What Overseas Soldiers Say About

A letter received this week by Mrs. Lester Greene promoted to Private First Class. from Corporal R. E. Gall and signed by several other soldiers now in overseas action, containing a picture of an American medical soldier administering blood plasma to a wounded comrade at Santa Agata, Sicily, follows:

Btry. H, 62nd C.A. (AA) APO 758, co Postmaster, New York, N. Y. Having read an article in your paper, in reference to the population's non-support of the blood plasma drive, may we send you the enclosed clipping. We would like to make one addition to the caption below the picture—"It may be a boy from Andover." This is not merely to add an extra jolt to the caption, for we have with us a sergeant your town who participated this same Sicilian campaign. Who knows, there may have been many more of your townsmen less fortunate than our sergeant. Hoping that this will help waken the people of Andover and put the next drive over the top, we
