VOL. XVII. St. Valentine's Day

By Mary Brown Today is the anniversary of the death of Saint. Valentine, a bishop and martys of the Christ-

Our modern customs do not. however, apply to death. We observe February 14th as a romantic festival. This custom is very old since is was believed that birds began to mate on this day.

On the eve of Saint Valentine's day young people used to meet, and each of them drew by lot from a number of names of the opposite sex, which were put in a container. Each gentleman thus got a lady for his valentine, and became the valentine of a 14th, why not consider this a day to make a new friendship or recultivate an old one? A day to remember that we should share to practice good will.

Harvey

The other day as I lifted the handle of my locker, Harvey began telling me the latest news, as usual.

First he told about what an exciting evening he had Friday night at the Whitesville game. He said that both games were played very well and the spectators and cheerleaders really iced Lois Ruger pounding on Clyde Jackson's back when ever the score got close. (But don't Irene Hurlburt wasn't near.) On the way home he noticed Kent Harder and Jim Connor (if you can imagine it) having a very romantic time together. He also spied Kay Mickle and Lucille Smith trying very hard to harmonize. He informed Jackie Vickers and Jocelyn Joyce had an unexpected Short ride home on the players'

Harvey also informed me that Janet Lang was seen at the show Saturday night with a certain "Harley" from Rexville. He notices Ann Marvel busy

Mind Your Manners

by Mary Anne Joyce

The primary rules of manners are to do nothing, ever that may be unpleasent to others. Specifically, never let anyone see what you have in your mouth; never make unnecessary noises never make a mess of your place. It is proper to use a toothpick only when you are entirely alone. A whole slice of bread should be broken at least in half. Only important rule is not to hold flat on the palm of the hand and butter it in mid air. If you are accustomed to eat-Watch this paper for char- ing with your knife held in the right hand and fork in the left you should cut one piece of meat at a time. But it is better to cut several pieces of meat at once when you have to put your knife down on the edge of your
