

The Family Banker . . .

She Does the Best Job of All

Beating the budgeters is an everyday triumph for her. She knows what she wants and what she must have. Altho money for "big things" comes slowly, she knows what to do. Each week she adds to her Andover National Bank Savings Account, where her money works, bearing interest. What she does with it is not determined by her head alone. Her heart has its day! She buys practical things . . . and she owns lovely things! The "better things" for her home and her family are easy. . . for this bank's savings plan does its share of the job!

Getting Ready To Close Up Shop at Albany

State Legislature Arrangements for Adjournment of the Session.
Albany, Mar. 15.—Legislative day were in the throes of a "big push" for adjournment of the 1938 session of the New York Legislature. The sine die crisis about Sunday, and with the bills jamming the legislative process, it is safe to predict final meeting will be one of the most recent years.

Sine die adjournment is set by the Legislature to be held on Sunday, and with the mass of legislation—no many hours it may take about final adjournment. It lasted some 23 hours; the previous session, about 27 hours.

And because this session the shortest in years, proportion has piled up so everyone anticipates the tentative estimate of the legislative closing siege in recent years. The rush to close early about because of the date of the convening of the Convention. The Convention, as most know, will open on April 14th, and the Assembly members for the confab. Clara Angelica is a delegate to the Senate District, including Albany county, along with Genesee and Livingston. He two other delegates at the other three counties. Republicans, elected to jolly last November, will convention which it is expected several much-needed in the State Constitution, in general generations. The constitution is sadly they say, to wipe out some of procedure, which with in times and trends, are late.

Harmony, more or less the keynote of this session legislature—all, most likely interest of an early close conflict with the convention would not be had. The has achieved mainly, because of a contradictory not acted upon. Because is generally noised about tated halls, that a special the Legislature will be the close of the convention by thereafter.

But that remains to be one knows how long the will run. Some say until others, only until July. At any rate, it most probably be brought to a close in November.

An Ancient Document
Looking thru some old the O'Connell Lumber office, Curtis Burdick uncovered an invoice for goods sent to Hills of Cuba, dealer in Coach, Hardware & Co., S. Bradley of Andover, dated March 20, 1869. For 50 pounds of "Comm tobacco at 30c per pound and 50 pounds of "Gerrico at 25c per pound, $12.50 station at the bottom station ten pounds of each here today, and ordered from Toledo and have a factory price for all of it. Mr. Bradley was at the prior of a grocery store.

The billhead advertised on hand a great variety, brides, whips, robes, shoe findings, leather of boots and shoes; groceries, teas, Yankee non-perfumery." Some diver
