New Milk Regulation Appears Vicious

In the minds of many producers, the present rewriting of New York City's Board of Health milk regulations appears a vicious movement with the ultimate purpose of collapsing the milk price by creating a larger milk surplus.

Two regulations especially designed to this end are: The regulation requiring all new approved dairies to pledge themselves to send at least 60 per cent of their total handling to the metropolis. Another vicious regulation would require the producer to cool his milk to 55 degrees instead of 60. This would mean additional expense in ice, electricity or transportation which would automatically raise the price of milk to the city consumer and set to retard the sale, which would again create more surplus. All this would tend to lower the price of milk to the producer.

Homespun Yarn

"The life of the nation lies in the hand of the housewife," is an old Bavarian proverb.

Do not encourage an infant to stand or begin walking until he makes his own efforts, say child specialists.

A child's winter outdoor playmate should be made of flexible, wind-proof material, to provide for free activity.

"Rice" is made in Hungary by removing the skin from grains of wheat and adding fat and starch, according to a report.

Meals for young children should be served at regular hours each day with the largest meal in the middle of the day.

BRIEF BUSINESS BRINGERS

FOR SALE
FOR SALE—The Frank Gilder estate residence property, corner of Dyke and Main streets, to settle the estate. Inquire of A. D. Fuller, administrator.

FOR RENT
FOR RENT—Six-room flat over the Mullen garage on West Center street.—E. A. MULLEN.

A children's party should be a simple play-party, with refreshments at the time of the regular meal.

AROUND OUR HOUSE MISBEHAVIOR

Children misbehave either because they are allowed to get what they want by misbehaving, or as a way to avoid unpleasantness or disapproval, says the New York State College of Home Economics.

Some reason is behind all misbehavior, and parents need understanding, patience and tact to find out what it is and the best way to get rid of it.

Harsh punishments, given equally for big and little misdeeds, and which make no allowance for human errors, do not help children to learn good behavior. To repress all natural outlets for activity, to evade questions, to shield a child from consequences of his dishonesty, and to refuse him most of the things he wants are also poor ways of teaching him.

Satisfying experiences are the only ones that count in helping children to learn good behavior. For instance, a child who steals usually does it at first because he sees something he wants and takes it. Usually it is something normal and worthy which his home has not provided for him, and, in the beginning, he does it without any idea of the rights of others.

This innocent misbehavior may be prevented from developing into serious conduct by giving the child possessions of his own, to respect his rights over them, to show him how to get what he wants in a fair way, and to get satisfaction from earning, giving, spending and saving money.

FEBRUARY BIRTHDAYS OF GREAT MEN
IN AMERICAN HISTORY WHOSE ACHIEVEMENTS ENHANCE OUR LIVES

GEORGE WASHINGTON—Feb. 22, 1732—The Father of Our Country and First President. Through Washington's leadership, ideals and vision he gave us the country in which we live, a democracy and the world's most famous inventor. To Edison we owe much of our freedom, personal liberty and security. —E. A. MULLEN.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN—Feb. 12, 1809—Sixteenth President of the United States. To Lincoln we owe the preservation of the Union of the U.S.A., so drastically threatened by the Civil War, but which today enriches our lives and is the envy of peoples world-wide.

THOMAS A. EDISON—Feb. 11, 1847—Patriot and the world's most famous inventor. To Edison we owe much of our freedom, personal liberty and security. —E. A. MULLEN.

Keystone Safety Legion Offers $100 Weekly Grand Award

Commencing February 7, the Emblem Oil company of Warren, Pa., sponsors of the Keystone Safety Legion Campaign to promote safer driving in the territory served by Keystone gasoline dealers, is offering thru the Keystone Safety Council a weekly grand award amounting to $100 in cash together with at least 24 other awards of $5 or $25.00 each, depending upon whether or not the winners selected by the judges are qualified.

The winner of the grand award and those selected by the judges for the smaller awards will be announced over station WJTN, Jamestown, at 9:30 p. m. every Wednesday night. In those territories not served by station WJTN, telegraphic announcements will be posted at Keystone gasoline stations.

In the event that the winner of the grand award has not qualified during the week by having had his Safety Legion membership card punched at a Keystone gasoline station, the amount of the award will be carried over, making the next week's award $200, etc. Since the campaign started in August of last year, nearly $4,000 in cash has been paid to motorists observed in simple acts of careful and courteous driving on the highways and in the towns served by Keystone dealers.

Membership in the Keystone Safety Legion is rapidly approaching the 10,000 mark. Anyone owning or operating a motor car may become a member in the Keystone Safety Legion by driving into a Keystone gasoline station and asking for a membership card and an identifying emblem for their car. There is no obligation to make a purchase at the station. In order to be eligible for the awards in any one week, members must have had their membership card properly punched for that week.
