. The home that can not make a guest feel at ease lacks the right atmosphere, no matter how spick and span it may be.

LET ME PLEAD

I remarked in this column not long since that "the common cold is of all, the most treacherous" of enemies; I truly believe that tens of thousands of deaths within our great country, could be traced back to "Well, she (or he) first took a severe cold." I'm talking sense today—no theory, but fact—known fact. And it's time for it.

The fellow who "takes cold" and seeks to "just go along and wear it out," makes the big mistake of his life. These colds are well-defined infections; and the sort of germs that most frequently affect the heart, and certainly the air-passages—both vital organs; and you read everywhere that deaths from "heart disease" outnumber fatalities from both tuberculosis and cancer! It's true!

It's an appalling fact! It is my belief that over half the real heart infections come from germs in the nose, throat and bronchial passages. Those insidious things! Isn't it the wise thing, as soon as you detect symptoms of a cold—the shivery, drawn feeling—the sneezy nose, watering eyes, the "sneaking" soreness in the throat—maybe the actual chill, from suddenly checked perspiration—to go right to BED? I know it's right. Go to bed and restore your body to health. One day in bed is better spent than two months of semi-invalidism, that may lead to things that end your life.

You know—as I do—that the real wise thing is PREVENTION of disease. Don't forget the nasal sprays advised by your physician. Keep the bowel eliminating properly, drink plenty of water—get enough sleep. These are days of intense worry—steer the boat very carefully. This awful depression is taking its toll in human lives! May God help whoever was the cause of it!

A wild mallard duck with a steel trap attached to its leg has been seen flying over Beaver Creek, near Downingtown, Pa. The bird, apparently is not hindered in flying.
