Senior Interview

One of the newer members of the One of the newer members of the Senior Class, and one who has proved to be a very welcome addition to the class is Flora Flint. Flora was born in Canaseraga, N. Y., Jan. 7, 1922, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Flint. While in Canseraga High School, which she attended until May, 1936, when she moved to Andover, Flora was very active in extra-curricular work. She was a member of the dramatic club, the girls' chorus and was on the student council. dent council. Athletics interest Flora, especial

Championship

For the fourth successive time, the Andover High School basketball team has come in second in the Ray Wingate, sang at the high school league. Losing out in the crucial assembly on Wednesday, Feb. 23.

of course, you say, there is limit to everything. So there is But there is one thing in which many people unfortunately run over the line. I refer to the reprehensible custom of making fun of others. A teacher is quickly marked by her pupils if she habitually makes cutting, sarcastic remarks. She is disliked. Her pupils soon learn to avoid all possible contacts with her. A person who often makes rude remarks about others, their clothes, speech or manners, is gradually deserted by his friends.

A person who knows that people make fun of him behind his back is ill at ease and deeply hurt. Instead of ridiculing a less fortunate person, why not try to help him in some way to clear up speech difficulties, sloppiness or bad man ers? It would be much kinder and r and all around.

Of Magic

Gene Gordon, the magician and ventriloquist, presented his famous tricks to the Andover High School students last Friday, Feb. 25th, in the high school gymnasium. It was well attended, the admission being ten cents.

The children of the smaller grades were entranced by his tricks and his dummy, Jerry, somewhat similar to the famous Charlie McCarthy.

Everyone thoroly enjoyed the program and some pupils are still wondering how he did the apparently miraculous things he did.
