Farmer Wants to Not-Raise Hogs

Victor Hoagland brought us the following apt story taken from the Cody, Wyoming, Enterprise:

The statistical department of a Boston bond house is in receipt of the following letter from a Longmeadow, Mass., resident, which brings up the fascinating subject of the big profit that can be made from not raising hogs:

"Dear Sirs:—

"Mr. Blank at Northampton has a friend who received a government check for $1,000 this year for not raising hogs. So Blank now proposes to get a farm and go into the business of not raising hogs; in fact, not raising hogs appeals to him very strongly.

"Of course, he will need a hired man, and that is where I come in. I write you as to your opinion of the best kind of farm not to raise hogs on, the best strain of hogs not to raise, and how best to keep an inventory of the hogs you are not raising. Also, do you think capital could be provided by issuance of a non-hog-raising gold bond?

"His friend who got the thousand dollars got it for not raising 500 hogs; now we figure we might easily not raise 1,500 or even 2,000 hogs, so you see the possible profits are only limited by the number of hogs we do not raise.

"(Signed) R. N. F. F."
