LAURELS TO THE LOSERS

By Wilfred Brown

Most of us told ourselves last week that we were going to make a great improvement in our scholastic standings. Some of us will. This seems to be typical of the mass of humans; otherwise, we wouldn't be humans. Distinguished people oftentimes are distinguished because they can and do accomplish all that they say they can. In any race there is always a comparatively large number of contestants but only a few are capable of distinguishing themselves. However, the achievements of the distinguished are greater, in comparison with previous achievements, as the commonplace make their achievements greater. Thus the mass of ordinary people are the ones who are continually behind the more talented, forcing them to exert greater accomplishments.

The point is that if a person is self-centered and cares only for his own glory, he will seldom be distinguished and at the same time he will not see the use of confining to improve himself in order to help to raise the general standard. Hence it is selfish to be a quitter. A quitter is too selfish to expend his resources with his fellows in a common endeavor to raise the standard of his art.

In school there will be very few who will be materially rewarded for exceptional work. There will be a great many who will receive no reward other than the satisfaction of accomplishment; and that accomplishment is not undeserving of reward. These are the ones who, knowing that they cannot be outstanding, are nevertheless broad-minded enough to realize that by their efforts they can raise the standard of excellence in their school and thus do their bit towards raising the standards of civilization.

AIM HIGH AND HIT THE MARK

Without a high ideal an individual never climbs. Keep your eyes on the mountain top and, tho you may stumble and fall many times in the ascent, look ahead at the light which shines in the clear atmosphere of the mountain peak, and you will finally reach your goal.

Honorable ambition is the lever that raises the whole mass of mankind. Ideals and visions are the stepping-stones by which we rise to higher things.

"Oh," replied Dick Appier, "they came with my face."

BREWSTER RECEIVES SCHOLARSHIP OFFER

Our 224-pound tackle, Edward Brewster, has received an offer of scholarship from the Athletic Association of St. Bonaventure College if he will play on their football team.

This is a great honor—and no one deserves it more than "Eddie." He was one of the main causes of our victory over Canisteo, Bolivar, Allegany and many other schools this past season. He believes in fair play and hard work, and has never failed to live up to these standards. He has a spirit—a loyal "Alma Mater" spirit that is so seldom seen. And the strangest part of it all—he never boasts, or raves about how the team would never be what it is without him. In fact, if we left the decision to Eddie, this wouldn't be in the paper at all.

That's why we like him, and wish him all the luck in the world. We hope to see, some day, his name in the headlines of the sport world thus—"Brewster Saves the Day at St. Bonaventure's."

THE SPY

Hi-lo, folks, here's your old friend the Spy, and I sure feel good because there is a vacation coming soon—and even I will enjoy one.

Well, I wonder what Bob Spicer does up in our stately school? You know if I were Bill Gee, I'd look into this.

Last year lamps on this: If Vick hasn't been out with Mary McAndrew! You can't do that "Vick" and get away with it. You great, big, handsome man!

Say, Anna, how is Carlton? It's too bad he doesn't live here so he could amuse you oftener. I'd watch out for Rita, 'cause she might get a r.e. She likes him when he acts like Joe E. Brown.—Me-ow-etcetra.

Well, if Miss Coryell isn't still going strong. I warned her once but she wouldn't notice, so here goes again. Stop going with Francis or you will give Lloyd heart failure.

I declare as I look over these notes that Dorothy Cronk (Mae West) has given the mighty Clark Gable something to think about. She was out with one of our Wellsville shieks, none other than Lou Burdick, the tom-tom player. Treat 'em rough, Gable, treat 'em rough.

I say that the actions of Veronica O'Haragan were simply astonishing at the dance Thursday night. If I were you, O'Haragan, I'd leave Bessie alone because "Ed" treats 'em rough and makes 'em like it, and you couldn't stand up under such circumstances—Heh-heh, vengeance is mine!

I might ask why H. McAndrew sits so near the Moland girl in the study hall???

Well, I suppose the old news has run out for this time. I don't want to spoil somebody's vacation. More shall be said next time. So behave yourself at the Senior Valentine party.

Wishing all the H. S. students a grand and glorious vacation. Yours in monkey-bizness,

LITERARY DEPARTMENT

ONE BY ONE

One step and then another—
And the longest walk is ended;
One stitch and then another,
And the largest rent is mended.
One brick upon another,
And the highest wall is made;
One flake upon another,
And the deepest snow is laid.
Then do not look disheartened,
On the work you have to do:
And say that such a mighty task
You never can get thru.
But just endeavor, day by day,
Another point to gain;
And soon the mountain which you
feared,
Will prove to be a plain.

AROUND THE A. H. S. SPORT WORLD

Featured by Don Brundage

What is the trouble with the A. H. S. basketball team? They have taken three bad defeats in succession. First Allegany, with a score of 12-34, then Canisteo, a school of the same size as Andover, with a score of 18-42; and Wellsville coming out on top with a score of 20-36. At the beginning of the season Andover held Wellsville to a score of 16-17. Why couldn't they do the same in last week's game?

Wellsville's team has not improved that much, but evidently Andover has lost heart because of the beatings they have already taken. Their team work is shattered!

Here's hoping they can get together in next week's game and come out on the winning side. Let's all turn out and give the team some backing. That may help.

Gets Offer of Scholarship

At the recent game with Allegany one of our star football and basketball players, Edward Brewster, was offered a football scholarship by Assistant Coach Harkins of St. Bonaventure College, Allegany, N. Y.

"Eddie," being a Junior in high school, could not accept the scholarship this year, but he has plans to graduate next year, and possibly will accept it then. As Coach Harkins said, he would keep in touch with Eddie.

This is the first time in the history of the A. H. S. that such an offer of this kind has been made as to our knowledge.

We are all proud to have such an athlete in our school, and we are hoping you will take advantage of one valuable offer Eddie.

Wellsville Beats Andover

Wellsville again proved to be superior over our smaller school. The game was a one-sided throut.

Wellsville took the tip-off and immediately began to sink baskets. Dye, Wellsville's center, making three in succession. Andover then called time out, but just could not keep to itself.

After the time out, McAndrew sank a basket, and this was quickly followed by one from Cannon. By this time Wellsville had organized their attack and Gardner made three baskets and McEnroe sank one and made five foul shots, making a score at the end of the first quarter of Wellsville 17, Andover 5.

Andover rallied in the second quarter, holding Wellsville down for two baskets while Cannon made a basket and made one foul shot. The score at the half—Wellsville 22, Andover 8.

Wellsville began substituting in the third quarter, but Andover could not make any better headway. The third quarter ended with a score of 28-10, Wellsville's favor.

Andover rallied in the last quarter with Wellsville's entire second team in action. McAndrew, P. Alderson, Lynch and Cannon each made a basket for Andover with Cannon and Briggs also shooting one foul each.

Wellsville's second team made only one basket, but made three good foul shots, and the game ended with Wellsville's victory 36-20.

Jim Cannon was again high scorer for Andover, making ten of their 20 points, while B. McEnroe was high scorer for Wellsville, making 14 points with Dye next in line with 11 points.

McCarthy proved to be up to some trouble to our players, having quite a knack of stealing the ball on dribbles.

Brewster and Briggs had a slight "run-in" so acting-captain Paul Alderson had Brewster removed from the game. This uncalled for incident also lowered Andover's chance to score considerable.

Wedding Bells Will Ring Out Soon

BOE BECKLEY'S COLUMN

Dear Boe: I am just another poor, unfortunate Freshman girl—who can't seem to hook a B.F. (boy friend), no matter how hard I try. I am 14, attractive, can play basketball and gossip to full advantage as well as many other good qualities. Please tell me how to be popular.

"BIG EYES."

Don't try to "hook" anyone. That will never work as far as a boy friend is concerned. They don't like to be chased (I know). Also, you are much too young. Spend your Freshman year studying and preparing yourself for the three following years which will mean more to you. Remember your age, forget the males, and aim for better marks instead of those silly H. S. boys! You might pass this word on to most of the other Freshman girls, and here's hoping they will take the hint.

GRADE ACTIVITIES

First Grade

The First Grade are having a contest in arithmetic between the boys and the girls. So far, the girls are ahead.

Second Grade

Charles Hall had the most 100 papers during the month of January. Row six won in the Health Contest for January.

Snow Land is ahead of White Lodge in the spelling contest. The side having the most 100's each day gets a block of snow in their Eskimo igloo.

We are now busy making Valentines and finishing up our Eskimo study.

Eighth Grade

A true story of the basketball game as told by Clyde Briggs, a Seventh Grader:

It was Saturday night, the night our team was to play the Eighth Grade team. As I walked up to the school, Billy asked me who I thought would win. Before I had time to answer we had reached the school house. As I walked into the gym my knees began to knock.

While the teams were practicing shooting baskets, I heard the whistle blow. This meant that the game was about to begin. Our line-up was: Oakes, center; Dugan, left guard; Nobles, right guard; Dolan, left forward; Briggs, right forward.

At the end of the first quarter the score was 2-0 in their favor. In the third quarter Don O., made a foul shot and Briggs made a field goal. Thus the game ended 3-2 in our favor.

I think the game was too close. If we could have played longer, I think we should beat them by more than we did.

Cheese Is Muscle, Bone Builder; Ranks High As Economical Food

Americans Should Use More Cheese As Health Food; New York A Pioneer Cheese State

By CHARLES H. BALDWIN
Commissioner, Department of Agriculture and Markets
Albany, New York

FOR more than three-quarters of a century, New York State cheese has topped the market for highest grade and quality. Our cheese makers are doing their part with unsurpassed success, but the consumption of this splendid food in our State, and indeed in the entire country, is lagging far behind what would be expected and desirable.

New York is a cheese state. The first two cheese factories of the nation were established here, one in Herkimer county by Henry Burdell, and the other at Rome, Oneida county, in 1851. Today New York manufactures a large quantity of a special type of cheddar cheese known as "washed curd." This is softer and more palatable than many others and has a special demand on the market and among consumers.

Many Types Available While cheddar is the large quality output, this is not the only fine type of cheese New York produces. There are more than 500 types of cheese throughout the nations of the world, and just as this country is the melting pot of humanity, so too it has become the melting pot in which the best and most favored types of cheese of the world have been produced and made available to our own people.

The per capita consumption of cheese by the American people is but slightly more than two pounds a year, while in many European countries they eat six to ten pounds.

Cheese is a concentrated and economical type of food. It is the richest source of calcium, phosphorus, and protein, iron, copper and all of the important vitamins of milk. It is highly digestible form. It is a muscle and bone builder for men who work at hard physical toil and for nursing mothers and growing children.
