Plumb Hatchets

Plumb Hatchets are drop forged from one solid piece of Plumb special analyses steel. Fine in grain, harder, tougher, this steel takes a hard keen edge. No Plumb Hatchet is made with a soft steel body and a cutting edge of hard steel, welded on. You can grind and grind a Plumb Hatchet and still have hard cutting steel on the edge.

"Hang" in a Hatchet has to do with the relation of blade to handle, as well as the proportions of the head and the manner in which the weight is distributed. If a Hatchet is not properly hung, you cannot expect to do accurate work. This relation of blade to handle varies in different types of Hatchets. There is a standard hang for every Plumb model and every tool is checked before leaving the factory. The handle of the Plumb Hatchet is shaped to conform to the natural close of the fingers—not the tight gripping which tires and cramps the hand. Each straight grain young hickory handle must be able to stand a strength test of a 400-pound weight dropped upon the neck. The Plumb Hatchet is the only one which gives an easy positive method of retightening the handle when it loosens.

MACKENZIE IS A BUSY ASSEMBLYMAN

Allegany County's Representative Assigned to Four Committees. Has Introduced One Bill.

Albany, Jan. 15 (Special)—Allegany county's newly elected Assemblyman, William H. MacKenzie of Belmont, already is taking a prominent part in legislative matters and affairs, adapting himself to the new position most readily, according to several veteran members.

Altho the assembly has been in session but a little more than two weeks, MacKenzie has presented one bill, which this week goes up for a second reading, and has been appointed to membership on four important committees. The bill he sponsors is one of vital importance, especially to Allegany county.

If, after the third reading, MacKenzie's first legislation passes the house, it will go to the Senate for action and thence to Governor Lehman, whose affirmative signature would make it a statute, similar in effect to one already permitting the state to do exactly that which MacKenzie's bill seeks for counties.

The bill, if enacted into law, will permit the supervisors in counties throughout New York State, to lease properties for the purpose of oil and gas drilling. This, it is pointed out, would bring additional revenues to the county. The state now has a law which allows the state to lease such state properties for this purpose.

The four committees to which Mr. MacKenzie was appointed are those on Banks, Public Printing, Civil Service and Social Welfare. As vice-president of the Belmont National Bank, officials here pointed out that Mr. MacKenzie's membership on the committee on banks should be of extreme value, because of his close association with banking problems.
