PAINT SOON!

Maybe you have been thinking that you will get at that paint job this spring. You know that your building is in need of protection—and we have the best paint to do that paint job right.

MOORE'S Paints are so elastic and capable of large covering capacity; the colors are so beautiful and thoroughly ground into the pigment and the whole mass so tempered that it flows from the brush so evenly and easily—in fact, every element is most favorable for a first quality job at low cost.

Moore's Paints will spread further, and no matter how thin you brush it out you will have full protection and a beautiful lasting job. Bring your paint problems to Baker's—Moore's Paints insure permanent satisfaction!

MAPLE SYRUP AND SUGAR

We pride ourselves on the quality of maple products made around Andover—but occasionally offerings in this line are of a shamefully low grade.

We are frequently picking up both sugar and syrup that we consider the cream of the crop. If you want real quality for your own use or to send away, we can supply you. We will also pack and ship if you wish.

FACTS and FANCIES

Tired of dismal days of snow and slush, I composed these few lines to bolster up my flagging spirits until Spring is really here, instead of "just around the corner":

When you waken in the morning, And the sun is oh so bright, When the thrill of life Seems to reach the heights— Then 'tis Spring!

When the daylight stays a little longer, As loathe to flee; When the stars light up the heavens, It's beauties all to see— Then 'tis Spring!

When every creek and stream Their bands of ice and snow are free When every budding tree whispers melodies, As hymns in praising Thee— Then 'tis Spring!

When all Nature is symphony Of praise to the Creator, And when loosened From our souls the fetters— Then 'tis Spring!

Even as Winter gives way to Spring, so does time give way to new scenes and abrupt changes. To me the old holds its glamour as does the new and perhaps more shiny things. Old friends, old books and old memories become a part of one and are never buried too far in the background of our thoughts. A certain strain of music can recall to our minds some eventful pleasure in the bygone years. A time-worn phrase or a familiar scene and the past is again vividly before us with a nostalgic pang. Unaware the years creep by us, giving the belief that moments lived may never be relived only in the wealth of our memory.

Incidentally it would be interesting to know how many people can remember when they gathered their mail from the postoffice, once in the building now owned by Charles Caple on North Main street. The building between the gas office and the feed store, which has been a jewelry store, bakery, church and tea room in succession was once a post office run by W. B. Bundy. In the site where now the Market Basket carries on business, in the Baker Bros. building on Greenwood street to the present building, the post offices of Andover have literally traversed the distance, criss-crossing east and west from the north end of town to the south.

Approximately 30 years ago, before the vitaphone and more modern means of amusements, Andover enjoyed the dances and road shows held in the opera house owned by Dr. John Common and Clark Rogers. This building was on the site of Baker's hardware.

Every town or city has had many large destructions by fire. Usually there has been one of outstanding

W. W. G. Girls Hold Public Installation

There was a large attendance at the public installation put on by the World Wide Guild girls of the Baptist church Sunday evening. Seven new members were initiated. Miss Willis, director for Guild work of Western New York, was present and gave an address. The Guild colors, blue and white, were carried out in decorations. The church was lighted by candles. Light refreshments were served in the church parlors at the close of the service.

Rules as "St. Pat" at Annual Festival

Bert M. Lynn, Mount Vernon, who rules as "St. Patrick" over the sixth annual "St. Pat" festival at Alfred University, placed a crown on Miss Lois Burdett, Hornell, the elected queen. The coronation took place shortly before intermission during the formal ball that brought the two-day ceramic engineers' festival to a close.

proportions, known as the "big fire." Seventy-five years ago the Congregational church stood on the corner where the Andover National Bank stands. It burned to the ground, practically destroying the whole village as well.
