New Scout Field Man Hired For Allegany County

The Executive Board of Seneca Council, Boy Scouts of America, have announced from the Olean office the addition to the staff of east districts which take in Alle--gany-county.

He is David Flammer, who comes from the Watchung Area Council at Plainfield, N. J., on July 15th, and will live in Wellsville. The council has been endeavoring since the first of the year to secure a trained man with the proper qualifications for this post and feel that they are to be congratulated in getting a man of Mr. Flammer's ability. He has been employed at Plainfield for the past three and one-half years. This is a large Council and Mr. Flammer's last work there has been full charge of one of their larger districts composed of ten communities in three counties. Some of these communities were rural, dairy farmthers manufacturing and some entirely residential and the experience gained in this type of ter ... ry should ht in well with what he will work with in Allegany county. He had supervision in his district of 15 Cub Packs, 35 Troops and 7 Senior Units with 502 Cubs, 949 Scouts, 82 Senior Scouts and 459 adult volunteer Scout workers. The budget of the District was $12,000, about three-fourths of the total budget of Seneca Council last year. In previous times he had charge of three other districts.

His experience in camping has been extensive and he was leader of one of the famous World's Fair troops. He is also reported to be especially able in financial campaigns and has had experience in practically all Council operating committees. He comes recommended as tops in training, advancement, camping, organization and extension, finance and public relations.

Mr. Flammer brings with him a fine family consisting of his wife, a daughter of high school age and a son at present in the Marine Corps.

It is estimated that the number of people passing thru Grand Central Station in New York City each year approximates one-half the total population of the U.S.
