Wilk Production

Increases

Statistics released by the United States Department of Agriculture show that in 1950 there were 12 percent fewer cows in this county than in 1945. In 1945, 25,329,000 cows produced of 4797 pounds per cow. In 1950, 22,779,000 cows made 120.6 billion pounds of milk. This is an average of 5,292 pounds per cow. This increase of 495 pounds over a period of 5 years is a continuation of the trend of the period from 1936 through 1945 when the average production rose 481 from 4316 pounds per cow. The average
