knives. Here are some points to DRESS UP FOR EASTER In a poorly constructed knife, the shank of the blade is usually pushed into the handle, and the shank is held in place by a small nail and metal collar. The blade is made of soft metal which will not stay sharp. In a well-constructed 'knife, however, shank of the blade extends half or all of the way into the handle and is fastened securely by two or three large rivets. Its blade is made of hard metal that will sharpen easily and stay sharp.

HEALTH FOR

this column is sponsored, in the interest of better health, by the Allegany Health & Tuberculosis Association, 44 Schuyler St., Belmont, N. Y.

Always Tired? We all know at least one person who complains of feeling all the time." Not all these complaints can be dismissed as laziness. In addition to robbing a person of his rest for life, chronic fatigue can be a symptom of serious illness. Fatigue, it self, is actually a good thing. For it is the body's warning that it has enough physical or mental activity for the time being and needs restoration of its energy in the form of sleep and rest. Or, especially in the case of persistent tiredness, it is the body's signal that something is seriously wrong and a checkup with the doctor is in Some of us suffer from chronic fatigue can easily supply the answers ourselves for a "cure." We are depriving ourselves of sleep and rest, or we are not eating enough of the right kinds of food to keep body energy high. This calls for a simple prescription of getting to bed on time and eating three good, well-balanced meals a day. But if fatigue persists for no explainable reason, the best thing for the sufferer is a prompt visit to his doctor for a general health checkup. Prolonged an unexplained fatigue can be one of the symptoms of such serious disease as a heart ailment, tuberculosis. , nutritional disease, o anemia. The doctor is the only one to detect the source of the trouble and give the patient relief as well as check the progress of his disease. Too many of us suffer from a
