10:30 a. m., Public Worship. Sermon by the pastor. Subject: "Line Up On Your Own Side." This is a timely thought-producing subject for the New Year. Now that the holiday season has passed, why may we not use our Sundays again for worship in the church! Every effort is being made to promote a service helpful in every way. The choir will be in attendance and will do their part toward a dignified and spiritual period of worship. The opening New Year service last Sunday was full of promise for the year.

On Sunday, the first of a series of studies will be taken on the subject: "Fifty Years in Buckles and Saddles." This is the dramatic story of John Wesley, and is full of wonderful material for young people today, in teaching the art of character building and finding ways and means for the service of the church. Come, young people, and share in this thrilling story.

Why can we not bring our attendance to at least 75? We shall expect you on Sunday.
6:30 p. m., The Young People's meeting. We surely have enough young people in the church to make this hour one of inspiration and profit.

PLUMB AXES
Do you know why Plumb Axes are superior? Just because: The blade is designed to sink deep and tapered to roll the chip and clear itself in the cut.
The steel is a special axe steel. Plumb Axes are forged in one solid piece from it. There is no weld to break out. The tempering process is an exact science. Modern electrical equipment gives each part of the axe head the correct heat treatment. The head is toughened for heavy pounding; the eye is stiffened to resist buckling and the bit is tempered for two full inches back from the cutting edge.

Plumb Axes have proper balance. To have a proper haft every ounce of weight in head and handle must be properly distributed. When you swing a Plumb Axe, you can feel that it has a proper hang; that it will fall straight and true, with the natural sweep of your arms.

Plumb Axe Handles are made from seasoned, tough young hickory selected by wood experts. It must pass two exacting tests: first, for proper grain and grade; second, it must withstand a 400-pound pressure test in a bending machine to prove its resiliency.
And, every Plumb Axe has a safety feature, a patented screw wedge which keeps the handle tight just by the turn of a screw. Wobbling axe heads are a menace; makeshift re-wedging spoils the balance of a tool. Plumb eliminates both faults with the exclusive Take-up Wedge.
Plumb Axes will do your chopping jobs easily, safely, neatly and economically for $2.75 each.
