belief that we see the key to happiness in some fantastic dream of worldly success. If only we might see that true happiness and content lie close at hand in the simple things of life, reverence to God and service to humanity.

SALUTATORY ADDRESS

To those who have enjoyed the privilege and honors now ours, to those who will in the future enjoy them, to the Board of Education, to the faculty, and to our parents and friends, we, the Class of 1934, bring greetings.

On this, our last formal meeting with you, we, as students, wish to convey to you a sense of the gratitude and respect which we feel. You demonstrate your interest by joining us here tonight. But it is we who are really joining you in the greatest school of all—the school of life.

VALEDICTORY ADDRESS

Members of the Board of Education, Faculty, Parents, Classmates and Friends. The time has come when with hearts overflowing with gratitude, but a trifle heavy at the thought of parting, the Class of 1934 must bid you all farewell.

Classmates, it seems but yesterday that we were little tots eager to begin that long quest for knowledge. Part of our hopes are now being realized in tonight's exercises, but already our minds are turning toward the future.

In reality, we are all searching for the same thing—the whole world is searching for the same thing—the key to happiness. Some seek to find it by accumulating immense wealth. Some believe that high position and great power will open the door to happiness.

WHO'S WHO IN THE SENIOR CLASS

Edwin Alderson Very active in sports, the Hi Herald, his studies and is popular with the opposite sex.

Richard Appier A boy who always manages to have a grand time. Indulges in dancing as well as Camels.

Eleanor Baker Very reserved sort of girl, and pleasant to be one's company.

Fay Brown A boy very likely to succeed in whatever he does. Of serious nature yet has a "tinge" of humor.

Wilfred Brown A type of person one does not meet every day. "Bill" is a friend in need, and has a sympathetic feeling for all.

Catherine Coryell Another girl who sees the happy side of life and who is nice to those around her.

Ethel Haynes A girl with high ideals—"man with money or no man 't all," says Ethel. She is bitingly witty—but has a heart of gold.

Herman Ingraham One who perseveres in his work, especially sports. Lots of luck, "Hoim."

Ruth Farwell A girl hard to describe. She's different, well, she's different because she's different.

Robert Joyce Only been with us for a half of the year, but we enjoyed every day with him in our Senior Class.

Mary Monica Lynch A girl who's just plain sweet. She's a cheerful soul, and it's fun to work with her. She's been a wonderful Editor-in-Chief.

Norbert Lynch Is one who strives until he succeeds. Norbert has worked hard all year and has now reached his goal.

Sarah Lobdell She's been so quiet thruout the Senior year, but she's like that—quiet and small and nice.

Evelyn Moland She's known for her neatness and quick wit. She has a pleasant disposition, and a "peach" when you get to know her.

Florence Mulholland Blonde, pretty and neat. Florence is the type you'd love to meet. She is quiet but we often wonder what thoughts wiggle under her pretty curly hair.

Florence Parker Better known as "Parkie." She is a dear girl, and has a "way" with her.

Margaret Powers Our outstanding blonde, with loads and loads of personality and such a sunny smile. Always a helper in difficult cases.

Helen Pope As pleasant and accommodating a girl as ever was. She never talked much in our Senior Class, except to give bank balances, but she was one of our most active members.

Ruth Slocum Our musical girl, who is always in demand and so accommodating.

Elizabeth Snyder A girl who giggles yet finds time to get her Latin down "pat."

Francis Vickers One of our lucky stiffs who has his own car. Francis is so generous and so good to his sister (most boys ain't, Francis.)

Helen Vickers A girl worthy as a leader. Helen sure has worked hard to make our Senior year as interesting as possible.

Mary Walden A very sweet girl who is oh, so quiet.

Bernice Williams One who always has her lessons prepared and learned well, and is a true friend of all.

Ruth Walton Our scholar, very bright, and ever so studious. An inspiration to those seeking good marks.

Florence Walter A "chummy" sort of girl who always sees the brighter side of life.

SUMMARY OF A. H. S. ACTIVITIES

By Wilfred Brown

Once again the walls of A. H. S. will be silenced and another year of school history will become buried deep in their composition.

At this time the Seniors wish to thank the townspeople and parents for their generous co-operation, their patronage and gratitude in everything which we undertook to do.

Supervisor of Music. The orchestra and boys' and girls' glee clubs entertained at the annual indoor fair of the I. O. O. F.

An extraordinary number of enjoyable dances were held in the high school auditorium. The Sophomore-Junior dance was a success in every respect.

A highly profitable and entertaining pancake and waffle supper, followed by a dance was given in the I. O. O. F. Hall by the Senior Class.

The Senior Prom, although not a financial success, was a splendid affair. Early in the year a combination card party, dance and dinner was given by the Seniors.

Because of its unusual activity and the expert management of the president, Helen Vickers, the members of the Senior Class have been able to raise sufficient funds to enable them to spend a carefree week at Silver Lake during the first week in July.

In January, the Hi Herald went into the hands of Mary Monica Lynch, who has fulfilled the requirements of the post admirably, many people of the student body and community having expressed their approval.

The Senior Class will leave Saturday for Silver Lake, where they will spend a week swimming, skating, dancing, eating, sleeping, tanning and other activities.

The Senior Class has been very successful as far as financial means are concerned even tho it is a hard hit time. They have taken in money enough so that they can close their very happy and useful school year by enjoying themselves at the lake for a week.

The class will be chaperoned by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Joyce, Jr., and Miss Mildred Farmer.

THE LAST LAUGH

Mr. Hardy (on hearing a burglar down stairs): "Sh, my dear, this is going to be a battle of brains."

Mrs. Hardy: "Oh, how brave of you to go unarmed."

Florence P.: "What shape is a kiss?"

Don Lynch: "Give me one and I'll call it square."

A traffic cop stopped Miss Powers. She asked indignantly: "What do you want with me?"

"You were going forty miles an hour," answered the cop.

"Forty miles an hour? Why, I haven't been out an hour."

Mary Monica: "Are those hens sitting or setting?"

Ethel Haynes: "All I want to know is, when the cackle, are they laying or lying?"

Mr. Clarke, who saw a little boy trying to reach a door bell, rang it for him and then said: "What now, little man?"

"Run like h—," said the little boy. "That's what I'm going to do."

First debater (Richard Appier): "You're a liar!"

Second debater (Fay Brown): "You're a cheat."

Mrs. Joyce: "Now that the speakers have identified themselves, we will proceed with the debate."

Elizabeth S.: "Did the Indians have fraternities or any other social activities?"

Florence Walter: "Well, er—I've heard of Indian clubs."
