DO WE GO PLACES?

After having read a few of the compositions written by the members of the English IV class on An Interesting Place I Have Known, one would gather that members of the Senior Class did quite a bit of "traveling around." Here's proof of the fact:

> Allegheny State Park Alan Tuttle-English IV.

An interesting place I have know is Allegheny State Park, situated near Salamanca, N. Y. It is a beau-tiful wooded, hilly country with an area of 60 some area of 60 some thousand acres which abounds with all forms of wild life. There are lakes, swimming pools, camp sites and cabins for the pleasure of the visitors, all of which can be easily reached by a network of good roads. Information can be easily obtained from the thousand acres at the administra evenings.

By concealing oneself in a likely place at night beside one of the numerous creeks, with the aid of a flashlight, one can easily see one of America's most beautiful fur bearers, the raccoon. Anyone would be greatly amused to watch this furry tree dweller catch fish or stick his front paws under stones to catch crabs or minnows and then after having washed his food, sit on his haunches and proceed to eat it. Before 10 o'clock at night, we observ ed six large coons, besides small ones, hunt their supper. besides som
