Watch Your Step When You Drive In Pennsylvania

Albany, N. Y., Jan. 20.—Motor Vehicle Commissioner Charles A. Harnett today warned New York State motorists of Pennsylvania's recent speed edict which provides loss of drivers' license together with fine and costs for persons convicted of exceeding the State's speed limit of 50 miles per hour.

The order, issued by Governor George H. Earle, includes out-of-State motorists and states that drivers convicted for exceeding the speed limit will "after an opportunity of having a hearing before a Department of Revenue representative, be deprived of their operator's license for a period of 90 days, in addition to a fine and costs, imposed under Section 1001 of the Vehicle Code, which is a sum of $12.25."

Pennsylvania motorists are thoroughly in sympathy with Governor Earle's insistence upon thoro and impartial enforcement, officials said. Many out-of-state drivers, however, are unaware of the strict enforcement of the law prohibiting unlawful speed and have been arrested and fined, it was pointed out.

As a result of the new regulation which has been in effect since January 1st, officials said that speeding in excess of 50 miles per hour has been reduced to a remarkable degree.

Keystoners Split Double Header on Local Court

Defeat Genesee 50-39 and Lose to Wellsville 37-36. Largest Crowd of Year In Attendance.

The Andover Keystoners split a double header last Saturday night, winning from Genesee and losing to Wellsville DeBarbs. Both games furnished plenty of action and thrills and was witnessed by the largest crowd of the season.

The Keystoners, after being held to a tie at half time by a greatly improved Genesee team, came back strong in the second half to gain the decision by a 50-39 score. Genesee led the locals at the end of the first quarter 12-8, but the locals rallied and the score at half time was 20-20. The Keystoners however proved their superiority in the third quarter and led 38-25. The final quarter was fairly even, ending 50-39.

In the second game of the evening the locals lost a close contest to Wellsville DeBarbs, 37-36. This game was close throughout and was anybody's game right up to the final whistle. Wellsville led at the end of the first quarter 12-9, but the Keystoners opened up the next quarter scoring 15 points to Wellsville's nine. The score at half time was 24-21, but the locals began to tire in the third quarter and Wellsville again took the lead 31-30.

In the final quarter it was nip and tuck with both teams fighting desperately and Andover fell just one point short, Wellsville winning 37-36. This game was one of the best on the Andover court this season, and a "return game" between these two teams will be arranged in the future, so watch for the date in the News. The Keystoners enjoy a week's rest until next week when the second half of the Tribune league begins. The summaries:

Buffalo News Almanac

Already established as a Western New York institution, the Buffalo Evening News Almanac and Yearbook made its sixth annual appearance this week. The 296-pages of the 1938 edition are crammed with information ranging from abbreviations of common titles to the year 1937 in review.

Revised lists of county and town officials in the Eighth Judicial District are exemplary of a compact arrangement of data that this year is easily found thru a new index.

Lists of officers and locations of county, farm and home bureaus; gardening and farm information; handier tables of weight and measures, and tables for calculating interest rapidly and accurately are brought up-to-date and augmented with many new features.

A few of the new features that will prove both necessary and interesting include an unemployment census report; New York State automobile licenses by counties; period drawings, weather probabilities and weather proverbs in the calendar section, a concise synopsis of the Old and New Testaments, and new tips on food.

But the old-time flavor of the Almanac is not sacrificed in keeping up with the sweep of modern progress. An 150-year-old woodcut on the title page is characteristic of the entire volume—a book that cleverly combines today with the rustic hours of Dobbin and the shay.
