4.—Nothing exciting in the town of Hallowe'en on the night of the 31st. The juveniles did the acting in the dress-up costumes and Jack-o-lanterns. A few mild days with rains and even lawns and pastures they lost in the summer. Potatoes stored in barns were sold to different buyers at week, for no trusting Jack now.

James Leo Horan, Tony and Howard Dean were the Hallowe'en guests who had a party given by Mrs. Ed. of Andover last Friday.

We are not now quite urban, with signs on our main corners. Mrs. Earl Schoonover and her daughters, helped Mrs. Bertha of Joyce Hill celebrate her birthday last Sunday.

Is Dean and Leo Horan, seeing the light of a fire on Davis Hill Sunday evening investigated by driving.

It was the Arling Briggs which unfortunately for him entirely consumed with the fire.

After a storm comes a calm, to the country hopes with the presidential campaign now of the U. S. for the future four will have Mr. Roosevelt again resident.

Around Our House

Sumac blossoms and red sumac leaves gives an interesting color and can be used to dye woolen or cotton materials, says the New York State College of Home Economics.

About one peck of the blossoms and leaves will be needed to dye each pound of dry material. Cut the blossoms from the green stems and cover them well with rain or soft water. Boil this mixture for two or three hours or until all of the color is out of the blossoms and in the water. Then strain the mixture through a sieve until all of the berries and leaves are removed.

For dyeing wool, the college gives the following directions:

Allow four ounces of potash alum and one ounce of cream of tartar to each pound of wool. Dissolve the alum and cream of tartar in four to four and one-half gallons of cold water and immerse the wool yarn or cloth until it is thoroughly wet, then squeeze the water through the wool several times. Heat it gradually, stirring and turning the yarn or cloth all the time; and boil for one hour. Allow the material to cool over night in this, and in the morning squeeze it free of water, roll it in a dry towel, and put in a cool place.

Just before putting the material in the dyebath, rinse it well in clear, lukewarm water, making sure it is thoroughly wet. Then put it in the dyebath made from the sumac, using enough water to cover the material. Boil it at least one hour. Let it stand in this dye until it is cool, or overnight. Remove the material and rinse it in several waters until no more color comes out of it. Dry it out of doors in the sun.

For cotton, allow four ounces of potash of alum and one ounce of sodium carbonate (washing soda) for the early process. Dissolve the alum and washing soda in four to four and one-half gallons of cold water and immerse the cotton cloth or yarn, which has been thoroughly wet and wrung out of water. Follow the same directions as for dyeing wool.

BLACK AND ORANGE TEAMS IN THE LEAD

BE ON THE LOOKOUT!

Pupils of A. H. S. may now increase their knowledge of the more interesting current events by taking a glance for themselves at the bulletin board in the study hall.

Miss Mary L. Day, English teacher, has been testing observational powers of the various English students in her first "Test of Observation," which she gave for the purpose of attracting attention to the bulletin board and stimulating observation. These tests are to be given at odd intervals to determine how much information the students are assimilating.

FROM THE SENIOR PLAY

Val: "Let's put this farm on its feet and make this old lady happy. You noticed how run down it is."

Chess: "That barn especially. If a crow accidentally sits on that barn—good-bye barn."

FROM THE SENIOR PLAY

Lucille: "Shall I tell you a secret, Allie?"

Allie: "Yes."

Lucille: "I believe Jimmy Brooks is in love with—Allie Thomas."

HARK YE!

To the strains of "Sing, Sing, Sing," one might see a gay crowd dancing or pushing around a shuffleboard dice, at the A. H. S. gym Friday night, Nov. 6th. The occasion is to be a party for the Hi Herald and Library Council groups.

With Hilda Clarke, chosen to invite the faculty; Josephine Baker to entertain them; Doris Honeger and Beatrice Kruger on hand to feed them, everyone expects a jolly good time.

Attendance is to be limited to the members of the groups and one guest to each member.

HUMOR

Henry: "Well, what is the perimeter of the width?"

Mr. Host: "I'm wondering."

Helen Dean, in gym class while playing volleyball said: "This gym shouldn't have any ceiling."

Mr. McGee: "I suppose you feel like a feather in a breeze and you want to escape."

In English IV, class a while ago, Miss Day was discussing "paraphrasing" in connection with the precise work. Asking Llyn Howland who was inclined toward inattentance, to define a paraphrase, she received the following innocent reply: "It sounds like a couple of phrases to me." (And Llyn's a senior, too.)

Farnham Pope simply must remember not to forget his "specs." One day last week, minus his glasses and reading one of his speeches in the senior play, he very unconcernedly called Alan Tuttle "an old ham-burg" instead of "an old humbug." (Alan must be a gentleman because Farnham's still on earth. Or maybe Alan's class spirit is just allowing Farnham to live until after the Senior play!)

Well, dear," said Mr. Blair, after tea had been cleared away, "what are you planning to do tonight?"

Mrs. Blair shrugged her shoulders. "Nothing special," she replied. "I'll probably write a letter or two, listen to the radio, and so on."

"I see," he replied. "When you come to the so on, don't forget my shirt buttons."

Doctor, to his daughter: "Did you tell the young man that I think he's no good?"

"Yes, dad, but that didn't faze him. He said it wasn't the first wrong diagnosis you made."

Customer (pointing to Chinese characters on laundry ticket): "Is that my name?"

Laundryman: "No, description. Means I'll ol' man, cross-eyed, no teeth."

Lady: "Pardon, but where do I find the bus for Carlton?"

Gent: "Right in the middle of your back if you don't get out of the street."

Dentist: "Awfully sorry, miss, but I just tore off a piece of your gum."

Patient: "That's all right. Just stick it under the chair and I'll get it as I go out."

Some gulls were following a steamer, and an Irishman said to his companion: "Sure, an' they're a nice flock of pigeons."

"They're not pigeons," said his companion, "they're gulls."

"Well," said the Irishman, "gulls or boys, they're a nice flock of pigeons."

"He went home and lost his head and killed his father."

Don H.: "Did he find it?"

In chemistry class Basil Brundage referred to powdered alimony instead of antimony. Can it be?

Miss O'Connell: "Name two people in Rome who started a political reform."

Mac McDonough: "Do you mean the 'cracked eye' brothers?"

Miss O'Connell: "Yes, Jack, the Gracci brothers."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Widened Gallbladder—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning! Wake Up Your Liver Bile! The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sick and the world looks punk. Laxatives are only makeshifts. A more natural movement doesn't get at the cause. It bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes three good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "top notch" and happy. Get the just amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. Stubbornly refuse anything else. Etc.
