AROUND OUR HOUSE

TRICKS IN COOKING

Cooking has tricks that may turn an ordinary dish into something nearly perfect, says the New York State College of Home Economics. Here are a few tips:

Leave an inch or two of stem on beets that are to be boiled. It helps them to keep their bright red color.

If the ice cream mixture it allowed to chill in the refrigerator for a few hours, or overnight, before it is frozen, it has a smooth, rich texture.

Hardcooked eggs are more tender and tasty than hard boiled eggs. To hard-cook, put the eggs in boiling water, 2 cups for each egg, and turn off the heat immediately; cover the eggs and let them stand for 45 to 60 minutes, depending on the number of eggs.

For tender, fluffy, scrambled eggs, beat the eggs, add four table-spoons of milk for each egg, and salt them to taste; pour them into the top of a double boiler in which 1 teaspoon of butter has been melted for every egg. Cook them over hot, not boiling, water until the eggs have set. Fold them once or twice, but do not stir them.

Prunes cooked in the same water in which they have been soaked keep more of their minerals and flavor.

Boiled coffee made with egg is golden in color and fragrant. Use 1 heaping tablespoon of coffee, regular grind, and 1 teaspoon of beaten egg for each standard measuring cup of cold water. Put the coffee and egg in the pot and mix them thoroughly. Pour in water and bring the mixture slowly to a boil, stirring the mixture slowly occasionally. As soon as it boils, remove it from the fire; pour 1/2 cup of cold water into the pot to settle the grounds; let it stand in warm place 3 to 5 minutes and strain off the liquid.

LITTLE BITS OF HUMOR

Conscientious Objector

Only a week or so after he had started on his new job, the lucky youth announced he was quitting. "Tain't the wages," he explained to the foreman. "It's just that I can't help having a guilty conscience all the time I'm working."

"What for?" asked the amazed foreman.

"I'm all the time worrying about how I'm cheating a big strong mule out of a job."

This comes from the telephone company, and is supposed to be true—albeit the very thoro congressional investigation of the telephone company may prove it otherwise:

A spinster, shocked at the language used by two men repairing telephone wires near her home, wrote to the company to complain. The foreman was ordered to report the happening to his superior.

"Me and Bill Winterbottom were on the job," he reported. "I was up on the telephone pole and accidentally let hot lead fall on Bill and it went down his neck. Then he called up to me: 'You really must be more careful, Herbie!'"

Fussy
The Sunday School teacher asked the class, "All those who would like to go to Heaven, please raise their hands."

The whole class raised their hands except one. "Why, Herbie," exclaimed the teacher. "Wouldn't you like to go to Heaven?"

"Nay," said Herbie. "Not if that bunch is goin'."

A baby that is underweight should be fed according to what he should weigh rather than what he actually weighs.

For table luncheon sets to be used in a dinette, those of a heavier weave and rougher type are more appropriate than the fine ones for formal dining rooms.

Food costs may rise when ready to eat packaged goods, instead of those in the bulk, are used frequently, and when most of the food is bought in small, rather than in large containers.

"ORPHANS OF THE STORM"

Fleeing a tornado near Clyde, Texas, parents of these babies were killed, their automobile started a quarter-mile away. Hours later a telephone lineman heard a child's whimper in a roadside ditch. There he found 3-year-old Jesse Donald Rutledge, water up to his chin, holding his 3-month-old brother Daryl's head above water. Relatives being unable to care for the orphans, Red Cross workers arranged a maintenance fund to support them until they are 16. A Texas college promised scholarships and ranchmen started a herd of cattle for their benefit. The Red Cross will help the boys make adjustments as they grow older.
