Mark Sanford, chairman of the Allegany County Farm Bur-Forester Committee, announces that the committee has arranged for a Maple Sirup Tour Wednesday, March 5th.

The Tour will begin from the esee and Friendship.

The purpose of this tour is to the methods of harvesting, and processing maple sirup and maple maple products will be donated at various stops and that a special contest has been arranged that everyone will be interested in. Mr. Sanford expressed the opinion that he hoped that every would plan to attend this ir. He stated that, for the nefit of some businessmen who can not get away until afternoon, that another assembling points will be set for Cuba, N. Y. The time and place to be announced later. He also stated that farmer or other producers are invited to attend this tour. Prof. Fred Winch of the Forestry Department at Cornell University, will be accompanying the tour to discuss various phases of maple sirup and maple products production.

A spokesman for the Allegany County Farm Bureau expressed support for a new type of civilian military training program designed to keep trainees on productive jobs back home.

Charles Wightman, chairman of the Allegany County Farm Bureau executive committee, said any programs which acted to siphons off the nation's manpower during the present emergency would tend to cripple the productive capacity of the country and "would weaken us from within."

Mr. Wightman said the Farm Bureau is in favor of a decentralized military training program under civilian supervision and continued use of the Selective Service Program to build up the nation's reserve armed strength.

He pointed out that under the
