Keystoners Defeat Belfast 62-45 On Local Court

A determined Belfast team, fighting all the way, was defeated Saturday night by the score of 62-45 on the Andover High School court.

Andover started slow in the first quarter and Belfast led 12-2. In the second quarter the Keystoners found the cage and the half ended with Andover on top 24-20. The Belfast team came back strong in the third quarter and the best Andover could do was gain two points, the score at three-quarter time being 38-32. But the Keystoners finally hit their stride in the last quarter, outscoring their opponents 24-13. All the locals broke into the scoring column, which was evenly divided. Benjamin was high scorer for the evening, sinking seven field goals and three fouls for a total of 17 points.

Next Saturday evening, January 22nd, the Keystoners play a double header, at 7:30 they take on a greatly improved team from Genesee, Pa., and at 8:30 they tangle with the fast DeBarb team of Wellsville. Both these teams are fast and should furnish plenty of action for the locals. So let's all come out next Saturday night and show the boys some support. Summary:

A DISH FOR THE WEEK

Oysters, rich in vitamins and iodine, may make a delicious main dish either for a hearty meal or for a light one, says the New York State College of Home Economics.

Oyster Loaf

Cut a loaf of bread into slices about two inches thick. Trim off the crust and make each piece square. Dig the crumbs out of the center of each piece, leaving the sides and bottom like a box. Brush each of these box-like squares with melted butter; put them into a quick oven and brown lightly. Fill with creamed oysters, garnish and serve.

Creamed Oysters

2 cups of oysters
4 tablespoons of butter or other fat.
6 tablespoons of flour.
2 cups of rich milk.
Salt and pepper to taste.

Heat the oysters in their own liquid until the edges curl. Make a white sauce with the fat, flour and milk. Combine the oysters and sauce, add the seasoning, and place the mixture in the toast boxes.

For a dinner menu, the college suggests: Oyster loaf, baked squash, cole slaw with sour cream dressing, hot corn muffins, deep dish apple tapioca, coffee or tea for grown-ups if desired, and milk at least for the children.

Andover May Have Central School

Meeting of Repres of Interested Distr Held at School H Last Thursday Ev

Representatives from central school districts Andover met with the Board of Education and terested in Andover sch informal meeting held in library last Thursday meeting was called for discussion on the pos forming a rural centraliz Andover.

The group was welcor R. O. Snyder, president Board of Education. dent W. Gates Pope a Glenn E. Bretsch outline utely the rural school from the standpoint of tion Department and l tions, after which a ger sion of all phases of c was freely engaged by ent.

Andover seems to ha favorable setup in resp tralization, as was brou the speakers. If the pl ures which Principal worked out, and which checked and double-che bany are carried out as centralized school could in Andover with the m rate allowed by the Stat mills This figure is n than other schools in t have been able to start possible because of seve conditions thruout th area, one being the fa proposed district has an able valuation of approx million dollars, over whi the tax; another is that stated that they would present school building Andover, thus doing av large initial expense of entirely new building. have to be additions n present building, but an are provided for this Bretsch's outlined plan.

While nothing defini at this meeting, there brought out that woul be a major obstacle to of a centralized school key to the whole situa the rural districts wan meeting brought out the contemplated area as much better school, gi in agriculture, shop and tical courses, which school trend is urging, thru centralization at l the average tax rate no put the area. The co of the several rural di would be affected by th tion is 5.81 mills, wher for the central school mills.

Another headache wh forced on the rural sch the matter of transport also be taken care of en centralized unit and th largely by the state.

It looks to us like a tion for the betterment in Andover and vicinity the rural taxpayer of n they are now paying, an the trend of requirem made by the State dep cost of rural education centralized schools is b vance.

Following the meetin were shown thru the building by Principal served doughnuts and c homemaking departmen
