

The Hi Herald

VOL. 5.

ANDOVER, N. Y., FEB. 6, 1936.

NO. 20

THE HI HERALD

Published by Andover High School
Printed by the Andover News

Editor-in-Chief
BEATRICE SLY
Faculty Advisor
MISS MARY L. DAY

EDITORIAL

BE THERE!

As a member of the Andover High School basketball team, I am appealing to the basketball fans of Andover to turn out and give the home team their support Friday night by going to Angelica.

This year the high school basketball team, under the guidance of Mr. McGee, seems to be about the best team that the school has put out. Up to date we have won six out of seven basketball games in our league and five straight non-league games.

Friday night the Andover High School basketball team will journey to Angelica to play the game which will decide the championship of the league. Angelica won the first game played with Andover on Andover's court by a close score, 28 to 25.

Why don't some of you basketball fans get into your car and journey to Angelica? Take a car full. It isn't very far and it will not break your pocketbook. You will see an interesting and exciting game and will find out who the champions of the league will be. I hope to see many of you fans there—all yelling for Andover.

—Edwin Kemp

—A-H-S—

EDITORIAL

COURTESY

To be courteous one must be polite and considerate of others. The school is a very good place to practice this as it is the place where pupils go to learn what they can, and most of them do not like to be disturbed. If a teacher has to speak to a certain pupil the rest of the room all stop working to see what is going on, but if there is no need for the teacher to speak to anyone, the pupils keep on working. The person who likes to make disturbances should take this fact into consideration and be as quiet as possible, even though he has his work all done; others are studying all the time.

How much better it is to have a quiet classroom than to have many people talking all the time. More work can be accomplished and the strain on ears and nerves of both teachers and pupils is much less.

Often a public gathering where you will have someone commenting on the speaker or the performance, which is liable to annoy the persons nearby, so that they will not get the whole benefit of the program.

I think of the rest before making a disturbance and act the way you would want others to act if you desired quiet.

—A-H-S—

EDITORIAL

CHEATING YOURSELF

Students of Andover High School do you know that you are cheating yourself every day? You may not think of this until you concentrate on the subject.

When you sit in the study hall or some other class room, gazing out the window, doing nothing in particular, you may think that you are putting something over on the teachers, but why think this, the teacher has nothing to lose if you don't get your lessons prepared! You are just cheating yourself out of that knowledge which otherwise you might secure by just working a bit harder.

Let us all remember this the last semester and surprise the faculty by raising our marks appreciably.

—Raymond Briggs

—A-H-S—

GUIDE POST

Friday—3:30 p. m., Girls' Glee Club; 5:30, Boys leave for Angelica.
Monday—3:30 p. m., Orchestra.
Tuesday—8:30 a. m., Library Council; 3:30 p. m., Boys' chorus.
Wednesday—3:30 p. m., Girls' Glee Club.
Thursday—3:30 p. m., Orchestra.
Friday—8:20 a. m., Hi Herald; 8:30 p. m., Girls' Glee Club; 7 p. m., basketball, Alfred Girls vs. Andover girls; 8:20 p. m., Fillmore boys vs. Andover boys.

ANDOVER LEADS IN BASKETBALL "B" LEAGUE

The standings of the Allegany County High School Basketball League should be of particular interest to local fans, for they show the purple and white at the top of the list. Altho Angelica has lost but one league game, Andover has won two more to take first position. The game at Angelica Friday night will go a long way toward determining the county champion as well as the Class B winner. The county championship is supposed to rest between the A and B teams and both A teams have already met defeat at the hands of the B class teams. Bolivar has lost to Andover, Belmont and Angelica, while Wellsville has been defeated by Cuba and Angelica.

Andover is the only team in the county which has lost but one game. Thus, the records show that if Andover wins on Friday at Angelica there is a good chance of winning the county championship as well as the B class title.

Standings for B Class schools:

	Won	Lost
Andover	6	1
Angelica	4	1
Friendship	4	3
Belmont	2	3
Cuba	2	4
Fillmore	0	6

EXCUSED LIST

The following is a list of those pupils who have had a mark of 80 or above in each of their subjects for the past two weeks:

Seventh Grade—Jeanne Backus, Betty Jo Ludden, Kathleen Howland, Nancy Jane Snyder.
Eighth Grade—Letha Callaghan, Richard Clair, Vivian Connor, Pearl Goodridge, Betty Greene, Thomas O'Hargan, Robert Perry, Carol Walton.

Freshmen—Ida Claire, Charlotte Coryell, Louis Fulkerson, Coratha Mead, Leo Nobles.
Sophomores—Josephine Baker, Katherine Barber, Gerald Easton, Doris Honegger.

Junior—Hilda Clarke, Maxine Crandall, Orville Mesler, Jean Millsbaugh.
Seniors—Roberta Church, Beatrice Sly, Marjorie Nevel, Veronica O'Hargan, Vivian Smith, Mary Spicer, Dorothy Nobles.

Post Graduates—Gertrude Dean, James Lynch.

GRADE HONOR ROLLS ARE ANNOUNCED

The following pupils have earned places on the grade Honor Rolls for the fourth marking period just ended:

First Grade

First Honors—Patricia Ludden, Dorothy Mead, Patricia O'Hargan, Jean Stevens.

Second Grade

First Honors—Virginia Loring, Norma Steadman.

Second Honors—Donald Baker, Donald Burger, Victor Clark, Dorothy Covur, William Dougherty, Ruth Hardy, John Horan, Barbara Lehman, Lois Mattison, Janice Walton.

Third Grade

First Honors—Florence Dodge, Wilma Goodrich, Jean Halsey, Clara Hann, Craig Snyder, Richard Steadman.

Second Honors—Barbara Childs, Kenneth Howland, Susan McAndrew, Donald Ordiway, Aletha Perry, Marjorie Vars, Joseph Yannie.

Fourth Grade

First Honors—Kenneth Cook, Betty Jean Masters, Charles Hall, John Richardson.

Second Honors—Mary Cannon, Leona Clark, Paul Kilbane, Wesley Lehman, Anne McDonough, Dewey Northrup, Betty Louise Rogers, Robert Sanders, Kenneth Williams.

Fifth Grade

First Honors—Barbara Jones, Reta Nottingham, Elaine Pope.

Second Honors—June Glover, Doris Meade.

Sixth Grade

First Honors—Anna Cooper, Wanda Dolan, Audrey Glover, Victor Oakes.

Second Honors—John Dean, Jean Rogers, Marion Steadman.

Seventh Grade

First Honors—Anna Hardy, Betty Jo Ludden, Nancy Jane Snyder.

Second Honors—Jeanne Backus, Kathleen Howland, Mary Mesler, Eleanor Northrup.

Eighth Grade

First Honors—Carol Walton.

Second Honors—Jessie Burger.

ANDOVER BARELY NOSES OUT BELMONT

The Andover High School basketball team showed a decided reversal of form from previous games, as they barely nosed out Belmont on the local court last Friday, Jan. 31, by a 33-32 score. The Belmont team, which Andover had previously defeated 30-14 on their own court, showed a world of improvement and played a nice brand of ball. Lacking some of the ability of the locals, they made up for it by a fighting spirit and speedy ball-handling.

In contrast to the invaders, Andover showed a complete lack of spirit and speed. Bad passes by Alderson and Kemp, fumbles by Briggs and Cannon, prolonged holding of the ball by Fulkerson and Lynch and missed baskets by McGill, all contributed to a faulty offense. On defense the glaring weakness was the inability of the locals to match the speed of the Belmont passers. Often the defensive men were caught flat-footed as the ball sped by them.

The redeeming feature of the game were Fulkerson's high scoring exhibition and Briggs' three consecutive set-shots in the second half. Kemp played a good defensive game. For Belmont, George and Hall were high scorers with Pierson turning in a nice floor game.

In the preliminary contest the Andover second team avenged an earlier defeat by downing the Belmont reserves 15 to 10 as "Tish" Burdick dropped in seven points.

Box score of main game:

	Andover	Belmont
McGill, f	1	1
Fulkerson, f	8	4
Lynch, c	0	0
Cannon, c	0	0
Briggs, g	4	2
Kemp, g	2	10
Alderson, g	0	0
Totals	13	7

HIGH SCHOOL HONOR ROLLS POSTED

Nineteen pupils earned places on the fourth period Honor Rolls, according to lists posted in the home rooms by Principal Glenn E. Bretsch. These Honor Rolls are for the fourth marking period only and do not take into consideration the results attained on the mid-year examinations.

The honor rolls are as follows:

First Honors

Veronica O'Hargan, Dorothy Nobles, Marjorie Nevel, Hilda Clarke, Orville Mesler, Jean Millsbaugh, Doris Honegger, Charlotte Coryell, Leo Nobles.

Second Honors

Roberta Church, Beatrice Sly, Maxine Crandall, Charles Burgett, Katherine Barber, Josephine Baker, Louis Fulkerson, Ida Claire, Coratha Mead, Clyde Briggs.

ANSWER TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLE

Across
1—Burgett; 6—de; 8—Anna; 9—A; 10—Add; 12—la; 13—Vars; 14—O. E.; Olive Earley; 15—O. M.; Orville Mesler; 16—Tina; 17—Wahl; 18—Janson; 19—Antan; 20—Nar; 21—Ha; 22—L. D. Louis Dodge; 24—Gee; 26—Leo; 27—Easton; 30—Rian; 32—No; 33—Aorta; 35—Ed; 37—O. K.; 38—Urr; 39—Alderson; 40—Sod.

Down

1—Baldwin; 2—Una; 3—Regan, Nevel; 4—Gavel; 5—Taro; 6—Davis; 7—Ed; 11—Dean; 14—O'Hargan; 16—Tnn; 19—Abet; 23—Donald; 25—Eso (Esso); 26—Liars; 28—Oaks; 29—No; 30—Rtr; 31—Bea; 34—Run; 36 D. L. Donald Lynch; 37—Or.

GUESS WHO?

This boy is found in the Sophomore homeroom. He is short and has curly hair. You all know him because of his "gift of gab," and his popularity around the girls, whom he is always teasing. He is at present known for his famous "notes," which he seems to have little success in writing.

Answer to last week's Guess Who—Charles Spicer.

MISS MARY LOU DAY

Miss Mary Lou Day was a Sunday dinner guest of her mother, Mrs. C. L. Day of Little Genesee.

Lawrence Host was a week-end guest of William McGee at Warsaw.

Both Mr. McGee and Mr. Host had the misfortune of freezing their ears while changing a tire.

Miss Ruth Baker was a week-end guest of Miss Ruby Jordan at Littleton.

PRINCE

Pr. Jean Millsbaugh

Chapter II—Prince's Astounding Discovery

While the tourists, found by Bing, were enjoying with feasting, laughter and song their newly found safety in the lonely monastery in the Alps, what of "Prince"? Let's leave the monastery, filled with loud shouts of laughter and an all-around good cheer and follow Prince, our hero:

Thru the ever-drifting snow, over huge cracks and crevices, while he stops every once in a while and stands as the listening for a cry of "Help" coming from a distance, we find Prince. He marches wearily on thru the steadily-increasing snow and the rising wind, his fur glistening in the dark, covered with a heavy coating of ice and snow. Prince gets colder by the minute. He is certain that Bing has by this time led the tourists to a safe haven—the monastery, but Prince's mission was one of greater importance. His many years of experience had been a great teacher to him. He had learned that an unfamiliar scent, riding on the wind, meant trouble—usually lots of it! Generally he found that it meant the discovery of some person who had not been able to reach his home by nightfall, which, in the mountains, was treacherous circumstances.

In order to be a good "rescue dog" of Prince's fine reputation, a great deal of courage was needed as well as good eyesight, together with a splendid constitution and a remarkable power of hearing. All these things Prince possessed, and therefore, he was sent on many perilous trips alone, always to return.

During one of our hero's infrequent rests, he sits up suddenly, as if on impulse, with ears erect, and sniffs the air. Something is carried along on the wind—a strange scent. He quickly scrambles to his feet and is "off in a cloud of snow." Can we follow his winding trail in the snow? We'll try. What's this? Someone's ski sticking in the snow? Price tugs unmercifully on the ski—there is someone buried in a pile of snow, for here is a light-colored shoe too. Prince frantically paws away the snow and uncovers a beautiful young girl of about 19 years of age, who has apparently fallen while traveling on her skis, for one of the skis is unhooked, and her small beret is some feet from her body. Hence Prince makes another startling discovery. But how was he to awaken her? Look, already there is a bluish bump making its appearance on her forehead.

(Cont. Next Week)

!! The Spotlight !!

George seemed to tease Mary G. quite a lot, but she says she doesn't mind too much. You want to watch that, George.

Marilla, we miss your cheerful smile and your merry giggle. Hope you don't get scarlet fever, and will be back soon.

L. Dodge, if you don't take it a little easier, some of your upper classmen will have to take a hand at disciplining you.

C. C. didn't go to Cuba but she says she doesn't mind, because she knows she will be able to go to Angelica; which I hope most of you are planning to do, because the team will appreciate any support which we can give them.

Mary Etta, why don't you go home over the week-end? We understand it's the roads. Now how long will those terrible roads last?

I wish to offer my sympathy to the faculty, who look pretty worn out from correcting the papers of their "students." Why don't you "students" start studying a little so the teachers won't be a total wreck after finals next June? I know I shouldn't bring up such a dreary subject.

George, won't you ever learn that Sophomores don't write notes? I guess you have learned your lesson. Cleon, how are you coming with your little love affair? I think our friend "Boe Zeckely" gave you some excellent advice. All you need to do is put it into practice.

—A-H-S—

OMISSION CORRECTED

The name of William Dougherty was omitted from the list of pupils having perfect attendance for the first term, which was printed in last week's issue of the Hi Herald.

—A-H-S—

FACULTY FACTS

Miss Mary Lou Day was a Sunday dinner guest of her mother, Mrs. C. L. Day of Little Genesee. Lawrence Host was a week-end guest of William McGee at Warsaw. Both Mr. McGee and Mr. Host had the misfortune of freezing their ears while changing a tire.

Miss Ruth Baker was a week-end guest of Miss Ruby Jordan at Littleton.

—A-H-S—

"PRINCE"

Pr. Jean Millsbaugh

Chapter II—Prince's Astounding Discovery

While the tourists, found by Bing, were enjoying with feasting, laughter and song their newly found safety in the lonely monastery in the Alps, what of "Prince"? Let's leave the monastery, filled with loud shouts of laughter and an all-around good cheer and follow Prince, our hero:

Thru the ever-drifting snow, over huge cracks and crevices, while he stops every once in a while and stands as the listening for a cry of "Help" coming from a distance, we find Prince. He marches wearily on thru the steadily-increasing snow and the rising wind, his fur glistening in the dark, covered with a heavy coating of ice and snow. Prince gets colder by the minute. He is certain that Bing has by this time led the tourists to a safe haven—the monastery, but Prince's mission was one of greater importance. His many years of experience had been a great teacher to him. He had learned that an unfamiliar scent, riding on the wind, meant trouble—usually lots of it! Generally he found that it meant the discovery of some person who had not been able to reach his home by nightfall, which, in the mountains, was treacherous circumstances.

In order to be a good "rescue dog" of Prince's fine reputation, a great deal of courage was needed as well as good eyesight, together with a splendid constitution and a remarkable power of hearing. All these things Prince possessed, and therefore, he was sent on many perilous trips alone, always to return.

During one of our hero's infrequent rests, he sits up suddenly, as if on impulse, with ears erect, and sniffs the air. Something is carried along on the wind—a strange scent. He quickly scrambles to his feet and is "off in a cloud of snow." Can we follow his winding trail in the snow? We'll try. What's this? Someone's ski sticking in the snow? Price tugs unmercifully on the ski—there is someone buried in a pile of snow, for here is a light-colored shoe too. Prince frantically paws away the snow and uncovers a beautiful young girl of about 19 years of age, who has apparently fallen while traveling on her skis, for one of the skis is unhooked, and her small beret is some feet from her body. Hence Prince makes another startling discovery. But how was he to awaken her? Look, already there is a bluish bump making its appearance on her forehead.

(Cont. Next Week)

HUMOR

Piano Tuner: "Good morning! I am here to tune your piano."
Jean M.: "My piano? I didn't order a piano tuner."
Tuner: "No, but the gentleman across the street did."

Teacher: "Can you tell me something about Good Friday, Louis?"
Louis F.: "Yes'm. He was the fellow who did the housework for Robinson Crusoe."

Having waited patiently for some weeks to receive the payment of a bill, James finally wrote Beatrice a threatening letter. He received the following reply:

"James: What do you mean by writing such a letter to me? Each month I put my bills in a hat. After figuring how much money I have to pay my accounts, I pull as many bills out of my hat as I am able to take care of. If you don't like my way of doing business, I won't even put your bills in the hat!"

Phil Lynch sat daydreaming about money in History C. Class when Miss O'Connell asked what year America was discovered.

Half dreaming he said: "Fourteen dollars and ninety-two cents."

After telling of the miraculous things Helen Keller knew in spite of deafness, dumbness and blindness, Joe McAndrew was asked, "But how did she know?"

Said Joe: "By her nose."

—A-H-S—

WHAT WOULD HAPPEN IF—

Charlotte Cook and Jo Butler didn't always go on the bus to out-of-town games?

If Bethel Millsbaugh had her hair cut boy-bob?

If Charlotte Coryell didn't make so many crossword puzzles?

Roberta Church didn't read the Grit in school?

If Alan Tuttle wasn't a cheer leader?

If the Freshmen didn't give each other shocks?

If Henry Antan's hair was black?

If Louis Dodge was as tall as Don Lynch, with red hair like Red Alderson's?

If Mack McDonough didn't talk out loud in English I. Class?

If there weren't so many Freshmen?

If James Lynch was a Freshman?

If Edna Honegger didn't get black eyes?

If Bud Dolan used his brains instead of his mouth.

If Ida Clair didn't have so many so-called boy friends?

If Jean Baldwin went to more basketball games?

If the Spotlight's battery would run dry.

If Jo Baker didn't have to walk home from school.

If Mary McAndrew didn't take French I?

If there were more "If's?"

—A-H-S—

SENIOR INTERVIEW

What is your full name?—Dorothy Adelaide Nobles.

Where were you born?—Andover.

What is your favorite sport?—Swimming.

What is your favorite recreation?—Reading.

What subject do you like?—French.

What books do you like?—Fiction.

What subject do you dislike most?—Geometry.

What do you intend to do when you finish school?—Go to Genesee Normal.

What is your ambition in life?—To be a school teacher.

Dorothy is known by the students of Andover High School because of her high scholastic standing. She is a member of the Library Student Council, Girls' Glee Club, and is a cheer leader. Some day maybe some of you pupils in the lower grades will be having a Miss Nobles for your teacher. We all hope so.

—A-H-S—

BOE ZECKELY COLUMN

Dear Boe:

I am a very beautiful girl with a charming personality. I am the daughter of a wealthy family and can get my father's car, which is a Packard sedan any time that I want it. In spite of all this, I can't seem to attract any boys. They never pay any attention to me. What would you advise me to do?

"Unfortunate Beauty"

Dear "Unfortunate Beauty":

Meet me in front of The Fountain of Youth at 7:30 this evening.

Yours for the asking, —BOE

—A-H-S—

Big Mike, reputedly the oldest captive seal in the world, now is totally blind at a Boston aquarium. He is otherwise in good health, however, and is expected to survive several more years.

UTICA JUBILEE SINGERS

PRESENT PROGRAM

The Utica Jubilee singers sang in the Andover High School auditorium at 3 p. m., Friday afternoon, January 31st.

Their harmonious program expressed their love of music as evidenced by the numbers "Mighty Lak a Rose," "A Serenade" and "Without a Song." Characteristic of the negro music were the beautiful spirituals, "Flying Wheels," "All God's Chillun," "Don't Hear Nobody Pray," and "Do You Call That Religion?" Other songs which were popular in their appeal were "Wagon Wheels," "Shortening Bread," and "Mah Honey."

The Jubilee Singers represent a school for negroes located in Utica, Mississippi.

—A-H-S—

GRADE BRIEFS

The pupils of the Eighth Grade English Class have completed booklets containing their favorite poems.

The Second Grade has started studying about Eskimos. After the weather the Andover children