The hardest working horses in the land!

HERE'S no form of land or air transports-L tion which gets so much work out of so little. borsepower as your railroads.

Here's what we mean: To carry a ton of freight by plane requires, on the average, a pull of 100 horsepower for every ton hauled. But, to move a ton of freight by rail requires only 2 horse. Eric Railroad horsepower. A highway truck needs about 15 power!

No wonder the railroads are carrying 75% of the Nation's total freight... moving thousands of tons of war materials and essential civilian products at an average rate of less them, 1 cent a ten mile!

ONE OF AMERICA'S RAILROADS—ALL WHITED FOR VICTORY
