Dance Revue at Babcock Theatre

More than 35 talented youngsters from Wellsville, Andover and sur-rounding towns will take part in the fifth annual dance revue to be pre-sented on the stage of the Babcock theatre, Wellsville by Julia Ryan at 8 o'clock next Wednesday evening, June 19th.

For many weeks Miss Ryan and the mothers have been working on the elaborate costumes which will be but one of the features of this year's presentation. The revue is made up of 25 numbers, many of which are so difficult that they are seldom executed except by profes-sional dancers.

The personnel includes, in addi-tion to Miss Ryan, Betty Ann Hu-bertus, Doris Donovan, Patricia Ed-wards, Shirley Lyon, Sylvia Hurd, Norma Short, Muriel Hills, Donna Sible, Jill Cornell, Joyce Pohl, Earl Ryan, Bruce Holcomb, Larry Ryan, Geraldine Eaton and Margaret Kuh-stoss.

The cast is completed by Faye Richardson, Karin O'Kain, Marion Jacobs, Carol Updyke, Marilyn Nor-ton, Dorothy Brown, Charlotte West, Virginia Serio, Beth Depew, Shirley McGough, Joanna Linza, Lucille Behringer, Betty Brown, Carolyn Utter, Betty Lou Eckenrode, Patricia Carter and Jean Junker.

Two bed tables, one on either side of the bed, are convenient in a sick room; one on the patient's left for his personal articles and one on the patient's right for those of the nurse or attendant.

Announce First Field Day Entry At County Fair

Guernsey Bull Has Outstanding Background; Many More Expected For Event

The first entry in Western New York's dairy field day at the Angeli-ca fairgrounds in Allegany county, July 27, is announced by P. I. Hig-ley, assistant county agricultural agent of Monroe county.

In fact there are two entries, both from Orson Helms of Randolph, Cat-taraugus county, and they are one month earlier than the first obtained last year.

Helms is a prominent Guernsey breeder in Western New York. One of his bulls entered in the field day is from a sire whose ten daughters averaged 412 pounds of butterfat. His dam at nine years of age pro-duced 10,424 pounds of milk and 516 pounds of butterfat. The test was 5.4 per cent in 305 days dairy herd improvement association test-ing, on twice-a-day milking.

This is only the first of 50 or 60 entries expected for the Western New York event. Catalogs showing the list of entries and their pedigrees will soon be available from county agricultural agents, it is announced.

Farm Bureau dairy committees in ten counties are co-operating in this event. The counties include Al-legany, Cattaraugus, Chautauqua, Erie, Genesee, Livingston, Monroe, Niagara, Steuben and Wyoming.

Model Derrick Featured At Bolivar

Reflecting the spirit of the Alle-gany oil field and representative of Bolivar as an oil town is a model derrick and pumping well erected last week in front of the Main Ser-vice Station in Bolivar. The derrick which stands 18 1/2 feet high, is an exact replica of a standard drilling rig and was designed and built by H. R. "Dick" Wood of Kosuth, vet-eran rig builder. The model which includes the derrick, belt house and engine house is made of wood and painted with shiny aluminum paint.

POET'S CORNER

A Life Was Taken
A cheery grin beneath a thatch of red,
A whistled trill, now dead.
(A child was born; a memory liveth
From you we took, to you we giveth)
We are but human; we cannot un-derstand
We only praise a life—so short in span,
A talent half-burned, a spirit true,
His laurels bronzed in sunset hue.

I Have No Sons
I have no sons
With strong young limbs
To stand straight and tall and face
The guns
At warlords' whims—
And rot upon the spot they fall.
I have no sons to lay
At the feet of the lords of war
Yet I might have had—
If on a day
These twenty years ago or more
They'd spared a lad
They crushed beneath the torch he bore.
