SMITH MILLIONS

WERE IN BONDS

Aged Angelica Woman Possessed Many Millions Invested in War-Time Securities.

Clara A. H. Smith, widow of Frank Sullivan Smith of Angelica, who died March 15, 1934, left $3,482,535 to the American Red Cross and several hundred thousand dollars to other public institutions in New York State, particularly in Allegany county, according to a transfer tax appraisal filed late last week.

The bulk of the net estate, which was valued at $4,498,655, was in U. S. Liberty bonds. The total charitable and public bequests amounted to $3,773,694.

Among these was a gift to Allegany county of property at Angelica, known as Sunnycroft, to be used as a shelter for homeless children until proper homes are found for them and a legacy of $30,000 to maintain the home.

Relative to the above mentioned gift to the county, the Board of Supervisors voted not to carry out the wishes of the donor as regarded the gift of the Smith home, believing that the expense devolving upon the county too great to be practical, at the present time at least. As a result of this decision the property is now for sale. The $30,000 maintenance fund will revert to the state as a result.

Another very munificent gift, previous to her death, by this grand old lady, was $50,000 to the village of Rushford, the scene of her birth, for the purpose of making possible a modern institution of learning for those parts. It is understood that since the gift several months ago those interested have gone forward with the proposition and now, not only have secured a PWA grant of some $63,000, but have also centralized the school districts thereabouts, thus availing themselves of generous state aid, which, combined, will make possible a school plant for that community which will equal any in Western New York.—Belmont Dispatch.

SEEDS

TIMOTHY and CLOVER

It is Again Time to Begin Thinking About the Seeding season!

Last summer was ideal to produce an abundant crop of fine Timothy Seed and so this year you will again be able to buy this Seed at the right price.

I began shopping early and am satisfied that the quality and price that I have to offer will be hard to match.

Orders are being booked at $2.25 for Timothy carrying a purity of 99.75 or better with a good germination test and Clovers at a correspondingly low price.

Come in and let us figure on your wants.

If the price goes up you are protected and if it goes down we reduce our prices accordingly.

You have everything to gain and nothing to lose by placing your order early.
