Bits of Allegany County News

Alfred, with village streets newly marked with appropriate signs, wants its houses numbered and a directory printed. Pretty good idea in a village where so many strangers come, called there by Allegany county's only university.

Almond's Union church Philathea Class staged a show Tuesday of rare old and modern quilts.

Fillmore has a cat with unusual motherly instincts. Finding a deserted baby cotton tail rabbit in a field near the C. J. Winchup farm she adopted the waif and added it to her numerous litter of little kittens. Too many visitors, attracted by the strange sight, drove Tabby to safer quarters far under the farm barn.

Houghton College commencement exercises began Wednesday and continue thru Monday. At Alfred University the dates are June 8 to 11.

Hume, 20 years ago, suffered a $50,000 fire that destroyed 13 buildings. It started in a small gasoline storage house owned by N. M. Wells, Jr.

Cuba Lake may expect many mosquitoes this summer, says a Bolivar observer of Nature, who declares that the cold season killed most of the bats there. They are an enemy of the mosquito. Usually many are seen about the lake but this season he has observed very few about his cottage on the lake shore.

Bolivar's annual Senior-Junior school banquet is scheduled for June 9th.

Wellsville employees of the Moore Steam Turbine Co., are to be given a wage increase of ten per cent. Allegany county 39 years ago, had 15 public libraries.

Bolivar had three inches of snow at noon Memorial Day, in 1895.

Friendship academy students 39 years ago formed a cadet company of 22 members.

Angelica High School loses its basketball coach, Eugene Guinter, who led the team to a high place last season and into the Western New York championship competition in Rochester. He has been engaged by the Bliss school by whose five Angelica was defeated in Rochester.

Wisney and Hoppock's Corner are to be connected with a three and one-half mile electric transmission line by the Rochester Gas & Electric Corporation.

Cuba's fire department was called out to extinguish three small fires last week. One was in its moving picture theater while a show was in progress and a film ignited. An orderly exit was affected thru the leadership of Town Clerk Ralph M. Wheeler.

Canaseraga village water works will be improved and added to thru approval by the TERA of a project calling for the outlay of $1,249.35 and which will employ 17 persons, two of them skilled, one semi-skilled and 14 unskilled.

Friendship's Chamber of Commerce plans its last dinner meeting of the season, June 12, when Professor Shaw, an amateur magician, will entertain.

Nile's Evangelical church has a new pastor, the Rev. E. M. Blatt, who was given a public reception Tuesday evening.

Cuba had nine consecutive days of rain 40 years ago this time. How could that be brought about in 1934? Clarksville complains that frost two weeks ago injured strawberry blossoms, early corn and peas were damaged, and even wild flowers for Memorial Day were made scarcer than usual.

Motorist Hits Deer

A deer was killed early Wednesday evening on the state highway about a mile east of Andover by a motorist.

Just as an automobile and a truck were about to meet a deer appeared from apparently nowhere and jumped right in front of the car, the car striking the animal and knocked it over against the truck, killing it instantly.

The driver bled the deer and brought it to Andover where they turned it over to Police Officer Harry Kemp, who in turn notified Game Protector Ward Whitney of Wellsville. Whitney came to Andover and took the animal to the Robison Market where Mr. Robison dressed it. It was so badly smashed up by the two machines that only one hind quarter was fit for food, which Game Protector Whitney took with him for disposal as the law provides.

BAKERS' STORE NEWS

Published by Baker Bros. Hardware, Andover, N. Y.

The American people ate 4,000,000,000 pounds more meat in 1933 than in 1932. The soup is thickening.

Cheap Paint

Is a product that fools no one but the people who buy it, and pay for having it brushed on their buildings. Only those with plenty of money can afford its luxury; to the man who must practice economy, exercise judgment and make every dollar buy one hundred cents worth of real value, cheap paint is more of an extravagance than money given away for lottery tickets, because the lottery fan sometimes wins—the cheap paint buyer never!

The saying, often repeated, that doctors do not take their own medicine is a libel more or less on that profession; there are crooks in every line of business, but the great majority are instinctively honest.

Advertising both by air and in print has grown into a colossal mass of prevarication; it is one of our most insidious rackets.

Many of the current publications on news stands today carry full page display of a nationally known maker of paint products who are trying to induce the public to use their paint. Recently they wished to paint a group of buildings comprising one of their large Western New York plants and did they use their own wonderful paint? They did not, but purchased 160 gallons of Benj. Moore's Pure Linseed Oil House Paint for the job.

Now there was no sentiment involved in this transaction, it was a hard-boiled business proposition; they bought Moore's Paint because actual weather tests had proven it was the best paint for their purpose. It is best and most economical for your paint job; buy it with confidence.

Sold in Andover only by Baker Brothers.

Fly Time

This cool dry weather is holding back the spring crop of flies and other winged insects that usually swarm in at this season.

But don't be anxious, there will be plenty later on, it only takes a couple of flies to drive a bald headed man to frenzy and one mosquito can upset the content of a large household.

Prepare your home with an ample supply of spray and fix up the screens. Our stock is adequate to all reasonable demands.

Gas Masks

We suspect that some day the worms and bugs that devour the growths of our yards and gardens will develop a resistance that will protect them against sprays and dry poisons.

But in the meantime you can make most of these pests very uneasy by using Bug Death, the good old safe and sure insecticide.

Bug Death kills all bugs, beetles and worms that work above the ground, is safe to use as the poison content is very low and is cheap enough so it may be used liberally.

Ten cents a pound, three pounds of a quarter. Comes in bulk. Buy as you wish.

Boring Holes

That is moths business and they work at it without allowing any adverse condition to divert them from their job.

You have already or are about to put away the winter woollens; when you bring them out next fall if you find them drilled with holes, it will be just too bad and nobody but yourself to blame.

Be sure to protect stored woollens in cedar chests or moth proofed bags. We furnish you strong bags for ten cents each.

Then, before closing up the container, spray thoroughly with a good insect killing spray. Not all sprays will kill moths, but we offer one that will do it thoroughly and it sells for only 75c per quart. With a bottle of this liquid and a good sprayer used as sense dictates you may lay aside moth worries for the season.

Easy Shaving

With Bay Rum Shaving Cream, a Dr. Warren product.

You shavers who have a tender skin and are troubled with pimples from ingrowing whiskers will be delighted with this preparation. The soap is richly infused with the distilled oil from the West Indian Bayberry, which is possessed of rare soothing and healing qualities.

You will be pleased with the feel of your face and the after effects when you have used this Cream and this special introductory offer is worth your attention.

A liberal tube for 15 cents (25c value) and your money back for the empty tube if it fails to satisfy.

Sincerity amounts to little unless you are sincere about something worth while.
