Just Wondering—

We are wondering how the Editor of the "Wandering Willie" column is coming along with his interior decorating. We are aware of the fact that he is good at spreading various other things, but this new enterprise of slinging paste took us very much by surprise.

GRANGE NEWS

Edith M. Thorne, Lecturer

Wednesday evening the Grange program as scheduled in last week's News was presented, except a few substitutes in various parts.

The altar, draped in white, was decorated with flowers for those who have gone on before, not with heaviness of heart as those who have no hope, but with faith made buoyant with the Patron's belief in immortality, and with a confidence that we, like them, shall carry on for the "good of the Order."

The Grange air is astir with arrangements for the coming of the Patrons of Husbandry from every Grange in the county. Andover certainly welcomes Pomona next week June 2nd and 3rd.

The program for the two days is printed elsewhere in the News. C. A. Robinson will give the address of welcome in place of Dewey Northrup, Sr.

This is an unusually busy time of year and every farmer is on his tiptoes to improve every shining hour; but let's attend Pomona as much as possible.
