The majority of parents today realize that although a common childhood disease, measles can be a very serious one—mainly because of the grave complications which can follow it. Actually, doctors warn that the likelhood of complications is high with children under two years of age who contact measles. These complications can mean permanent injury to a child's respiratory system. Moreover, far from being a "light" illness, measles can reduce a child's body resistance so low that he is an easy prey to

Educational Qualifications Lowered for WAC

A new regulation just released by the Army and Air Force Recruiting Service will open the way for many young women who desire to enlist in either the Women's Army or the Women's Air Force, it disclosed by Sgt. Anna Rhoda, WAC and WAF Recruiter of the Olean Station. Prior to the new regulation owng women who desired to enlist, had to be high school graduates. Now however, those who have not completed high school may take the general educationmake application for the GED 'est through their local High School principals.

Over 40,000 WAF's are now needed to fill the Air Force's quota and over 20,000 WAC's are required to meet the demand of the Army.

Interested young women, whether high school graduates or not should contact the Army and Air Force Recruiting Office located in the Post Office Building
