PREPAREDNESS

The Seniors are preparing to prepare for a good life. In other words most of them are planning to go to some school to gain more knowledge and be prepared to support themselves. How many of the Juniors, Sophomores and Freshmen know what they want to become when they leave high school? Even the pupils in the grades should begin to think on that subject.

Just doing your work to get a good mark is not quite enough. Every bit of knowledge you obtain in school will help you later; whether you pass every grade or not.

There are three reasons why people work. They are the following: Social pressure, because they want to, and because they have to.

These all apply to use when we study. Of course we all go to school, because we have to. Some study hard because they don't want to be the poorest students in the class and others study because they want to learn everything they can.

The more a person knows, the more he wants to know.

—C. Coryell.

MARIONETTE GROUP TO BE PRESENTED MONDAY

"The Hyde Marionettes," presented by Dr. and Mrs. Hyde, who are professionals in the art of presenting puppet shows, will present a four act play, "Jack and the Beanstalk," in the high school auditorium on Monday forenoon, June 8th at 10:45. Dr. and Mrs. Hyde have presented their shows in practically all of the large schools in the country and Andover is particularly fortunate in being able to secure them.

Considerable interest has been developed in marionettes during the year, thru the construction and operation of the Eighth Grade Marionette Theatre. To see a professional puppet show will be a great treat both for school children and grown-ups.

The price of admission is 10c for children and 25c for adults. The public is invited.

GUESS WHO?

A boy in the Sophomore room is most unusual. He is queer in some of his actions, enjoys himself immensely, and his greatest ambition is to become another Beethoven. He dislikes English II.; seems to like finishing a problem in commercial arithmetic class before anyone else.

Come now, guess who this boy is that has one big ambition. I need not tell you the color of his hair, but make one big guess.

Answer to last week's Guess Who—Regina Lynch.

ANDOVER SECOND PLACE IN TRACK MEET

The Andover High School track team easily captured second place in the Allegany County Track Meet held at Wellsville, May 29. Altho there were nine schools entering teams, Andover had little difficulty in outscoring all except the winning Wellsville team.

Wellsville, with five and six entrants in each event, had little competition from the smaller schools. The features of the meet were the smashing of the 220 yard record by Joe McAndrew, who won the event in the fast time of 23.3 seconds, and Don Lynch's convincing triumph in the half-mile run.

Lynch, who was defeated by Dye of Wellsville in the Spring Day Meet, gained ample revenge as he won in the very good time of two minutes, 9 seconds. Frankie Witter made an exceptionally strong finish to take third place in this race. Lynch also won the broad jump with a leap of 18 feet 3 inches, while McAndrew took the 100 yard dash in easy fashion. Farnham Pope showed promise of developing into a fine miler as he took second place in that event.

Other places scored by Andover were fifth in the javelin by Basil Brundage; fourth in the hundred by Bruce McGill; fifth in the 220 yard run by Don Oakes and fourth in the broad jump by Ray Briggs. The Andover relay team, composed of Eddie Kemp, Don Oakes, Lynch and McAndrew, were just nosed out for first place by the Wellsville aggregation.

The Andover team will be represented in the sectional meet at Rochester this Saturday by Farnham Pope in the mile, Joe McAndrew in the 100 and 220; Don Lynch in the half mile and Bruce McGill in the broad jump.

A. H. S. BEATS SCIO

The Purple and White team defeated Scio on the local court June 2nd by 7-6. Andover showed some skillful playing and both schools acted and played like real professionals. The game was not one-sided and proved to be close and exciting.

The A. H. S. team hopes to repeat this victory June 5th, when they will play the Friendship nine at Friendship.

Dear Boe:
Altho I have tried all powers in "femine" gender, I still haven't any boy friends. I have large grey eyes, which I am able to roll, and I'm not afraid to make "aqualinters." I wish you'd advise me.

Dear Discontented Frosh:
The best advice I can offer is that you stop using "fatuous" names, and be a little less in the open with your flirting.

JUNIOR PLAY

WELL PRESENTED

The Junior play, "The Arrival of Kitty," a three-act comedy, was presented Thursday evening, May 28th to a very appreciative audience. The performance went off smoothly on Thursday evening and many fine compliments were received by the Junior Class.

A great deal of the credit for the above goes to Miss Mary Lou Day, who showed her ability to produce plays by putting on such a fine production.

The role of William Winkler, which contained perhaps more lines than any other in the play, was well taken by Leo Fulkerson. Hilda Clarke, as Aunt Jane, Winkler's sister, a pathetically humorous old maid, did a fine bit of acting. Benjamin More, a poetic old soul, sacrificed his love of beauty for Aunt Jane's money. Edwin Kemp took the part of this nervous old man seriously, tho no one looked more seriously. Ting, a bell boy, was also a mischief maker and Bruce McGill fitted into the role extremely well.

Jean Millsaugh played the part of Jane, William Winkler's niece; in love with Bobbie Baxter. She is to be complimented upon her good diction thruout the play. Bobbie Baxter had a difficult role as part of the time it was necessary for him to impersonate "Kitty." Alan Tuttle, alias Bobbie, was quite coy in his impersonations, much to the delight of his audience. "Kitty" Benders, a temperamental actress after William Winkler, was startlingly portrayed by Carolyn Dolan. Sam, a colored porter, was one who added humor to the play by his contagious grin. Raymond Briggs, who took the part, certainly had some grin!

Maxine Crandall, as Aunt Jane's beautiful French maid, most assuredly looked the part.

Honorable mention is due those who worked loyally behind the scenes. They are as follows:

Student director—Maxine Crandall; advisor, Miss Day.

Stage manager—Lester Regan, Cleon Pease and Lwlyn Howland, advisor, G. E. Bretsch.

Head usher—Clifford Burdick; ushers: Sophomores; advisor, L. E. Host.

Advertising—Kenneth Vars, Regina Lynch and Francis Mead. Advisor, Mr. McGee.

Wardrobe—Ida Mae Howland. Advisor, Mrs. VanOxx.

Make-up—Marilla and Ruth Ianson. Advisor, Miss Day.

Properties—Beatrice Kruger, John Baker and Richard Burdick. Advisor, Miss O'Connell.

Music—Clyde Kemp. Advisor, Miss Marsh.

Business Manager—Orville Mesler, assistants, Regina Lynch and Farnham Pope. Advisor, Miss Trenkle.

The members of the Junior Class wish to thank the above committees and also those who contributed to the success of the play by providing furniture and other properties, as well as those who attended the play.

Music was furnished by the high school orchestra.

JUNIOR PROM HELD

The Junior Prom, held Wednesday evening, June 3rd, proved very successful. The couples there looked attractive in their spring attire, dancing to the music of Johnnie Fitzgerald and his orchestra.

The gymnasium was effectively decorated with white crepe paper which lowered the ceiling and various colored spotlights lent enchantment to the evening.

The success of such a grand event is due to the work done by the entire class under the direction of Ida Mae Howland, acting as chairman of the decorating committee, Bruce McGill, acting as chairman of the ticket sales committee, Regina Lynch, chairman of the advertising committee and Kenneth Vars, chairman of the lighting committee.

Those acting as chaperons were Principal and Mrs. Glenn E. Bretsch, Miss C. O'Connell, Mr. W. McGee, Miss G. Trenkle and Mr. J. Donahue.

!! The Spotlight !!

Heigh ho and away we go—for Regents is almost here, you know! Yes and here's the Spotlight with less dirt than ever before! I'm thinkin' that if someone doesn't commit a crime rather soon, the Spotlight is going to have to discontinue its weekly publications of dirt and dust from the road and dark places. Really, your friend has never before seen things so dull. Is it the weather?

The people who decorated the gymnasium for the promenade certainly deserve three cheers and a "hip-hurray"—But the Junior president conceived the idea—Hand it to that class—they certainly have the makings of a "snifty" Senior class which will surpass many others.

Now, Jo, buy a new bulb for my "light" so that I may have more to tell you next time, I remain yours 'til some kind philanthropist leaves time-pieces for all school students, that they may know when their speaking permission time is up.

Come boys—better get your old tuxedo pressed, better sew a button on that vest—for now you must look your best—"Ozzies" back in town!" As the Juniors are having their promenade on Wednesday night and the Spotlight must leave the school by Wednesday noon, very little can be said about who will be seen there. It is said that the Juniors did this on purpose!

A-H-S Agrigraphs

Uncle Ab says that much good conversation owes most of its success to someone who says nothing.

Of all the uses of electricity on the farm, few save as much time and labor and give as much satisfaction as pumping water.

Any idle space in the home garden before August 1 may be used for a second planting of such crops as beans, beets, carrots, lettuce or some other vegetables.

When its third year of financing farmers was completed toward the close of May, the Farm Credit Administration had loaned more than $3,700,000,000 since its organization.

Flowers keep fresh longer if the leaves below the water are removed, for the decaying vegetable matter poisons the water.

SAFETY CAMPAIGN DRIVING RULES

Compiled to Aid in the Safe Operation of Motor Vehicles, by the Ford Motor Company.

If motorists and pedestrians know the rules of the road and stick to them, the number and severity of accidents will be greatly reduced. Traffic experts have found. The more important rules of the road as suggested to the general public, are as follows:

Speed—Keep the pace of other cars when in traffic. On the open road it should be governed by state law or road conditions.

Right of way—Don't contest right of way. It often ends in the hospital.

Weaving in traffic—Always keep in one lane of traffic. Before changing lanes, always use rear view mirror to see what is behind you, then signal with arm.

Left turns—Keep in center lane when preparing to turn left at an intersection, unless local ordinance prohibits.

Right turns—Get in close to the curb when you wish to make a right turn. Thru traffic can follow the outer lane, and the middle lane if there are three.

Leaving curb—Always look back and see if any car is approaching, then signal your intention before pulling away from curb.

Stop and go—Always watch for stop signs. It is as dangerous for you as for the other driver to run thru a red light.

Road signs—Always read them; their shape in most states tells you the kind of information they contain. Under uniform traffic code there are four important shapes you should remember. Octagonal sign indicates a stop. You can distinguish its shape long before you can read it. Circular sign always indicates a railway. Have your car under control when you see a circular sign. Double bars on it indicate two crossings close together. Diamond signs are always used as a warning of a curve or other change in the road. They must be read. Never pass one without reading it. Square signs are for instruction—such as "School"—or to indicate road directions, intersections, etc.

Never pass on turns—It is not only very hazardous but illegal in many states.
