Flashlights and Batteries

Every home should own a Flash- ght. No one should drive a car at ight without one. They are handy or camping, for home use at night hen the electric current is off and or quick use when light is needed. e remind you to keep a supply of pare batteries on hand, so you will ot be caught with worn-out batter- es just when you need a flashlight he very most.

Electric Light Bulbs

We carry a first grade line of lectric Light Bulbs. Mazda, Gen- ral Electric. When you buy a lamp f cheap quality, you are buying he most expensive lamp you can et, because a lamp which is only ightly deficient in quality will be reatly lower in its light output. ou buy lamps for the amount of ight which they produce. Cheap amps give so much less light that n the long run they cost much more o operate. Cheap lamps not only ave a short life but they eat elect- ic current like a hungry horse eats oats. So it's not the price of the amp which is important but the amount of current which it con- sumes. General Electric Mazda Lamps give every bit of light that can be obtained from the current hey consume.
In every home there are some empty sockets and burned-out lamps which should be replaced.
We can supply your needs and we urge you to buy first quality Bulbs.

Daily Household Help

Have you given the kitchen linoleum its coat of wax or linoleum varnish this season? Now is a good time to do it as the floor gets prett- y hard service with all the ins and outs of the Fall rainy season.

So-Lo Saves Money

So-Lo not only mends soles on heels very economically, but it will also mend almost anything. Just take one cent's worth. It is great for fixing cuts in tires, hot water bottles, rubber hose, boots, auto tops, galoshes, raincoats and many other articles too numerous to mention. Anyone can apply So-Lo. Only an old kitchen knife is needed. Just spread on. Dries tough over- night and stays on. Actually out- wears ordinary leather and will keep indefinitely in the can.

F. L. Hann has purchased the old heading mill and is taking it down. Over 155 new students have en- rolled as freshmen in Alfred Uni- versity this fall.
The grape crop is reported only half of an average yield in the Lake Keuka fruit belt, and will open at $150 a ton on the market.
Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jones have moved from Wellsville into the up- stairs apartment of Mrs. DeEtta Bullard on Center street.

Voorhees Hill Residents Hold Annual Reunion

One hundred and twenty persons gathered Sunday, Sept. 2nd at the Pine Grove picnic grounds to enjoy the day together. It was the an- nual reunion of former teachers and residents in the Voorhees Hill school district.

After a bountiful lunch, the presi- dent, Victor Perkins, called a brief business meeting at which the fol- lowing officers were elected for the coming year:
H. B. Adams, president.

Muriel E. Church, secretary and treasurer.
There were contests for young and old and the usual softball game between the married and single men, won by the latter.

L. S. Bassett of Independence en- tertained in his own inimitable way with his "one man band" music.

Mrs. Alice Livermore of Fulmer Valley, the oldest person present, was presented with a beautiful bou- quet of gladioli from the gardens of R. B. Church.

Among the guests was Lou W. Voorhees of Shinglehouse, Pa., a son of the old settler, Robert Voor- hees, who settled on the farm now occupied by James Lewis and for whom this community was named.

Other guests were present from Olean, Albany, Elmira, Belmont, Petrolia, Hornell, Richburg, Shingle- house, Orlando, Fla., and neighbor- ing towns.

Supt. Pope Entertains

Superintendent W. G. Pope was host to the school executives of his district at I. O. O. F. Hall, Saturday evening. A fine banquet was served by the ladies of the Baptist church, which was followed by an interesting program.

Dr. A. D. Miller, of the State Educational Department, was the principal speaker of the evening. Miss Margaret Powers gave a read- ing; Oliver Kemp, accompanied by Miss Minnie Clair, played several violin selections. The meeting closed with a round table discussion con- ducted by Mr. Pope.

Eighty-three school executives of the fifth district were present from Alfred, Independence, Wellsville, Willing, Ward and Andover.

Bits of Allegany County News
