Stars and Stripes Revue To Be Smashing Finish Of Big Radio Comedy

The I. O. O. F. Building Association reports that the cast and choruses and group numbers—in fact, everything, is in readiness for the big production, "The World's All Right," which is to be staged Thursday and Friday, July 26-27 in the Andover Auditorium. This great show is one of the biggest amateur productions ever staged in this town, and everything points to a packed house both nights.
The scene is laid in the broadcasting studio of WAR, whose call letters stand for "World's All Right." The plot revolves around the leading character, Jimmy Waddel. This part is played by Archie Kemp. He and his sweetheart, Jane (Miss Ella Baker), his secretary, are trying to keep the bill collectors away and the program going so that they may sell some advertising on their station before it is placed in the hands of the receivers. They hope to get Mr. Dinkell of Dinkell Pickles, Inc., to buy an hour for $10,000.
When things look the worst, the comedy lead, Joe, the office boy, played by Francis Cable, comes in to rehearse his act. The current in the studio is turned on and he actually broadcasts his number to the world. It is a sensational success. Thousands of telegrams flow in. Dinkell buys the hour for a fabulous sum and Joe is made vice president of the company.
Woven thru this plot are the big spectacular, sensational musical numbers, group numbers and solo parts of the show. The show is unique because instead of the audience listening to a program thru a radio where they cannot see the talent perform, "The World's All Right" brings the entertainers right before their eyes.
Mrs. Harold Hardy is the Tell-Me-A-Story lady. Fifty local children give you a scene that is amusing and clever and will hold appeal for the most sophisticated people.
The next big group is the Sunshine Chorus and Dancing Choruses made up of local high school girls.
A novelty quartette number using an arrangement of the famous old railroad ditty "Casey Jones," and "Oh Mammie Riley," is an outstanding feature.
Next the Hill Billies give "My Blue Ridge Mountain Home" and "They Cut Down the Old Pine Tree." In this number we also have an old-fashioned square dance with a fiddler and pantomime. "Frankie and Johnny" is one of the high spots of comedy.
In direct contrast to this number we find William Lang appearing as Skipper Ericson. He will give a special interpretation of that dramatic number, "I'm Waitin for Ships That Never Come In." He will be assisted by eight girls dressed in sailor costumes.
Including all types of music in this big broadcast it would be of course incomplete without a bit of sacred music. So the next number on the varied program is by a vested choir. This number is very majestic and inspiring.
Following the choir is a grouping and blending of the most popular theme songs from operettas and musical comedies of the last decade. All of this number is given in a special setting with beautiful costumes and unique lighting effects. The semi-classical songs that the world loves are blended with ballads in this number, and Miss Veronica O'Hargan as the Melody Miss of the studio is featured here.
Atty. C. L. Earley, well known in local circles for his ability in public speaking will give a special one-minute talk that is packed full of wit and humor.
The smash hit of the entire production promises to thrill everyone and bring the audience to its feet. This number is called the Stars and Stripes Revue. It opens with a march of local people portraying characters typical of the time of the Revolution down to the present day.
After such a spectacular final, rounding out a show that is well balanced as to music, plot situation, comedy and setting, everyone will realize that the show is just what it

Ladies Enjoy Picnic

A thoroughly enjoyable social afternoon was passed by the members of the Andover Women's Christian Temperance Union and the Philathea class of the Methodist church, Wednesday afternoon at the pleasant home of Mrs. Hervey Thorne on Water street.
Twenty-five enjoyed the fine supper served at 5 o'clock. Tables were placed on the spacious lawn at the rear of the home, where the natural setting, beautiful flowers and shade trees combined in making an ideal place for a picnic luncheon. An additional pleasure of the day was in having as guests, Rev. and Mrs. F. M. Baker, a former resident pastor in Andover, and now at the head of the Good Will Industry at Cleveland, Ohio, where his son, Warren Baker is associated with the work as an assistant to his father and is now in charge of the work in Cleveland during Rev. Baker's absence.
name implies, "The World's All Right."
The seats go on reserve July 25th (Wednesday) at Brundage Drug Store. Don't fail to get your reserved.

Band Concerts

The first open air concert was given by the American Legion band on Main street, Thursday evening last week and was finely rendered and thoroughly enjoyed by a good sized crowd. Altho a heavy shower belated the concert last week for about an hour, the rain was sadly needed, so there was no impatience on the part of either musicians or audience.
The band members, in their natty new uniforms of blue and gold, made a splendid appearance and many complimentary words have been heard for them as well as appreciation of their music.
The public will be glad to know that the concerts will be given each Thursday evening. Come out and enjoy them.

Fair Motorist: "Why, yes, I think so. What is it you wish to know?"

Paint and Painting

The real objective in painting exterior or exposed surfaces is protection against the elements and all uses of decay, the beauty that may result is a side issue governed largely by your own taste and judgment. Many people are color blind, they do not distinguish or visualize color combinations, consequently their unaided efforts produce only a confused mixture of shades that offend every sense of harmony and artistic taste.
Baker Bros. not only sell you paint of unsurpassed quality as to its primary objective (Protection), it will give you the latest and best advice as to harmony in color combination so you may have a job that is correct and satisfying in every particular.
This advisory service is furnished by the Benj. Moore Co. at no extra expense to you or ourselves; they maintain a department in their factory that is conducted by experts in the art of harmony in colors. They are also high class practical painters who use the brush and all the tools of the trade to work out and perfect their work, and when you have followed their counsel you may be assured that your undertaking is beyond any intelligent criticism.
The Moore line now comprises 16 different products, every one developed to correctly meet real needs; so no matter what your painting problem may be, they have the correct answer.
Work with us and the Benjamin Moore Co. for the extreme of painting satisfaction and service, having the feeling of content that associates itself with the assurance of your money well invested.

Broiler Time

Young, tender, milk fed chicks are now offered at very low prices and they are correct for all occasions.
Proper cooking is important if you would serve them at their best and for this purpose nothing quite equals a Dutch Oven. It is the recognized utensil par excellence.
Formerly the price was a deterrent, but a chance purchase allows us to offer a good one as low as 40 cents.

Bugs

Less than the usual swarm of potato bugs appear to have survived the extreme cold of last winter, but plenty enough of the more hardy did get thru and are now busy at their old trick of perpetuating the specie.
Don't let them get another start; hit them while they are down—bug control this year may hold them down for years to come.
Calcium Arsenate is your safe and sure poison. You may use it liberally without fear of damage to crop and it is low in price.
Four pound package of guaranteed full strength, 32c. Five pound package 40c.

Birthdays

Are of most importance to the very young and the very old. To average persons they carry little sentiment from childhood until we have passed enough of them to feel qualified to brag about it.
For the children much happiness may be added to the day simply and at little expense if you have a decorator to dress up the birthday cake.
We offer an all-aluminum Decorator Set with four nozzles and a full set of instructions for 25 cents. No trick to use them and special occasions become more pleasant and lasting memories because of this detail.

The Old Ones

However well your home is screened, an occasional fly, bug or bee will slip thru, and one of these insects may cause plenty of annoyance or rob you of a well-earned afternoon nap.
You may avoid this discomfort by hanging up a few strings of Tanglefoot Fly Ribbon. Mighty good bait for these prowlers and two long strings cost you only a nickel.

Cabinet Hardware

Garment Hangers, Ornamental Hinges, Drawer Pulls, Door Bolts, Base Knobs, Cupboard Door Sets and a large variety of similar items are now coming thru from the factory, each mounted on heavy cardboard, with the screws so attached that they cannot get lost.
No advance in price because of this convenience.

All wild animals refuse to attack a skunk. Another evidence of their intelligence.

Mullen Reunion

The Mullen family reunion was held at Wellsville, Sunday at Island Park. There were about 110 relatives and friends present. The picnic dinner was served at noon, the program being in charge of Mrs. John Mullen of Bennetts.
The following officers were elected for the coming year at the business meeting: President, George Mullen of Addison; vice president, Archie Mullen of Canistota; secretary, Mrs. William O'Bryn of Addison; treasurer, Mrs. Jay Bunt of Andover. The program committee were Mrs. John Mullen of Bennetts, Miss Florence Mullen of Canistota and Miss Florence Baker of Wellsville.
Those in attendance from Andover were Mr. and Mrs. John C. Baker and family, Mr. and Mrs. George McAndrew and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bunt, Mrs. Sarah Clarkson, Mrs. Eliza McAndrew and son, James, Mrs. Mary Cannon and daughter, Mary Catherine, Miss Evelyn Edwards, Mrs. Ed. Walsh and Mrs. E. A. Mullen.

Suffered Stroke

John Kaufman, 73, of Akron, O., who is visiting his brother, Albert Kaufman, suffered a paralytic stroke Sunday at the Kaufman home east of this village. He is gaining nicely under the care of Nurse Mrs. Wm. Rogers.
