Price Controls As Seen By D.P.A. Director

Stephen J. Czerwenski, acting district director of the Buffalo District office of Price Stabilization, which has been in operation the past 11 months makes the following statements in his year-end comment:

"The year 1951 has been one sprint. which most of us became aware of the dangers of inflation, argued about how to whip it, and accepted limited controls.

"The year 1952 will be a year when all of us will have to bend our backs to the battle. We soon will feel the first full weight of team is driving down the field and that requires stability and to date. the defense load. It is obvious, with line plunges. ### Soil Conservation on Increase in County

The Directors of the Allegany County Soil Conservation District have just completed their annual report and have distributed over 200 copies of it to cooperating agricultural agencies. The Directors of the Allegany County Soil Conservation Disttrict feel that conservation is on the increase and that it won't be long before every farm in Alley County will be planning establishing conservation measures. The Directors of the District this year were:

Hugh D. Chamberlain, Chairman, Caneadea, N. Y. Arthur Genung, Vice Chairman, Andover, N. Y. Leon Benjamin, Secretary, Cuba,

Clair Baker, Black Creek, N. Y. T. M. Wirt, Treasurer, Bel-
