LOOKING BACK

Upon entrance into high school, many freshmen take a rather carefree attitude toward school. Others are a little frightened and curious. When they become sophomores they are just a bit more reckless. During the junior and seniors years, studies are a little more important and most of the students are thoroughly busy, at least during the month of June.

Then that great event graduation takes place. As the graduates are being honored on the stage, their minds are wandering back to the days when they were freshmen. Why has their class of graduates become smaller than it was when it left the eighth grade? There was John, Mary and Harry. They seemed intelligent. Had they been left behind because of a carefree attitude, an attitude of taking things for granted? Yes, this was the answer. Even the graduates realize that a lot of high school they themselves have wasted. Many of them are thinking of the great help that their high school education will be for them as they go out into the world. Many could have had a better education if they had but been left behind at school.

During the next few grades of our education the majority of us will look back with a feeling of regret that high school and what it offers was not to us. We should be among those who say, "It's up to us, isn't it? If we let us try to regard high school as something important and a worthwhile rather than just a period of our life, forced upon us."

Around A. H. S.

With C. Coryell

Mr. McGee is taking his new classes right along. Does he think his math classes will do as well as last year?

Most of last year's history students are wondering what to do with their books. Quite expensive, too. Is there any way out for them?

There was a very good turnout at the first Hi Herald meeting, 23 girls and two boys. Where on earth are the boys? George Joyce for one and some of the promising seniors.

Thelma Ahrens starts her nursing course this week. We all hope she likes it as well as she expects to. I notice that Mr. Holmes is making the students wear shorts for outside classes as well as inside in physical education. This may put some pep into some certain drowsy senior boys. At least we hope it does.

It's queer how many of last year's seniors liked school well enough to come back for another year. Those who returned are Doris Honegger, Flora Flint, Donald Hardy, Henry Antan, Katherine Barber, Mary Greenan, Edna Fairbanks and George Joyce. Basil Brundage is back too, helping Mr. Beebe as assistant janitor.

The eighth grade girls who take homemaking have sent out invitations to their mothers for a tea Friday afternoon. Here's hoping the mothers will respond.

Gym classes started this week. The program for the year was talked about and it meets with the approval of the students.

A notice on the board called all those interested in fall sports to a meeting last Monday.

Guess Who

There is a certain junior lad who is studious but never bad. He walks to school in quick, long strides. For these long steps are one of his prides.

He carries books as high as Heaven. Which often number up to seven. He now wears glasses and combs his hair back.

And in his school work is never slack.

New Column Started

Two new columns appear in the paper this week. They are entitled "Around A. H. S. with Charlotte Coryell" and "Radio and Movie Guide for Week," which is written by Dolores Farwell. These items will continue to appear in the paper throughout the year.

The first item is based entirely on the opinion of the author and includes events that happened during the week in the school. This item does not and will not contain any slander.

The second item is published as a convenience to the reader. It lists all of the best radio programs for the week and gives the names of the pictures on the screen in Andover and Wellsville.

Reception at Homemaking House

Principal and Mrs. Glenn Bretsch entertained the faculty and members of the Board of Education at a reception in the homemaking house last Wednesday evening.

A game was played with peanuts which well introduced the new faculty members in an informal manner. Charades were given illustrating problems. All present thoroughly enjoyed themselves and the new members of the faculty expressed the opportunity of meeting faculty and board members.

Grade News

The first grade has two new registered pupils, making a number of 49. They are having two daily sessions. One session in the morning and one in the afternoon, thus dividing the large class.

The second grade has started to keep a diary of daily happenings of work in their room. They also have started a terrarium of a rabbit, and some animals to live.

Most of last year's history students are wondering what to do with their books. Quite expensive, too. Is there any way out for them?

"Josette" This Week's Movie at Andover

Destined to star Simone Simon as a sweet and misunderstood night club dancer, "Josette" more than accomplishes its purpose. It also provides hilarious entertainment with Don Ameche and Robert Young in a brother act.

When the boys' father falls in love with the real Josette, a gold-digger, his sons, who are in the fish canning business, rescue him. But the real Josette, played by Tala Birell, suddenly leaves town. As Simone Simon always wanted to sing before the public, she takes her place. Naturally, the boys think Simone is the gold-digger, and in their efforts to free their father, Don and Robert fall in love too.

If you enjoy humorous entertainment and good music, don't fail to attend this show.

Radio Programs

Some of the best radio programs for the week are the following:

Thursday—8 p. m., WEAF, Rudy Valle's Variety Hour; 9 p. m., WABC, Major Bowe's Amateur Hour; 10 p. m., WEAF, Kraft's Music Hall, Bing Crosby.

Friday—8:30 p. m., WABC, Paul Whiteman's orchestra; 9 p. m., WEAF, Abe Lyman's orchestra; 9 p. m., WABC, Hollywood Hotel.

Saturday—3 p. m., WEAF, Robert Ripley; 10 p. m., WABC, Lucky Strike program.

Sunday—6 p. m., WABC, Jo Penner; 7:30 p. m., WABC, Phil Baker; 9 p. m., WJZ, Hollywood Playhouse.

Monday—6:45 p. m., WJZ, Lowell Thomas; 8 p. m., WEAF, Burns and Allen program.

Tuesday—8:30 p. m., WEAF, Wayne King; 10 p. m., WABC, Benny Goodman.

Wednesday—8:30 p. m., WEAF, Tommy Dorsey; 10 p. m., WABC, Gang Busters.

Soccer Meeting Held

Last Monday Mr. Holmes had a meeting of all boys wishing to play soccer as a fall sport. About 45 boys were present and listened to Mr. Holmes' schedule, and his description of how soccer is played. He stated the fact that because soccer was fast, it would build up the boys for basketball and put them in much better condition. After a brief explanation of the game, we discovered that eleven members made up a team. In the front line there are five players, one right and left wing, one left inside wing, one right inside wing, and center. In the second line we have three half-backs and the third and fourth lines consist of two fullbacks and a goalie.

It is expected that soccer will become a better liked sport than the boys anticipated. Mr. Holmes announced that there would be practice Tuesday. He also had one member from each class chosen to find out the number of boys in his class that were interested in interschool touch-football. Touch football teams will be organized this week and games will start next week. The teams will be made up of...

Girls Glee Club Organizes

The Girls Glee Club met Monday afternoon for the first time this year. After the try-out, 27 girls were accepted for chorus work. The girls will continue their two and three part work as they have in previous years. Explanations were made regarding absence from rehearsal by a songstress as the making of a legal document as to their absence.

The list of officers also was announced. Mary Teresa Burns is elected president; Marion is vice president and Betty is secretary and treasurer.

First Hi Herald Meeting Held

Twenty-three pupils turned out for the first Hi Herald meeting this year. Mr. Bretsch gave a short talk stressing the importance of accuracy, brevity and cleanliness in writing matter for publication.

The staff was then asked to sign their names, home rooms and kind of work they liked best. After the meeting, assignments were made by Miss Barrett, the business manager and the editor.
