LITTLE BITS OF HUMOR

No Lunch
"Let me off, quick, conductor!"
"Why, what's the matter?"
"I thought that was a lunch wagon!"

Consolation
"Mamma," said little Joan, will you please button my dress?"
"Please do it yourself, dear," was the reply, "mother's busy."
"Oh, dear!" exclaimed Joan, "I don't know what I would do without myself!"

Hm'm!
"Dad, how can guns kick when they have no legs?" asked Bertie.
"Don't ask absurd questions," declared his father.
"Guns haven't any legs, have they?"
"Certainly not!"
"Then what's the use of their having breeches?"

Too!—Too!
One night, two men were driving furiously in a car along a road that ran side by side with a railway track. Suddenly an express train, traveling in the opposite direction, flashed by them.

"I say," said one, "did you notice how that village was lit up?"
"Yes," replied the other, "but house was on fire."

Doubtful
"Why are you crying?"
"Father called mother a meddling goose."
"Well?"
"Mother called father a meddling ass."

The Old Story
Husband: "Can't you guess where I've been?" he asked proudly.
Wife: "I can, but not from your story."

Even Balances
The young nature study class was having a lesson on animals. The teacher had asked a number of questions which were easily answered. At length she said: "Why does a dog hang out his tongue when running?"
A boy who had not answered before held up his hand. "Yes, Tom."
