THEATRE NEWS

Friday and Saturday

Heading the double feature program at the Andover Theatre for Friday and Saturday of this week is the Warner Bros. film, "Hell's Kitchen," starring the Dead End Kids, with a large supporting cast.

"Hell's Kitchen" is the dramatic story of a gang of boys in the most viscious slum section of New York City.

Second Andover feature film is "Man's Country," thrilling Western adventure picture with Tim McCoy in the leading role.

Short subjects round out the program.

Sunday and Monday

For Sunday and Monday the Andover Theatre brings another double feature program to its patrons. First attraction is the hilarious detective mystery story, "The Gorilla," with the Ritz Bros., Anita Louise, Bela Lugosi, Patsy Kelly and Lionel Atwill heading a large cast.

The Ritz Bros. are cast as three private detectives who are hired to guard an eccentric millionaire from a threatened death by the "Gorilla." Secret panels, dark unknown passageways, sliding doors, trap-doors, a real gorilla escaped from its cage, and a killer known as "The Gorilla" all combine in a great old house staffed by a mysterious butler and a comic maid, on a stormy night, to give the frightened detectives the thrills and scares of their lives.

Second Andover feature is the Tom Keen starring picture "Raw Timber," dealing with the adventures of a young lumberman during the development of the Northwest.

Shadow Boxing
