Independence

(Mrs. Floyd Clarke, Reporter)

Mar. 23.—The ice storm did much to the maple and apple, also put all the telephone out of commission. Being shut out of the snow was bad enough, when the storm took our telephone and radio service we are alone. Edna Joyce was home from over this week-end. The high school students didn't go to school Thursday and Friday. The electricity was off in the school. Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Clarke, Hilda, and Mrs. Charles Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. J. Bassett, S. W. Clarke, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Clarke attended the funeral of Mrs. Mary Crittenden at Wellsville, Saturday.

Slate Creek

(Mr. Raymond Stewart, Reporter)

Mar. 24.—"A mess" is right—felled wires, fallen branches, ice mud. Why complain? We're washed out with no place to go back to. School Thursday and Friday he continued fall of branches ice made it very dangerous for men to be out. Mr. Raymond Stewart and little visited Mr. and Mrs. Albert Norvell, Thursday and called Mrs. Harlan Dennis at the St. James Mercy hospital and Mrs. S. Clarkson of Canisteo. Mr. and Mrs. John Mullen and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lamphier were in town Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Mullen and daughter Virginia called Mr. Mullen's sister, Mrs. Mary Mullen at St. James hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stewart visited Mrs. Mildred Bassett of Upper Meriden, Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Jay Bunt were in town calling on Mrs. Sarah Bunt recently. Mr. Crawford and Raymond were callers in Canisteo, Saturday. Mr. Andrew Spencer called on Mr. Raymond Stewart Friday while Spencer was collecting telephone bills in the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Perry Erskine of Hill were papering for Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale, Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Stewart of West Benetts and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hale were callers at the home of Raymond Stewart, Monday evening. Monday brought us the Andover was. Better late than never, for didn't expect it at all last week. The electric line in this community is repaired and doing business again. In spite of the cold weather flies seem to be very plentiful.

Greenwood

(Mrs. A. L. Trowbridge, Reporter)

Smith in Wellsville. Miss Agnes McCaffery spent Friday afternoon with Mrs. C. J. Updyke. Thomas McCaffery and Miss Rosalind Rollins called on Miss Agnes McCaffery, Monday. Miss Genevieve McCormick spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. John Osmen. Thomas Birmingham of Norton followed was a business caller in town, Monday. Mrs. Edgar Sampson called on Mrs. C. J. Updyke, Friday afternoon. Miss Genevieve McCormick is spending a few days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Woodward. George Stephens of Rock Creek was a business caller in town Monday morning.

Children should be given responsibilities as soon as they are able and willing to take them.

Voorhees Hill

(Mrs. Raymond Church, Reporter)

Mar. 24.—Mrs. Abram Slocum was removed to Jones Memorial hospital at Wellsville last week where she is gaining nicely from the case of erysipelas which developed several days ago. Mrs. Margaret Adams visited Mrs. Mianda Adams and Mr. and Mrs. Benj. Allen and daughter Doris at their home in Proctor District, Wednesday of last week.

Relatives here received word Saturday of the death of Addie Mae, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maxwell Brown of Lawrence, Mich. She was a victim of pneumonia. Mrs. Brown will be remembered by friends here as Hope Church, a former resident of this community. Miss Maude Perkins was home from Genesee Normal for the week-end.

H. B. Adams attended an auction at West Greenwood last Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. George Simkin received an invitation to attend the 50th wedding anniversary of his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simkin of Maitland, Fla., on March 25th. The invitation was issued by the bride's mother, Mrs. S. E. Thompson of Blenden, Mich., who at the age of 94 is having the privilege few are permitted.

Miss Lenna Church spent Thursday afternoon and evening with Miss Virginia Vossler of Madison Hill. Our high school pupils had a vacation Thursday afternoon and Friday as Wellsville High School was closed as was the Washington school also, where Miss Pauline Perkins is teaching.

This community suffered heavy loss from the sleet storm last week, especially to fruit trees and sugar bushes. Telephone wires were a tangled mass, but communication is established among the neighbors but not into Andover central. Roads were again drifted full by Saturday's blizzard.

Mrs. A. L. Jones of Andover spent the week-end at the home of her brother, Abram Slocum. Mr. and Mrs. George Simkin were calling on friends in Wellsville, Monday.

Whitesville

(Mrs. Ella Millspaugh, Reporter)

March 24.—The spring has arrived whether spring weather does or not.

Mrs. C. L. Travis and Mrs. C. L. Crittenden were shopping in Wellsville, Monday afternoon.

Howard Stafford was a business visitor in Canisteo, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ryan and family of Andover visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Simmons, Sunday.

Messrs. Fred Anderson, Clifford Baham and Ray Deck have gone to South Dakota on business.

Employees of the Public Service Commission are in town this week, changing gas meters.

B. E. Hann of Andover was here Tuesday and Wednesday reading gas meters.

Fay Wellstead of Wellsville was in town Friday on business.

The M. E. Brotherhood Class conducted the services in the church in a very capable manner. There was a good congregation.

The M. E. Philathea Class meets this Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ida Carpenter for work and business meeting.

Two resignations from the Board of Education recently, Mr. H. B. Bloss for business reasons, and Leon Wildman on account of serious illness, were filed last Wednesday evening at a meeting by the election of Theron Grantier and Seymour Brown.

Whitesville reverted to the "good old days" which we hear about sometimes last Tuesday night, when the three-day rain changed into the worst ice storm remembered. Electric wires and telephones quit business and the only music for 48 hours was breaking of limbs falling of trees and telephone poles and the rush of good water. Shade, fruit and forest trees are broken and ruined, sugar bushes are nothing but stumps in many cases. Houses were dark or lighted by candles and the reliable oil lamp. There was eager searching of garrets for the discarded relics of the past and the sale of lamp chimneys, burners and wicks broke recent records. Electricity was restored Friday afternoon, but telephone service is slower, very few lines in town are operating and no outside connections to date. Friday the sun shone and the ice melted. Saturday's severe snowstorm and all their many friends.

Agrigraphs

Uncle Ab says every task takes more time than you thought it would, even tho you knew it was going to.

The last estimate of the United States Department of Agriculture reports 11,637,000 horses and 4,685,000 mules in the country on January 1, 1936.

To save time and labor in the vegetable garden, regulate the number of seeds that are sown, especially the very small seed. This reduces the amount of thinning needed on the same row of vegetables later in the season.

Cornell's new bulletin E-337 on poultry diseases may fill a long-time need for thousands of poultrymen in the state. Single copies of this bulletin may be had from the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

Fire claims about 3,500 lives on farms in the United States every year, or about ten lives each day, estimates reveal.

The cash income to farmers in January was the highest for any January in the past five years, says the United States bureau of agricultural economics.

Altho the total quantity of certified potato seed available in New York State this year is somewhat smaller than in recent years, there is probably enough to supply the demand.

Dairy heifers usually suffer their first serious setback during the first summer on pasture. In general, New York State pastures after the first few weeks do not provide enough high quality feed to maintain growth.

Usually the best time to hatch chicks in New York State is when the grass first shows green. A Cornell bulletin, E-205, which explains why some eggs do not hatch, may be had from the New York State College of Agriculture at Ithaca, N. Y.

of the business. Mr. Loren, who was in ill health depended much on Ted's assistance in his affairs. Joyce also had secured a position as telephone operator and liked her work. Mrs. White seemed very proud of her two children and her eyes always lingered upon Ted, who was a perfect replica of his father in the days of his youth.

One night coming home from work Ted was dreadfully tired. He had received his salary for the week and was going straight home instead of depositing his usual sum in the bank on his way, because he could do that in the morning. Ted was going out that night, even tho he was very tired. A group of boys always met at their club house where they played cards and checkers. Because he was so terribly tired, Ted grew very uneasy and cross when the boys joked with him over losing the games. He had his pay in his pocket and he put his hand near it. "All right," said Ted, "we'll play for money." Some of the boys had suggested this before but always before Ted had refused to play.

They knew something was wrong and because they liked Ted very much they wouldn't do anything to hurt his feelings. They played, Ted betting high on his hands which seemed useless. He lost every time. Oh, what was the use anyway, he had to get one game. It was eleven o'clock and Ted felt in his pocket to draw out the last five-dollar bill. "Here boys, I've got to win this time." The game was started, finished, and Ted had lost again. He rose and said "I'm going boys, good-night."

"Good night, Ted," they shouted after him.

Ted was on his way home but he was going home without his pay in his pocket. It now lay in someone else's. Ted happened to think of the bank savings for that week. Never before had he missed a deposit a week since he had started it, even tho it was a small sum. He felt bad but nothing could be done. (To be Continued)

Undernourishment is today a social and economic problem of concern to everyone interested in the general welfare of humanity, according to a bulletin published by the League of Nations.

How He Broke the News

"Bill," said the foreman after the accident, "did you break the news to Mrs. Murphy about her husband getting blown sky-high in the explosion?"

"I did."

"Did you break it gently?"

"I did. I told her that Tom got that raise he'd been looking for."

A little girl of five who was tired by her first attendance at church said after the service, "Mother, does the Lord expect us to call at His house every Sunday?"

"Yes, Margaret, every Sunday."

"Well, mother," inquired the child "some Sundays couldn't we just leave cards?"

My little girl, age two, was not feeling well and had not eaten anything and I told her that she could not have pie on an empty stomach. She looked up and replied, "I want it on my plate."

A Perfect Match

The Portrait Painter (in despair) "Madam, I find it impossible to procure colors that will match your exquisite complexion."

The Sitter (without reserve): "Well, then, just draw the outlines today, and when I come next time I'll bring some of my colors for you."

Porter Emerson Brown went into the office of Everybody's Magazine and said: "Did you hear about the man who died the other day and left all he had to an orphan asylum?"

"No, how much did he leave?"

"Twelve children."

The way a room faces should help to determine its general color effect. Northern exposures and rooms with little window space call for warm colors, or those related to red and yellow.

In the late winter and early spring most stored vegetables are improved if served with sauces. Carrots, turnips, onions, salsify and cabbage are good with white sauce, with or without grated cheese.

WHEN BLADDER IRRITATION WAKES YOU UP

Strike at the cause. It's nature's way of saying "Danger Ahead." Make this 25c test. Use Buchu leaves, juniper oil, etc., to flush out excess acids, and impurities. Works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. You are bound to feel better after this flushing and you get your regular sleep. Get buchu, juniper oil, etc., in little green tablets called Bukets. In four days if not pleased, your druggist will refund your 25c. Roundage Drug Co.

Tasting the contents of a doubtful can or jar for signs of food spoilage is a dangerous practice. When in doubt, throw it out.
