Models of 1934

Each year great interest is manifested in the new models of motor cars; people who do not own a car and have no reasonable expectation of ever doing so are quite as curious and expectant as to what new and timely luxury automobile engineers have been able to dream and develop into reality. The majority of our people who own and drive automobiles use them probably not to exceed ten hours each week; many of them much less than that. The expense of driving a car is not less than 50 cents an hour, so it is a very expensive convenience, its use largely a luxury. The heart of every home is its cooking device. The kitchen range, which is used almost constantly, and is essential to the comfort, health and well being of every family and every person composing that family regardless of age or state of importance; therefore interest in the new 1934 models of Gas Ranges should transcend that in any other instrument on which the genius and creative talent of our master builders have been employed. We all know much of motor cars, we know little of the real attainment that is now concrete and definite in the one factor of comfortable living that is as necessary as clothing or shelter. Builders of the 1934 gas ranges are displaying quite as much talent and thought for user convenience as you will be able to find in any other avenue of endeavor. They are as different as a Conestoga Wagon and Packard automobile. Time may develop added beauty, utility, convenience and endurance, but to a lay mind they are the last word in all these qualities. You may not feel the need or care to incur the expense of a new Range at this time, but surely you want to know all about them—the colors, arrangement of cooking top, improvement of burners, three way valves, extra size of oven, available broiler space, oven heat control, insulated walls, frame construction, round corners and smooth fully enameled interiors. It will be a pleasure to show you and we promise to satisfy your curiosity without arousing your cupidity; some promise, that. Think it over and come in anyway, you will be glad you came. The new Ranges are indeed marvels of beauty and utility. Prices astonishingly low.

Good Gardens

Are for those who use care and judgment in seed selection. Leonard's bulk seeds have grown good gardens in Andover and over a large part of the United States and Canada for many years; people acquainted with Leonard's quality and excellence of variety stick to them year after year. If you are not planting seeds from Leonard's you are missing some fine vegetables not offered by any other seed grower. The stock is ready—you may buy now. Any Day Now You may want to start gathering the sugar crop. Maple syrup stocks are low and prices favorable. You will need Bit Stocks, Tapping Bits, Spouts, Buckets, Storage Tanks and Syrup Cans. We also advise you to become familiar with Glass Jugs for syrup containers. You may have them in quart, half gallon and gallon sizes at very low prices, if you don't know about them, ask us. Dairy Salt Colonial, clean, pure and 99.90 Salt. Put up in white canvas sacks that are useful when empty; costs no more, 90c cwt. Stays Stuck When you want a permanent repair job on wood, metal, crockery, cloth, leather and many other substances, use Casco Glue, an adhesive made necessary by the building of aircraft. Water, fire and weather proof, comes in powder form—just add water and serve. No waste, you mix little or much as needed. All size packages from 10c up. Smokers Your favorite mixture will take a finer, cooler, drier flavor if you will burn it in a Filtrix Pipe. One dollar value now available at Baker's for a quarter. "If a man build his house of glass he should not resent it that his neighbor sees him pick his teeth."—Kelland, in "The Cat's Paw." Fortune Teller: "I warn you, a dark man is about to cross your path." Lady Driver: "Better warn the dark man."

Three objectives: A founders' day program; a quilt to tie and a good afternoon. Three ways to help—presence, needles, sociability. Come! The Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. Church met with Mrs. Bertha Pingrey at her home on First street Tuesday afternoon for their regular monthly business meeting. The hostesses were Mrs. F. L. Hann, Mrs. Elmer Kaple and Mrs. Pingrey. Miss Helen Shay is in a Dansville hospital where she is receiving treatment for frozen limbs. She was returning from her work in Dansville one evening this week when her car stalled on the Dansville hill. Unable to make it go she walked the several miles to her home. The zero weather caused her lower limbs to become severely frozen, necessitating hospital treatment.—Canaseraga Times. Mrs. Wm. Pease was very pleasantly surprised Thursday evening when about 40 relatives and friends invaded her home on Chestnut street. The occasion was her birthday and a fine supper supplied by the guests was greatly enjoyed. Music for the occasion was rendered by John Croyle and Henry Baker, while those who wished played cards. Guests were present from Greenwood, Scio, Stannards, Whitesville, and Wellsville who left many fine gifts in remembrance of an enjoyable evening. Bits of Blarney If Admiral Byrd wanted a real cold winter he should have established headquarters on Phillips Creek, near Belmont. For cold weather birds he could have used starlings instead of penguins. Who knows but that a great philosopher may arise out of the record-cold February of 1934 who can satisfactorily explain why a hot water pipe will freeze when cold water continues to flow from one almost alongside it. What under the sun can beat the variations of thermometers. The cold spell brought out figures as variable as 15 degrees from the mercury in the same community. Whoever first tells how cold it was at his house before the neighbors is sure to be beat by a half dozen degrees or more. "And the smoke went up the chimney just the same." Except it didn't in many villages since the frost condensed in some of them. An unusual number of them have burned out. Nearly every village has had the experience, firemen called out, every one frightened for fear of a big blaze on a bitter cold day—or early morning, say 3 a. m. In the "good old days," back in 1895 Bolivar had four candidates for supervisor at Spring town meeting. Will Allegany county soon have mail planes whizzing overhead? There is some talk of re-routing the New York-Cleveland air mail route over Jamestown, Olean and Hornell to avoid the dangerous "Pennsylvania graveyard" over the Allegany mountains. Now it's Rushford to furnish a bit of news about a woman trying to run her hand thru a wringer. "Misery loves company." If your water pipes have been frozen up and your car won't go, you can find plenty of others who know all about it and can sympathize with you.—Bellevue Blaze.

Short Tract Sunday School folks keep right up to date. One of its classes is called The Broadcasters. Bolivar's new plant of the Allegany Refiners, Inc., is now employing 44 persons. In addition many lease workers have been enabled to return to their former positions thru the market provided for the so-called "dark oil." Angelica High School students have formed a Latin Club. Alfred Post, No. 370, American Legion, will entertain State Commander Robert E. Minnick at a county-wide Legion and Auxiliary gathering Tuesday, April 3rd. Renwick. Geyer plead guilty two weeks previously to forging in the second degree.
