WAFTINGS

from "Wandering Willie"

THE Buffalo Evening News, after copying our "weiner-spelling" story last week asks: "Didn't have time to look it up in the dictionary?" Oh, yes we did, Roy; we have just procured a full set of the new Oxford Universal Dictionary which the Buffalo News has been peddling the past few months, and we were unable to find the blooming word there at all. We still stick to the "ei."

JUDGING from the scathing adjectives, etc., tossed at each other, the "Grief" column in the Allegany County Democrat and the "Wise and Otherwise" column in the Potter County Enterprise are evidently having a lot of fun—or else. However "Grief" opened up with the following, of which we quote part . . . .

"Bill Fish, who edits and prints the Coudersport Enterprise, is also a column conductor, and we venture to quote from one of his latest editions: 'The fact is that there isn't a place on earth where everything is perfection at all times—or where no disagreeable features exist. But really now, what is the matter with Potter County?'

"There certainly can't be very much wrong, for all there is over in Potter County is Bill Fish, the wide open spaces, and rattlesnakes. Personally, we love the wide open spaces and in fact we rather like rattlesnakes. When we get it all sifted down, we can find only one thing wrong with Potter county."

The Enterprise answer in part sums it up this way—

"Over in Wellsville, nice town is Wellsville, there is a newspaper and also the Allegany County Democrat, purported to be a newspaper but this has often been disputed. . . .

"Grief" even comes across county and state lines to insult Bill Fish of the enterprise, but it fails to wriggle a fin, for Bill has been insulted by experts—men far more intelligent and past masters in the art of insulting—insulters who have degrees and have specialized in the insulting business for years. . . .

"Nothing in Potter county but 'Bill Fish, the wide open spaces and rattlesnakes?'—Boy, your education has been neglected—sadly neglected!"

CHILD'S Restaurant has about the wittiest sign of all the witty signs we have noticed—and it is placed in just the right place (over the cash register). It leaves little to the imagination and reads:

"You ask for Trust, I say no, You get Mad;
You ask for Trust, I give, you no pay I get Mad.
Dam sight better you get mad.

IF ONE should take the display in Clair's Pharmacy window as a criterion of the future it would behoove all of us to stay right in our wigwags. We don't know whether or not Everett is anticipating another sleet storm or not, but he sure has a handful of crutches on display.

FOLKS are telling this one about "Bus" Childs. We give it to you as it was handed us:

"Bus" was sitting at home one night when a ghost popped up in front of him and in a hollow voice said "There are two of us." "Bus" looked up, saw the spook and moaned, "If you step to one side there will be only one."

Well, after a mad race down below Elm Valley, "Bus" stopped for breath and sat down, and up popped the ghost again and sat down beside him saying, "That was quite a race my friend," and between gasps the answer came back: "Yes—and just as soon as I—get my breath—we're going to—have another one."

EARLY SPRING RAINS

Frequently seek out a place to squeeze thru and make a mess, rotting out roof structure and smearing their dirty finger prints over ceilings and home furnishings.

Many times some good asphalt Roof Paint, or Plastic Cement will repair those annoying leaks at a trifling expense. Look your roof over well—it pays to make repairs before damage occurs.

FILLING HOLES

Plastered walls are not bomb-proof; they crack and fall, leaving ragged holes which may only be mended by a substance made for that purpose.

This need is supplied with Rutland Patching Plaster, a plaster product that may be used by anyone. No special tools are needed to insure a good smooth job, level with adjoining surface and no cracks around the edges.

When freshly mixed, it is as easily handled as putty, when dry it is as hard as cement.

It is packaged to suit your needs and the left over will keep until it is needed—20c small package.
