Around Our House

PREPARE FOR CHRISTMAS

Christmas presents that are made at home need not be expensive nor take much time from each day's work or play, says the New York State college of home economics.

Barber's linen, which is a heavy rough linen, makes attractive table mats and luncheon sets when decorated only with Italian hemstitching of the same color thread or with thread of contrasting colors. Handkerchief linen of various shades of the rainbow is attractive in fringed finger tip towels and cocktail napkins. Gay gingham sets are especially attractive as breakfast sets, made with fringed edges or bound with bias bindings to match one of the colors in the gingham.

To make two-toned linen luncheon sets, overcast the two pieces of contrasting linens together about one-half inch from the edge, and then fringe the material up to the line of sewing. Cross-stitching looks well on rolled edges of the material and a line of featherstitching is pleasing in color on the linen luncheon sets.

The fruit shelf also offers possibilities for gifts. Jars of the nicest jams and jellies, and even canned fruit, wrapped in gay Christmas paper and tied with a big bow, make delicious gifts to go under the Christmas tree. These appeal especially to friends or relatives who cannot make such things for themselves, but who enjoy the taste of home-made jams and jellies with their breakfast toast.

Food Market Advice

Veal Now Attractively Priced
Veal has held at a consistently high price for several months, but is again in the reasonable class. Veal chops, cutlet or roast should be a welcome addition to the menu. Beef, pork and lamb are all somewhat higher. Loins of pork, however, will be an attractive week-end feature. Meat of any kind is never more appreciated than after an orgy of turkey and other holiday fare. A gradual seasonal decline in the price of eggs is looked for as they become more plentiful, but no sharp decline is expected.

Green Beans Again Plentiful
After weeks of high prices, green beans are again plentiful and attractively priced. Since one pound will serve from four to six persons, it is a truly economical vegetable. Among recent arrivals are French artichokes from California, Cuban okra, and mustard greens, yams, chicory, radishes and green onions grown in the Carolinas. Most of the spinach in market comes from Virginia but many states are contributing to the supply. Florida is shipping most of the tomatoes, Boston lettuce and romaine in market. All of these are reasonable in price—including artichokes and okra, which are usually fairly high.

Citrus Fruits Rule the Market
Citrus fruits are outstanding values at present. Bag oranges, grapefruit and tangerines are cheap because of an unusually large crop. Melons, with the exception of casabas, are practically off the market. Emperor grapes are reasonable. Spanish almerias are arriving but their quality is still none too good. Cranberries are scarce and fairly high. Comice and Bose pears are moderately priced. Comice pears are very soft, sweet and juicy, while the Bose are noticeably crisp and sweet, but not juicy. Both are attractive to look at.

Some apples, such as Greening, Stayman Winesap and York, are grown for general cooking purposes, Rome beauties for baking, and McIntosh for both cooking and eating raw; while others, such as Jonathans, Spitz and Delicious, principally grown in the far West, are designed wholly for eating purposes. All of these are reasonable and moderate in cost.

Fish Continues Abundant
Large catches of fish, both salt and fresh water fish are being landed, which results in moderate prices on this food. Pollock is running and according to reports the catch is ten times as great as in other years. This white-meat fish is sold in steaks or filleted.

Below is a menu made up of foods which are plentiful and moderate in cost:

- Tomato Juice Cocktail
- Roast Pork or Veal
- Spinach with Onions
- Apple Sauce
- Bread and Butter
- Orange Tapioca Cream
- Coffee

WATCH YOUR KIDNEYS!

Be Sure They Properly Cleanse the Blood

YOUR kidneys are constantly filtering impurities from the blood stream. But kidneys get functionally disturbed—lag in their work—fail to remove the poisonous body wastes.

Then you may suffer nagging backache, attacks of dizziness, burning, scanty or too frequent urination, getting up at night, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains; feel "all worn out."

Don't delay! For the quicker you get rid of these poisons, the better your chances of good health. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's are for the kidneys only. They tend to promote normal functioning of the kidneys; should help them pass off the irritating poisons. Doan's are recommended by users the country over. Get them from any druggist.
