WASTINGS

from "Wandering Willie"

THE firemen's ladies auxiliary got their first taste of marching last week—and also their first taste of breaking ranks in a hurry (as did a lot of other companies). It took a lot of bull to make the ranks get out of the way, but after they got the idea that the oxen were coming right at them they didn't need to be told what to do.

P.S.—The men got out of the way also.

WHILE we're speaking of running, a certain red-haired telephone "op" from a nearby(?) village broke four or five records, including the 220-yard dash when the first tank at the Wellsville refinery fire cut loose.

Upon being interviewed later, the only statement the nimble-footed red-head would make was—"I turned around to see where I was but I wasn't there."—Wow!

THERE was much discussion among drivers of fire trucks coming from outside villages at the Wellsville fire about half-baked motorists thinking the trucks were trying to race with them. We supposed that everyone knew that a car was not supposed to pass a truck enroute to a fire, let alone to keep just ahead of it, cutting off the view of the driver. The Nunda firemen, who had a 50-mile run to get to Wellsville had three such experiences on the way over. So, if you don't want to be hailed into court it would be better, or wiser, to give a truck the right of way.

SOME of our townspeople put up a holler about Andover's truck staying out of town so long, not realizing that the other truck, with men to operate it, was all ready to go. And also not thinking that perhaps one or two of our fire-boxes will go up in smoke and then they would be more than willing to have an out-of-town company visit Andover for as long as they were needed. Any expenditure or loss the Andover company had we are confident will be fully made up by the Sinclair people, so you fellows who started the story can rest at ease.

ACCORDING to the Wellsville Reporter, Andover had Archie L. Bloss (om) as one of the judges in the evening parade at Bolivar. How did that happen, A. L., fictitious or erroneous?

THE Water street speedway is now complete, as the village boys went to work and repaired the bridge which has been slowing traffic down to a mere 35. A few days for the fast drivers to get on to this fact and they won't even notice our fine ball diamond when they sail thru—they won't have time.

Flower Show Plans Well Under Way

The plans for the annual flower show are taking definite form. It promises to be a success in every way. We have learned of a great many flower lovers thruout the village and vicinity who are zealously perfecting their plants and flowers with a view to exhibition at the show. We want all to get in on it, whether for award or not. It should be a great time to give the general public an idea of what can be produced in Andover by way of color and beauty. Let all share in this noteworthy event.

World Wide Guild Party Very Successful

The three-day World Wide Guild party held at Eggleston Park this week was very successfully carried out with Mrs. Hattie Eggleston and Mrs. Thomas of Rushford counselors for the entire group.

Miss Naomi Knapp of Bimphore, Midropor District, Bengal, India was there the three days and gave wonderful talks to the girls on the lives of the girls of India.

Miss Lucile Crowell of Rushford was music director.

Miss Kaliopy Karcanes of Andover received praise for her Greek songs and description of the different customs of the Greek people. This comprised a contest of different personalities for each cabin group, her number being regarded as the most interesting. Mrs. Crosby of Belfast, the oldest living missionary of Western New York, who will be 100 years old in January was present.

Rev. and Mrs. A. D. Shepard of Alfred were present and Mrs. Shepard was given a lovely shower bouquet of flowers, presented by Mrs. Crosby in honor of the youngest missionary, Miss Eva Shepard.

There were 17 girls present from the Shinglehouse, Pa., Guild, with the pastor's wife, Mrs. John Weinbauer, director.

The latest letter from Eva Shepard was read, explaining the start of her work in Belgian Congo.

There were 99 in attendance all thru the meetings and at dinner the last day 180 were served. The ladies of the Mission Circle attended Wednesday.

Those who attended from Andover with Mrs. Hattie Eggleston as counsellor were: Kaliopy Karcanes, Patricia Lynch, Martina Lynch, Beatrice Dean, Vivian Shellman, Florence Dodge, Althea Hoagland, Metta Jean Hoagland, Edna Clair, Marcella Carpenter, Barbara Lehman, Elaine Pope, Barbara Childs, Lois Matison, Kathleen Howland, Eleanor Northrup, Jane Burdick, Emily Mae Green, Betty Rice, Helen Smith, Elizabeth Clair and Dorothy Lever.

County Dairymen Make Entries in Dairy Field Day

Four Allegany county dairymen have entered bulls in the second annual Dairy Field Day to be held at Batavia on July 30th. They are Carl V. Clarke, Andover; Lynn Watson, Belmont; Raymond Straham, Friendship and the Allegany county home farm at Angelica.

From 50 to 60 creditable purebred bulls of all the major dairy breeds will be entered at the show. Exhibits of farm machinery and dairy equipment will also be displayed on the grounds.

Farm Bureau dairy committees from 13 Western New York counties are sponsoring the field day.

Cultivating vegetables more than enough to control weeds may cause considerable injury to the roots of the plants.

W. C. T. U. Enjoy Lawn Party

The members of the Andover Woman's Christian Temperance Union were entertained at the hospitable home of Mrs. Hervey Thorne on Water street, Wednesday afternoon. An enjoyable social hour was passed on the beautiful lawn at the rear of the house, where tables had been arranged for the dainty picnic supper served at 5 o'clock. The young people's branch of the society was represented by Mrs. Ina Church of Voorhees Hill, Mrs. Clifford Burdick of Railroad Valley and Miss Eleanor Baker.

The day was ideal and the afternoon thoroughly enjoyed by those in attendance.

S. D. Baptist Ladies Aid Enjoy Picnic

A company of over 30 members of the S. D. Baptist Ladies Aid Society and their families enjoyed a picnic dinner at the pleasant farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Burdick in Railroad Valley, Sunday.

Dinner was served at 12:30. The young people at tables on the lawn and the older guests in the spacious dining room. A short program of recitations, musical numbers, readings and amusing stunt in the afternoon followed by a social hour completed a very pleasant day. Mr. and Mrs. Burdick are the ideal host, and hostess and their hospitality was thoroughly appreciated and enjoyed by those in attendance.
