Bits of Allegany County News

Alfred has a Hobby Club. An exhibit in the library was sponsored by the Camp Fire Girls. Butterflies, modeling, air mail stamps, rare books, rugs, photos, pottery, Indian relics, etc., were shown.
 Almond has a new postmaster, Kenneth Hagadorn, succeeding Robert E. Brown, April 1st.
 Alfred is talking baseball, holding a meeting Sunday evening last.
 Allegany county cheese has taken a nice rise in price, 13 1/2 cents on the Cuba market last week being offered.
 Whitesville lost its last G. A. R. member, Albert L. Robbins, nearly 85 years old, who died March 27th.
 Black Creek church young folks are raising funds to equip the building with electric lights.
 Allentown is a bit disappointed that building cost increases have made it impossible to get bids within the appropriation voted. Plans will be revised or addition money voted.
 Wellsville had something to talk about 52 years ago: A temperance restaurant.
 Angelica had 115 converts from a revival at which the Rev. J. J. Payne preached.
 Nile folks in the Evangelical church took their Easter services seriously and held a sunrise meeting at 6:30 a. m.
 Friendship's once famous resident, Dr. James Baxter, head of its University of Music in the 70's and 80's, may be written up for the national music magazine, The Etude. Dr. J. B. Singer of Brighton, Mich., a student under him, is gathering data.
 Fillmore had six blacksmith shops only 20 years ago. Probably it only has one now.
 Friendship's Rod and Gun Club liberated 250 pheasants for the year to April 1, and plans to increase the number to 300 or 400 in 1934. Some 62 quail and nearly 40 varying hares were also liberated in hunting covers. A vermin hunt will be held, a fine bird dog as first prize, $5 second prize, for the greatest number of enemies to game destroyed.
 Wiseco Creek, the county's best known trout stream, has been posted by property owners along its banks to such an extent that state conservation officials may refuse to stock it in the future. Commissioner Osborne may ask the Legislature for an appropriation to make a start on purchasing lands along it and similar streams to give sportsmen access to streams stocked at state expense.
 Fillmore has two men, E. A. Purdy and Oscar Benjamin, who were canalmen while the Genesee Valley canal was in operation from before the Civil War up to 1878.
 Allegany county Deh-ge-wanus Club girls plan an all-day camp at Camp Shenawana, Friday of this week.
 Obi church had to put in extra seats to accommodate those attending its revival services, a rather new experience in a church in recent years.

The Big Parade

This week-end will witness the greatest parade of the year, one that is staged every Spring in this great Empire State, and not only because of its magnitude but for its spirit of fraternity and heritage of antiquity should receive our homage and special consideration.
 This army, "Knights of Sir Isaac" go to this fray with a glitter in their eye and murder in their hearts—they go forth to fight not foes but friends and their murderous onslaught is dual in its objective.
 This great festival of slaughter has been going on from times antedate to the memory of mankind. All classes in all ages have participated from the mightiest Emperors to the most despised vagabond and in this pursuit all meet on a common level and very often the vagabond wins the D. S. O. of the day.
 The arms and equipment of this restless army is rather non-military in character, but at least in one requisite all are similarly outfitted: a slim piece of metal bent to various shapes, sharp pointed and having a small sliver of the same piece slightly turned back and inward from the main stem and just below the point; the opposite end usually has an eye turned upon it for the convenience of attaching to it a piece of cord, fine wire or various forms of cordage.
 To the most experienced the character of the bend or crook of this piece of metal is of the utmost importance and a slight variation renders it worse than useless, so many shapes have been developed in order to meet the mixed ideas of the fraternity that the novice finds himself perplexed and no matter what his decision may be, the results generally convince him that he has guessed wrong, particularly when he observes some small urchin with a bent pin and a piece of common string is achieving results far beyond his most valiant efforts.
 But enough of this. All yarns that have to do with fish, fishing or of fishermen are glib, exaggerated, deceptive and untruthful—but our offerings of Fishing Tackle is honest, dependable and well adapted to the needs of stream fishing in this locality.
 Rods, Reels, Lines, Leaders, Hooks, Gorgers and Stringers together with the small accessories will be found here in profusion, of

Cup Cakes

So good to eat, so easy to make and so clean to serve or pack in lunch boxes if baked in Parchkraft Baking Cups, also fine for muffins and corn cakes.
 Baked in these cups they stow away and keep fresh much longer.
 Package of 100 cups with recipe booklet only 10c—try one box and you will use them always.

Collapsed

At a recent party the hostess was using card tables for serving her luncheon. Just as her guests began eating one of them folded up and quit—What a mess, what an embarrassment.
 Our offerings in Card Tables fold up, but never at the wrong time. They stand sturdy and strong on four legs, the frames will bear several times their required weight and the tops are reinforced leatherette, real honestly made tables and priced at only $1.29.
 You will find it don't pay to pay less.

That Shaggy Look

Is never present when your razor is fitted with a Blue Gillette Blade. They give you a smooth, clean pleasant shave, and many of them.
 Package of five, 25c; ten for 49c.

Going Camping

With good weather the traveling bug will be active and much of the pleasure depends on your outfit for preparing food on the journey. A good camp cook is a real necessity. Let us show you one that is quick acting, sure fire, uses gasoline for fuel and is low in price.

O'Cedar

A polish with character and reputation. Most home keepers have found it pays to clean and polish with O'Cedar products and now the new line is out, a little better than before.
 O'Cedar produces a hard brilliant dustless finish. Use it on painted and varnished surfaces thruout your home and on your linoleum; it will clean easier and stay bright and clean longer.
 Convenient sized packages, low priced.—Get the O'Cedar habit, it saves times, labor and money.
