What Easter Means to Me By James Conde'

Easter is the symbol of many things. It comes at the time of the year when the cold dreary winter is giving way to warmth of spring. Life is springing anew all about us, as the Janis Reil, Sally Holmes, Judy grasses turn green and the buds Woodruff, burst forth. No longer is it Lynne Carmody, Shiela Clarke, dark when one arises.

day morning to Church. Probchurch attendance of the interest of the day is what was questions concerning the price tag of that hat or coat.

To others it means early rising to attend a sunrise service on some hillside spot of beauty. " these the challenge of the early morning, the beauty of the birth of a new day gives them a feeling of Easter.

Many find Easter a day to take a trip to visit some relations or some spot of interest. It's merely another holiday.

Funny Man?

By Charity Howland What is it? "Who is the Funny man? were just two of the many questions asked last week about the very funny clown at the Physical Education Demonstrawith a "kerplunk" to the gym floor. Upon making his first appearance with spray gun, umbrella and pail he showered Bobby and Bruce Vickers with a concoction of perfume and water. Thinking the pail full of water, everyone and especially Mary Ann McClure, jumped when he tossed it at them. Much to their surprise and the clown's it was full of paper scraps.

His clothes were a riot. This jovial fellow was dressed in tight white long-legged winter flannel underwear, heavy wool sox to his knees, run down sneakers, gaily decorated with spots powder, mascara and lipstick. On his brushcut head he wore battered painter's cap and carried an umberlla which to every girl's eye had seen better days. with the 7th and 8th grade Tumble weeds, and even tried to "skin the cat" on the parallel bars with the third period girls gym class.
