BASKETBALL

Basketball is a game played by two teams of either five boys or six girls. Its essential characteristic is the effort of each of the teams to pass the ball thru a hoop or goal at the end of the court behind the opposing team.

The game of basketball was invented in 1891 by James Naismith, who was at that time an instructor in a Y.M.C.A. college at Springfield, Mass. It was the result of an attempt to invent a game that would fill the same place during the winter season that football and baseball fill in autumn and summer. The first ball used was about half the size of the ball used today.

Basketball is a team game, demanding a high degree of accuracy judgment, individual skill, initiative and self-control, and a spirit of co-operation. It demands that each player be skilled in all phases of the game, thus developing all-around ability. Since the object of the game is to have the players of one team put the ball into their own basket and to prevent the opponent from putting it into the other basket, it is necessary for one player to pass the ball to another, in order to keep possession of it until a favorable opportunity to make a goal occurs. This requires co-operation and plenty of team work. You quite often find an individual who tries to play the whole game alone thus making very foolish plays.

All games are divided into attack and defense. In basketball, the offense is the most important. As long as the players on one team are able to retain the ball, it is impossible for the other team to score. It is the object of the offense to put the ball in their own basket and to play the ball in such a way that it may be caught from the players of the opposite team. The players must, at all times, throw the ball to a person who has managed to get away from his guard or who is in a good position to make a goal. The players must keep as far as possible from opponents.

No matter how good a game either team plays, there is always one of them who must be the loser of the game. Therefore, every team must be a good loser.

Basketball is becoming more important in schools every year. It is not only for the pleasure of the students, but also to promote good sportsmanship.

READ BOOKS!

Ride the Book Trail to Knowledge and Adventure!—And what a grand ride can be had. As wandering reporter, I've been snooping around to see what I could see that would mean both knowledge and adventure. I found it!

New books have come to the school library. There are all kinds—for all kinds of people with all kinds of likes. For those who study history there is the photographic history, "The First World War." The number of new books of fiction has greatly increased. Some of the new books to be placed on the shelves shortly are:

"Against the Jungle"—the story of an American scientist lost in the jungle.

"Ship Without a Crew"—concerning a brig discovered adrift and deserted.

"Adventures of Buffalo Bill" and "Bob Flame, Ranger." Many more are included in this list of new books for boys.

The girls have not been forgotten: "Mountain Girl Comes Home," "Beatrice, the Brave," "A Bend in the Road," and "Lady of the Manor," are a few of the titles secured for them. By the way, have you read "Memo Go Fishing?" That's a good one. I liked the "Short Story Anthology" too.

During the course of my wanderings I discovered a great many posters, all of them emphasizing the joy one gets when he follows the book trail.

Miss Kelley's class supplied two posters for the study hall and several for her room. The posters in A. H. S. library and study hall were contributed by Miss Clifford's English I. class. The English IV. people certainly worked on their posters, and there are a great many in Room C which are splendid.

Did you ever stop to think how much books can mean to you? If you're tired, they can make you forget—when you're sad, they can make you happy. Books fill in the gaps to make a joyous existence. Ride the Book Trail to Knowledge and Adventure! You'll never forget it!

The sixth grade is studying the Pilgrims this week, bringing all the information and posters they can find concerning them.

The third grade will build a Pilgrim house next week.

Mrs. Francis Vickers and Miss Helen Vickers visited various classes in Andover High School last Thursday afternoon.

ALFRED GLEE CLUB PRESENTS PROGRAM

The Men's Glee Club of Alfred University presented a program Friday, Nov. 9. Mr. Bretch introduced Dr. J. Wesley Miller, who in an interesting manner, told something about Alfred University and some of its advantages. He then introduced Prof. Ray Wingate, music director, who in turn introduced the Glee Club.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the program. Many of the Glee Club members were applauded again and again, and everyone seemed loath to have the program end.

An invitation has been extended to the public and Mr. Bretch expressed his pleasure at seeing so many present.

The program was as follows:
A group of college songs, Glee Club
Hunting Song ----- Glee Club
Two Cello Solos ----- Weston Drake
Syracuse
A Medley ----- Male Quartette
composed of Auggles, Drake, Brewster and Howe.

Two readings imitating:
Dean Conroe—"Don't You Know,"
"Moo Cow Moo," ----- Bob Howe
Mt. Morris

Water Boy ----- Glee Club
Home on the Range,
There's a Tavern in Town,
Male Quartette

Several piano solos, including:
"Cocktails for Two,"
"Blow Ill Wind,"
"Love in Bloom" ----- Bill Mason
"Old Man River" ----- Glee Club
Nestled Away Mid the Empire
State Hills, or Their Alma Mater,
Glee Club

ANDOVER CANCELS LAST GAME OF SEASON

Due to injuries which made it impossible for most of the regulars to play, Andover cancelled its last football game of the season with Portville, scheduled to be played Saturday, Nov. 10.

This ended a rather unsuccessful season for Andover High. Altho they did not score a point, all of the teams except Cuba were out of Andover's class, coming from much larger schools.

At the beginning of the season only about five veterans reported and these, with a number of new men, composed the team. Most of these players will be back next year so it is felt that the experience gained this year, even in defeat, will help the 1935 team very much. So we cannot say that the 1934 season was really a failure because the experience gained is of far more value. Out of the men who played this year only Brewster, Briggs and Brundage cannot play next year.

Summary of season:
Andover 0 Bolivar 12
Andover 0 Dansville 27
Andover 0 Cuba 6
Andover 0 Canisteo 13
Andover 0 Wellsville 20
Andover 0 Allegany 22

GIRLS' HI-Y MEETING

Dorothy Nobles, president of the Hi-Y, opened the meeting of the club at her home Tuesday evening. During the meeting the suggestions given by the Wellsville headquarters were read. Each member told the name of her favorite book and told why she liked it. It was suggested that plans be made for a Thanksgiving party. The next meeting of the members will be held at the home of Marian Lever on Dyke street. All members are urged to be present at the meetings.

IMPROVEMENTS IN A. H. S.

The girls' lunch room and hallway in the basement has been painted gray. This brightens the rooms considerably as it makes them much lighter. If they can be kept in their present condition they will prove to be a decided improvement in the appearance of the building.

A cupboard is also being constructed in the hall on the first floor in the grade part. It will consist of four compartments in which the grade teachers may keep supplies. A paper cutter will also be available there to do away with the necessity of traveling upstairs for it. Each teacher will have a key to the compartments. This will make it much more convenient for the lower grade pupils and teachers.

THE SPOTLIGHT !!

Howdy folks! How're you doin'? after our nice vacation. Oh, yes, I'm fine, thank you. Did you have a good time at the Senior dance? I did.

Wow! Did those college boys rush the Senior Class President that night? How far ahead are you dated up Alyse?

There surely was a large crowd there, which meant a nice profit for the Seniors.

Looks as tho the "Jimmy Grays" are getting rather sure of us—coming without their white coats that way.

Basketball is all the rage now. We start practicing this week. The schedule will soon be made out. Hurrah!!!

What's this I hear about the paper being stale? If it's so stale, how about coming out and giving us some good suggestions? Don't you really think I'm better than that ole Spy? If you don't think so, I'm going to be angry.

Did you know that we are having an Assembly Friday. The eighth grade is putting it on, so it's sure to be good.

The report cards came out Tuesday. Here's hoping they were better than last time.

Who were the nice little boys who had to stay for Mr. McGee last Friday night? Guess what—he set them to work sweeping the gym floor. That's right, keep it up.

Well, see you next week.

THE SPOTLIGHT.

EIGHTH GRADE PRESENTS ASSEMBLY

The Eighth Grade will present an assembly program Friday morning, Nov. 16, at 9 o'clock. The program will feature Book Week, which is a national event throughout the schools. There will be several plays presented that will be particularly fitting for this program.

The public is invited to attend this program, which promises to be very interesting.

THE SPOTLIGHT !!

"Joe, I'm afraid I'll not see you in Heaven," said Mr. McAndrew.

"Why, what have you been doing now, pop?" replied Joe McAndrew.

SENIOR DANCE HELD

Friday night, Nov. 9th, at the High School Gym, the dance held by the Seniors was most successful, according to reports from the class officers. About 130 people attended this dance and around $35 was taken in, which netted a profit of about $15.

The gym was decorated in honor of Armistice Day. Flags and red, white and blue crepe paper and bunting were fixed attractively about the room.

There were wicker sets for spectators and cards for those who did not wish to dance. The chaperones were Mrs. Ella McAndrew, Mrs. Katherine Lynch, Miss Trenkle and Mr. Bretch.

The Seniors wish to thank the American Legion, Joyce Hotel and all others who helped them make the dance a success.

The Seniors are contemplating a Thanksgiving dance, of which further notice will be given later.

FIFTH EXCUSED LIST IS ANNOUNCED

The fifth excused list for the two weeks of November 12-26 has been announced by Principal Bretch.

Those pupils having an average of 80% or more are:
Post Graduates—Norbert Lynch.
Seniors—Marian Nobles, Jack Regan.
Juniors—Veronica O'Hargan, Rita Burns, Beatrice Sly, Dorothy Nobles.

Sophomores—Hilda Clarke*, Maxine Crandall, Bruce McGill, Orville Mesler, Jean Millsaugh, Susan O'Donnell, Edith Potter.
Freshmen—Charles Burgett, Doris Honegger*, George Joyce.

Eighth Grade—Barbara Bassett*, Mary Teresa Burns, Josephine Butler, Charlotte Coryell, Leo Nobles.
Seventh Grade—Carol Walton.
*Pupils whose names have appeared on the five excused lists.

GUESS WHO?

This girl is good looking and well liked. She is a brunette and wears her hair of medium length curled up at the ends. She has bright eyes and often wears red, which is very becoming to her. She is a good sport, a basketball player and takes part in other school activities. The first period in the morning she has a favorite seat. Now rack your brains so that I won't have to tell you where she is in high school. Answer to last week's Guess Who Milton Briggs.

FACULTY FACTS

Mr. Host attended the Clarkson-St. Lawrence football game at Canton and Mr. McGee attended the Syracuse-Michigan State game at Syracuse Saturday.

Miss Farmer attended the Theta Nu pledge dance at Alfred, Saturday.

Miss Kelley attended the student government dance at Genesee—and also spent the week-end in Rochester.

Mr. Bretch passed Armistice Day in Elmira Heights.

Mrs. Alvard passed the week-end in Cleveland.

Mrs. Schwarzenbach entertained Mr. and Mrs. Christiana over the week-end.

Miss Trenkle, Miss Russ, Miss McLaughlin and Miss Beeman spent the week-end at their homes.

HUMOR

C. Dolan: "I haven't slept at all for the last four days."
I. M. Howland: "How do you manage to stand it?"
C. Dolan: "I sleep nights."

Beatrice Kruger went into a grocery store and purchased a ten-cent loaf of bread. When she received her purchase, she remarked: "Why, this is rather small for ten cents."
The Baker replied: "Never mind, you won't have so much to carry."

Bea. Kruger laid down a nickel and said: "Here's five cents; you won't have so much to count."

O. Mesler: "I saw a horse running away today, and a little dog sitting on his tail."
Papa: "Why, that's impossible!"
O. M.: "Why is it impossible? The horse was running down the street and the little dog was sitting on his own tail."

4-H CLUB MEETS

A 4-H Club meeting was held in Andover High School, Nov. 5th at 3:30 p. m. The meeting was called to order by Lou L. Burton, the county 4-H leader. He suggested appointing a chairman for the election of officers. John Cannon was appointed. The following officers were elected:

John Cannon, president
Norbert Lynch, vice president.
Howard McAndrew, secretary.
Prin. G. E. Bretch, local leader.

It was decided to have a meeting every first Wednesday in the month. During the first meeting the discussion will concern selecting of potatoes and the prevention of injuries and diseases to them.

WHAT MRS. L.'S LIGHTING BILL REALLY SAYS:

"Electricity is the biggest bargain you buy"

MRS. L.'s "lighting bill" averaged $3 a month last year. This was a few cents a day more than she paid five years ago, but she uses almost twice as much electricity. See all the work it does for her!

- Lights 6 room house
- Makes the toast
- Runs the radio
- Makes the coffee
- Cleans rugs, floors
- Does weekly washing
- Mixes and beats foods
- Runs electric clock.

What a bargain for so much convenience! But that's because the cost of electricity here has come down. And it's always true that the more electricity you use, the bigger bargain it becomes.
