Only twice since the Civil War has at third party done that. The People's Party, in 1892, won 22 electoral votes, and the Progressive Party of 1912 88 votes for Theodore Roosevelt in the Electoral, College. Its name remains, but its influence does not extend far beyond the borders of Wisconsin. The Republicans who flocked to the Bull Moose standard under "Teddy's" leadership are now the nucleus around which the Republican Party itself has been reorgan

This increase in the farm population may seem, at care been exercised. first glance, somewhat difficult to account for in view of the widespread talk about distress and starvation among the farmers of America. But everybody who knows anything about rural America knows that there are two kinds of farmers. One is the speculative, commercial farmer, usually operating on a one-crop basis, whose situation is comparable more to that of a business man than to the typical farmer of tradition. The economic distress among this class of farmers is far from being typical of farmers generally. It affects !... probably less than a quarter of all American farmers.
